

CHAPTER III - ADMINISTRATION

E. HANDBOOK OF RULES AND REGULATIONS

Conflicts Between Prior Regulations and Handbook Revisions (743-61A) (761-21)

The Handbook is intended to be a compilation of existing regulations. If a conflict between existing regulations and the Handbook should appear, prior regulations are deemed to remain in effect except in those earlier instances where the Board has reaffirmed or changed prior regulations when revising the Handbook.

- A. The Foreword to the Handbook, immediately after the first sentence, shall show the following: "However, in the event of inconsistencies between this Handbook and specific actions of the Board of Directors of the League, the latter shall control."
- B. Management may revise the wording of the Handbook, so long as the intent remains constant.

ACBL Handbook of Rules and Regulations (951-32)

Management shall provide to the Board of Directors a compilation of changes to be incorporated into the ACBL Handbook of Rules and Regulations in a timely manner after each Board meeting. These changes will be incorporated in the Handbook at least annually.

Handbook of Rules and Regulations (952-65)

- A. Chapter 3, Section Two, II, final paragraph of the ACBL Handbook of Rules and Regulations is amended as follows: "The unit may run games on behalf of ACBL and/or the district where there is a void."
- B. Chapter 3, Section Five, Paragraph 2, second sentence is replaced with: "It is ACBL policy that unit bylaws and any subsequent amendments, deletions or additions be approved by the unit's membership."

ACBL Handbook (972-43)

The words Amay not vote by proxy@ shall be eliminated from the Handbook in Chapter 3, Section III. In Section IV of Chapter 3, the last sentence of I should be amended to read AACBL does not permit proxy votes in elections.@

Unit Responsibilities (002-52)

The following will be added to the Handbook of Rules and Regulations, Chapter 3 Unit Regulations, Section Two, Article III Unit Responsibilities:

To provide equitable treatment of all sanctioned club games in good standing within the unit.
