Youth Co-Chair not kidding: 'I want to see you next year!'

Coming into the 6th Youth NABC, tournament Co-Chair Patty Tucker thought there was a good chance that the record for attendance – set at the first one in 2008 – would be broken.

It happened. There were 198 players at the first championship in Norcross GA five years ago. This year, the number was 202.

Rather than rest on her laurels, Tucker wants to see another record turnout at the 2014 Youth NABC in Las Vegas.

She has a message for the kids and their parents regarding next year's tournament: "I want to see everyone I saw this year – plus. I want no slacking off. You've got a year to save money."

Tucker, the brains and the energy behind the first Youth NABC, says the success of this year's tournament came down to the contributions of many, especially parents. "We had a wonderful group. Most of them don't play, but they come and do whatever needs doing to make sure the kids have fun. You can't ask any more than that."

Some of the non-bridge-playing parents, Tucker notes, have told her they plan to take her Learn to Play Bridge in a DAY? class today.

Tucker also gave high marks to Krista Wright-Thayer, who assisted at the Youth NABC. Wright-Thayer, Tucker says, contributed energy and a willingness to do any job that came along. "She did a great job."

Tucker says she was confident that a new mark for attendance would be set because "parents have recognized the event for what it is. They come expecting the kids to have a good time, and they do."

Tucker says that she felt a bit sad when she looked over the collages from the first Youth NABC. Some of the young players are now too old, or some have moved away or are otherwise occupied. "When you don't see them," she says, "you miss them."

Thanks, volunteers

By Bryan Delfs, Co-Chair

It can't be said enough how important volunteers are to the success of an event, and our Youth NABC is certainly no exception.

I'd like to thank all of the parents who are helping to get their kids, and I'm sure many other kids, to the places they need to be. We appreciate your watching over each and every one of them.

I'd next like to thank our volunteers, who are working registrations, partnerships and other various roles. You are the ones ensuring that we know who has arrived and that they have what they need in order to play.

Finally, I'd like to thank Patty Tucker, who is the Youth NABC Chairman. Patty was the chair for the very first Youth NABC, and was the one who has set a tradition for other Youth NABCs to be held over the years.

Thanks to everyone for their continued volunteerism and support. We certainly appreciate it and I know the kids truly enjoy the experience!

There are lots of ways to have fun with cards. Just ask (top row), Jenna Strong, Vivian Lamoureux, Niresha Wanigasekara and (bottom row) Nia Everett and Cassie Varcoe.

Green, Jengs repeat as Youth Teams champs

Last year, the Youth Swiss Teams was won by Murphy Green, Andrew and Richard Jeng, plus Arjun Dhir and Zach Grossack. The latter two did not play this year, but Green and company still prevailed, winning by 5 victory points over a squad captained by Hakan Berk.

Burke Snowden, a member of the runner-up team last year, was the fourth on the winning team this year. The runners-up were Berk, Christian Jolly, Oren Kriegel and David Soukup.

Winners of the Saturday Youth Swiss Teams: Burke Snowden, Richard Jeng, Murphy Green and Andrew Jeng.

Second place in the Saturday Youth Swiss Teams were Christian Jolly, Oren Kriegel, David Soukup and Hanak Berk.

Zhan takes Sportsmanship Award

Each year, players at the Youth NABC are asked to vote for the player they think best exemplifies sportsmanship during the competition. After two days of voting, three finalists were chosen for a final ballot: Alec Zhan, Tanner Hess and Victor Lamoureux.

Zhan came out on top, but only after a glitch that had Tournament Director Nancy Watkins as the leading vote getter. After players received more detailed instructions on voting parameters, Zhan won a close contest.

Finalists for the Sportsmanship Award: Tanner Hess, Alec Zhan and Victor Lamoureux. Zhan won.

Kendall Spalding and Grace Stoker were first in the Saturday Morning Cardrook Pairs, Strat C.

Kevin Rodriguez and Niresha Wanigasekara won the Saturday Morning Cardrook Pairs, Strat B.

BARON BARCLAY BRIDGE SUPPLY

They were first in the Saturday Youth Consolation Swiss, Strat A: Jeremy Roberts, Sedek Berk, Eric Rodriguez and Piper Ziebarth.

Winners of the Saturday Youth Consolation Swiss, Strat C, were Hudson Cushing, Catherine Fay and Amanda Harper. James Marchant was not available for the photo.

Right place, right time

When the opponents make a mistake, it's important to take full advantage. In the Saturday Afternoon Cardrook Pairs, Adithya Chimalakonda and Samay Desai took that advice to heart – and then some. Samay was South.

Dlr: East ♠ A K 10 8 5 3
Vul: N-S ♥ 5
♦ A 7 5 4
♣ J 8

♠ 9 4 ♠ J 7 2
♥ J 6 3 ♥ 9 8 4 2
♦ K 9 3 2 ♦ 10
♣ K 9 5 3 ♣ A Q 10 7 4
♠ Q 6
♥ A K Q 10 7
♦ Q J 8 6
♣ 6 2

West	North	East	South
Pass	Pass	1♥	Pass

East pulled the 1♥ bid card by mistake, and North-South did well to pass it out. Samay astutely led the ♥A, playing three more rounds to pull trumps. He then played the ♦Q, which held. From there, it was easy to collect six spade tricks. Together with two diamond tricks and five trump tricks, Samay and Adithya took all 13 tricks – good for a cold top. They can make 11 tricks in spades, but in their section no one got to game.
