

Dear School Bridge Teacher,

Thank you for contributing your efforts in teaching bridge to the next generation of players. We are excited that you soon will be bringing the game to schools in your area. By introducing youth to the joy and challenge of bridge, we can help them establish new skills as well as continue to sustain the game

This program is yours to shape as your classroom advances. Some classes need to deal more hands; others prefer to ask more questions. As long as both you and the students are enjoying themselves, that is a success.

The ACBL is here to provide you with support for these lessons and games. We want to help create an experience that keeps everyone wanting to come back for more.

You can contact us via email at education@acbl.org or call us at 662-253-3161. As your series progresses, please give us your feedback and share your successes.

Thanks again. We look forward to working with you and your students.

Sincerely,
