King maintains optimistic view for pro tour future

If Larry King has his way, by this time next year you will be reading all about – maybe even planning to play in – a new SuperBridgeTour.

The indefatigable promoter – credited with turning women's tennis into the popular sport it is today – spent part of the 2001 Summer NABC in Toronto meeting with professional players, whose support is needed for the pro tour to succeed.

"I think we can do it in Houston," says King, referring to the 2002 Spring NABC in that city.

King has worked as an adviser to the ACBL's Western Conference, which stepped up to the plate earlier this year in co-sponsoring a pro tour which includes four events out West in 2001. Two events have been played so far at regionals – in San Diego and Las Vegas – and two more are scheduled for tournaments in Santa Clara CA and Reno. Sally Lix, who has overseen the inaugural pro tour, was encouraged that the Las Vegas event more than doubled the number of tables from the first game in San Diego.

Lix attended the meeting King set up with the professionals. "I thought it was very positive," she said. "They all had ideas to offer."

Lix said that if anyone can put together a thriving pro tour, it's King. "He's good," she said.

ACBL President Jim Kirkham is another supporter of the concept of the pro tour, lauding the efforts of the Western Conference. "I'm all for it," Kirkham says, "and the Bridge Pro Tour people have done a great job of getting it started. I hope the pros will support it."

Lix said the Western Conference's effort will Continued on page 6

Itabashi - Robison lead Fast Pairs qualifiers

Mark Itabashi of Murrieta CA and Jim Robison of Las Vegas made good decisions within the limited time frame – good enough to lead 78 qualifiers into today's final two sessions of the NABC Fast Pairs. They were slightly more than a board ahead of Fred Assemi of Fresno CA and Edward Wojewoda of Clovis CA. Close behind in third place were Pratap Rajadhyaksha of Powell OH and Jon Wittes of Claremont CA.

Hascall interim CEO at ACBL Headquarters

ACBL President Jim Kirkham announced Saturday that District 12 Director Wayne Hascall will assume duties as interim CEO of the ACBL on Aug. 1.

Said Kirkham, "We are indeed fortunate to have an experienced executive like Wayne, former president and CEO of Hascall Steel Company, who is willing to assist in running the ACBL during our search for a new CEO."

The President added: "To have a Board presence there during the interim is a good thing."

Hascall is also the head of the committee charged with finding a new chief executive for the ACBL.

"I look forward to working with the staff and acting chief operating officer Jack Zdancewicz," Hascall said. "I look at it as a team. We are a membership organization and we are there to serve the members."

Hascall, of Grandville MI, retired from the steel company in 1994. The business is now owned by his sons.

1994 was also the year that Hascall, still an active player, won the George Burns Trophy for earning the most points in Senior events.

Pursuant to ACBL by-laws, Hascall will serve on a volunteer basis.

Jack new computer champ

The new World Computer Bridge Champion is Jack, developed by Hans Kuijf of the Netherlands. In the 64-board final of the FunBridge.com World Computer Bridge Championship, Jack beat Micro Bridge (Tomio and Yumiko Uchida of Japan), 136-84.

In addition to the main competition there were exhibition matches pitting humans against computers. Jack and Micro Bridge joined as teammates and played eight-board matches against two different teams. One team was a team of International stars, Jacek Pszczola-Piotr Gawrys and Sam Lev-Pinhas Romik, who defeated the computer team by 18 IMPS. Another team of star players, Lisa and David Berkowitz and Marty Fleisher-JoAnnA Stansby, defeated the computers by 8 IMPs.

The players apparently enjoyed the experience, while the computers immediately showed a screen saver with the expression...wait until next year. Zia also came to play but the computers seemed to remember him and, sensing defeat, they shut down permanently.

Jacobs, Moss meet in today's Spingold final

The international team captained by George Jacobs jumped out to an early lead and held on for a 153-142 victory over the powerful Nick Nickell squad to make it into the final of the Spingold Knockout Teams, where they will face the Mike Moss team today for the championship.

You can watch the entire final on vugraph at the Royal York Hotel (Ballroom, convention level) starting at noon. Chief commentator Chris Compton has recruited a strong contingent of experts to analyze and entertain, including Zia, Jeff Meckstroth, Eric Rodwell, David Berkowitz, Larry Cohen and even Jacobs, when he is sitting out.

Jacobs, playing with Ralph Katz, fields a sextet including four members of the Italian squad which won the World Bridge Team Olympiad in Maastricht, Netherlands, last year. They are Alfredo Versace-Lorenzo

Three-way tie in Mixed BAM

Three teams sat atop the standings after the first two qualifying sessions of the Mixed Board-a-Match Teams. By captain, the squads were Laurie McIntyre, Rose Meltzer and Mel Colchamiro. They each ended Saturday's play with 34.5 points, a board and a half ahead of the teams tied for fourth through seventh.

That logjam was made up of these squads: Lou Ann O'Rourke, Kenneth Kranyak, Bryan Maksymetz and Bob Glasson. Tied for 8-9 were Gloria Silverman and Lynn Baker.

Deal of the Day How 10 tricks can become nine

By Marc Smith

The Mavromichalis team trailed Coleman by 15 IMPs with one stanza remaining in their quarterfinal Spingold match. The Hackett twins, Justin and Jason, were not confident when they finished play, but they needn't have worried. Their Norwegian teammates, Terje Aa and Glenn Groetheim, produced an awesome performance against Russians Andrew Gromov-Aleksander Petrunin. The Mavromichalis team won the stanza, 57-20, and the match, 155-133.

To see just how well the Norwegians played, put yourself in the shoes of the Russian declarer on this deal:

South opened a weak notrump and soon found himself in  $4 \spadesuit$  after a transfer sequence.

Aa led the ★2 which ran around to Gromov's 9. How would you have played?

Gromov played a diamond to the 9 and East's jack, and back came a club to the king and ace. As then cashed the \( \dagger A \) and played a third round of the suit, ruffed in dummy.

Declarer has lost three tricks and needs the rest. If a spade to the 10 wins and both defenders follow, declarer can draw the last trump and claim. If West shows out on the second round of trumps, then declarer will have to guess East's shape. The layout for which declarer and all of the kibitzers were unprepared, though, was the one that existed – when declarer played a second trump and finessed the 10, West won with the queen! This was the full deal:

After Aa's trump lead, it is hard to be critical of declarer's decision to play East for the  $\Phi Q$ . It would be unusual for an opening lead to win the 'Defensive Play of the Year' award, but if ever there was a contender then surely this is it.

Ever heard a player say things like these?

Ten things a bridge player would never say ... 1. This club (playing area) is always the right temperature – never too hot or too cold.

- 2. Free coffee? No thanks.
- 3. Cool! A four-board sitout.
- 4. No, I don't think tournament fees are too high.
- 5. I can always count on my partner to remember every convention on our card.
  - 6. No gossip, please. I'm not interested.
  - 7. More new Alerts! More new Alerts!
- 8. One thing I can say about bridge players they sure know how to dress.
- 9. No matter which direction we sit, the cards always go our way.
- 10. I don't feel like bridge today, thanks. I'd rather
- jog and work out.

She found a partner who speaks Russian

Tatiana Iurevena Simonova, a recent arrival from Novosibirsk, Russia, was looking for a partner. Since she speaks only rudimentary English, she was hoping she could find a partner who understood Russian. Suddenly a man came up to her and started talking to her in Russian. It was Bob Augustine, a professor of Russian history at Glendon College (York University) and husband of Tournament Chairman Penny Augustine.

After a bit of conversation, Augustine suggested that they play together. She was delighted. One problem – she always plays Precision and he has never played anything but Standard American. "We put together a sort of splintered Standard American. It went pretty well – we were second in our section. and Tatiana is a really fine player – she really knows what to do when she's the declarer."

Slam makes, but game goes down

By Alan Truscott

Suppose that in the second final session of the IMP Pairs you are on lead with this:

♦ 8 6 5 ♥ A J 9 8 3 ♦ 5 4 2 ♣ 10 8

Your opponents have reached 6NT, apparently with two balanced hands. A heart lead is liable to give the declarer a trick, so you make a passive lead in spades or diamonds. Unfortunately the whole deal is this:

Dlr: North
             ♥ 6 5 4
Vul: E-W
             ♦ A Q 8
             ♣ K J 6
♦865
                           ↑ 10 4 3
♥AJ983
                           ♥ K 10 7
♦ 5 4 2
                           ♦ J 6 3
4 10 8
                           ♣ 9752
             ♠ K Q J
             ♦ K 10 9 7
             ♣ A Q 4 3

With the diamonds splitting, declarer has 12 easy tricks – and the awful truth dawns. But you have company. Of the 12 declarers who reached an optimistic 6NT, 11 succeeded, gaining 1401 IMPs, while one failed by four tricks, losing 1285. The lead problem against the slam was harder, of course, if East was on lead.

But when the contract was 3NT, it was a different story. 37 pairs went down one on a heart lead,, losing 1007 IMPs, while 27 made 490 for plus 368 IMPs. So slam was easier to make than game.

There were some oddball results. 21 pairs made 400 or 430, presumably because the defenders led hearts but blocked the suit. Two pairs managed to play the North-South hands in a partscore. And 28 pairs avoided the notrump trap by playing 4♠ successfully. They deserve congratulations for classy bidding even though their reward was only 176 IMPs..

Aggressive leads – one worked, one didn't

Dan Morse, Board of Directors representative from District 16 (Texas and Mexico) found aggressive leads twice in one of his Spingold matches. The first had spectacular success.

West's diamond cuebid convinced Morse (south) that a diamond lead would gain nothing. But perhaps partner had the *Q and dummy would show up with something like the king-jack. Putting thought to action, he led the *8. Mark Gordon thought about this a bit, then made the normal play of the jack, losing to the queen. Bobby Wolff quickly led a club back to Morse's ace to set the contract.

Later in the match, this deal came up.

Morse knew that Allegaert had a powerful hand with long diamonds. He also figured he could get in twice with his ♣A and ♠K. He thought it likely that his partner would have something in spades, so he started with the ♠K and continued with the ♠3. Win Allegaert thought about this for a few seconds, then called for the 10! "I've seen your opening leads before," he said to Morse as Wolff ducked and the 10 held the trick. Now Allegaert had no problem making his contract, but the opening lead could have defeated a contract that looked cold. If Allegaert had put up the queen, the defense would have taken three spades plus the ♣A and the ♠K.

Perfect record

As of yesterday, Zeke Jabbour had played in three events here – and he won all three. He was a member of the team that won the NABC Senior Swiss Teams. He also won a Swiss Teams with his wife Sharon and a Flight A Knockout. He said he thought about playing Saturday but changed his mind: "I might not win."

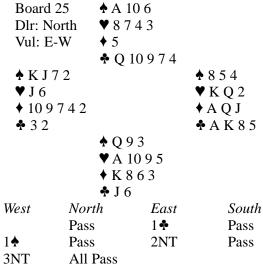

They were second in the Mini-Spingold I (0-5000). From left, Howard Gianera, Barry Purrington, John Koch, Vernon Evans, Monte Evans and Tony Ames.

Second hand low – up to a point

By Barry Rigal

Fred Alger found a smooth play to make his game – but the defense had their chance to violate one of the game's precepts to set the contract.

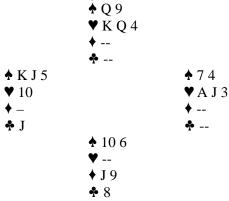

I showed great confidence in Fred's declarer play, but on South's diamond lead to the jack, the defense did well to duck when Fred led the ♦A then the ♦Q. However, when a low heart to the jack scored the trick, there were enough entries to set up the diamonds. When Alger guessed the spades he had nine tricks.

If South hops up with the ♥A (hoping declarer has only three hearts - otherwise his defense will look very silly), declarer loses one entry to dummy and the diamond suit is dead. Declarer can make no more than eight tricks no matter what he does.

On a spade lead I won the A, finessed in clubs, then guessed to lead a heart to the 8. The good/bad news meant I had to struggle for a shot at 12 tricks. I cashed the A, then crossruffed diamonds and clubs to reach this ending:

When I led the ♣J, North defended correctly by ruffing low. I overruffed and cashed the ♥A on which South pitched a diamond. Considering the opening lead, it felt right to exit with the losing heart, endplaying North to lead spades into the tenace, for plus 680.

Hall of Fame Play by Hall of Fame player

by David Lindop

IMP Pairs can be a frustrating game. You are often at the mercy of your opponents. If they bid and make lucky games and slams, you can lose a bushel of IMPs. And so it had proven during this year's event when we had played reasonably well but the opposition had made all the winning slam decisions. With only a couple of rounds to play, however, I thought our luck had finally changed when we encountered recently elected Hall-of-Famer Lew Stansby, playing with his wife JoAnna.

All Pass 6♥ Pass After Harry Tudor opened 3♣, our opponents went slightly awry and landed in a contract of 6  $\heartsuit$ instead of the normal  $6 \spadesuit$ . ( $6 \spadesuit$  can always be made. Even if the defenders get to ruff a club winner, West eventually gets squeezed in hearts and diamonds.) Finally, I thought, a chance to get back some of those IMPs . . . but it was not to be. I led my singleton ♣5 and Lew won dummy's ♣K. He immediately played a heart to the ♥K and led the ♥10. When I smoothly played low, he let it ride! (It wouldn't have made any difference if I had covered with the ♥J, since he could cross back to his hand with the  $\bigstar K$  and repeat the finesse.)

Pass

Pass

Lew now drew two more rounds of trumps, discarding the club loser from his hand, and started playing his spade and club winners. Eventually I had to ruff and was endplayed to lead away from my diamonds. To add to the ignominy, I had both diamond honors so I couldn't even lead a low diamond to make him guess. Oh well, just another thousand IMPs!

Tactical bid pays off big time – 2482 IMPs

Jerry Weinstein found a bid that steered the opposition off the best opening lead on this deal from the first final session of the NABC IMP Pairs. The result was a gain of 2482 IMPs.

Rich Gabriel, East, opened a weak 2♦, and Weinstein immediately was thinking slam. He was quite sure he didn't want a heart lead, so he bid 2♥ to throw his foes off the track. Naturally Gabriel raised to 4♥, and Weinstein leaped to 6NT. North later said he would have led a heart if Weinstein had made the more normal response of 2♠, but as it was he tried a club. That was all Weinstein needed – he won with the jack and knocked out the ♠A to score his slam and pick up a boatload of IMPs.

Our next hand from the IMP Pairs is the source of a sad story.

(1) 1430 response, shows 0 or 3 key cards.

(2) Asks for second-round club control.

Ralph Mocker and Carl Michelet of Galeta CA had a fine auction to a good grand slam, but . . .

The opening lead was a trump and Michelet gratefully won the queen with the king. He led a club to the ace and ruffed a club. That's all – he ruffed a club. South overruffed, and that was that – a tremendous load of IMPs down the drain for East-West. "Of course I should have ruffed with the jack," said Michelet. "Later I'd be able to take a ruffing club finesse through North to set up pitch from my losing spades. It just shows you what one careless play can do."

Incidentally Michelet came by the Daily Bulletin office and told this story on himself.

Thank you, Unit 249

Unit 249 was the host yesterday to a reception for players in the Intermediate/Novice area. Croissants and coffee were served.

(1) Break in tempo

The Facts: 4♦ made five, +150 for E/W. The opening lead was the ♥A. The Director was called when dummy was faced. E/W were playing Kaplan-Sheinwold (K–S). 1♦ showed either an unbalanced hand with diamonds or at least a strong notrump if balanced. After the hand West said that East's slow pass was "virtually forcing" (it was not Alerted). The Director ruled that pass by West was a LA (Laws 73C and 16A) and the contract was changed to 3♥ down one, +50 for E/W (Law 12C2).

The Appeal: E/W appealed the Director's ruling and were the only players to attend the hearing. West repeated his assertion that East's first pass was "virtually forcing." He also explained that passing made little sense since he knew his partner had a singleton heart. E/W explained that they have this kind of sequence "all the time." He had been considering Pass, 4♣ and 4♠; a double would have shown a strong notrump. The Committee asked E/W if they had any documentation regarding the forcing nature of the sequence. E/W said that their system notes were in their hotel room but that in any event they did not address this issue. When asked E/W said they would open 1♠ with 2-2-4-5 distribution.

The Committee Decision: The Committee followed the same line of reasoning as the Director. West had UI (Law 73) and the call he chose was demonstrably suggested by the UI (Law 16A). The next decision was whether Pass was an LA (Law 16A). The Committee decided that while many, perhaps most, K-S players would bid 4♦, some would pass. None of the K-S players on the Committee thought this sequence was forcing, and all would have given serious consideration to passing: Pass was thus a LA. Looked at another way, Pass might have been the winning action in a vacuum but East's hesitation made it virtually certain that bidding would produce a better result. (In Edgar Kaplan's terms, one would focus on the losing decision and the issue would be whether it would have been an egregious error, absurd or foolish to pass.) In this case the Committee believed that Pass would be right quite often. As for the possible result had West not bid 4♦, the only likely result was 3♥ down one, which was also the most unfavorable result that was at all probable for N/S. Therefore, the contract was changed to 3♥ down one, +50 for E/W. The issue of whether pass was a LA to 4♦ was complex enough that it was believed appropriate to ask a Committee to evaluate it. Thus, the appeal was deemed to have substantial merit.

(1) Alerted; may be short

The Facts: 5♦ doubled went down one, +100 for N/S. The Director was called when the dummy was faced. North had asked the meaning of 2♣ and was told it was Michaels (showing the majors). East and West both had marked Michaels over natural bid on their convention cards. They had not discussed their agreement after a short club. The Director changed the contract to 4♥ down one, +100 for N/S, and assessed E/W a 1/4-board PP for West's action in bidding over 4♥ doubled.

The Appeal: N/S appealed the Director's ruling. North was the only player to attend the hearing. The Screening Director told the Committee it was his opinion that most pairs playing against a 1♣ opening which could be two cards would still use Michaels, with or without discussion. Thus, he believed there was no MI but rather a mistaken bid (not an infraction) followed by UI from East's explanation. West was not entitled to know that her partner was playing her for both majors. 5♣ was judged a flagrant use of UI and that was why the PP was issued. Had the illegal 5♣ bid not occurred it was not even at all probable that North would have removed his partner's double of  $4\Psi$ , given that he was told that West held five spades. North explained that no number of spades he could bid at his first turn would have been natural, so he planned to bid spades at his second turn (24 would have been a cuebid, 34 would have been a splinter, and he didn't wish to risk confusing partner with a 44 bid). The Committee also determined that N/S played Exclusion Blackwood.

The Committee Decision: The Committee found that West had UI and that she chose an illegal call when a LA (pass) was available. The Committee also found North's statements compelling and borne out by his hand. Any player in the finals of the Life Master Pairs might realize that his opponents had had a misunderstanding. Even if West had five spades, 4♠ would still be made more often than not. South may have had a singleton spade honor, and even if South was void declarer needed only five side tricks to go with his five trump tricks and South had announced a strong hand by doubling 4♥. The Committee then applied Law 12C2. The likely results absent the irregularity (the 5♣ bid) were 4♠ made four (club lead and club return) and 4♠ made five (club lead and a diamond switch—it would not have been obvious that the lead was a singleton.) The most favorable of these for N/S was the latter, so N/S was assigned +450. (This would have been the decision even had the Committee decided that 4\nldapset doubled was also one of the likely results.) While not likely, the Committee judged the ♥J lead against 4♠ to be "at all probable," so E/W was assigned the score of -480. E/W might well have found a more successful defense against 4. but in order to have that chance they had to avoid the illegal 54 call. The Committee supported the PP assigned by the Director.

Wei-Sender goes past 15,000 masterpoints

Kathie Wei-Sender, whose team successfully defended their Wagar Women's Knockout Teams title on Friday, passed the 15,000 masterpoint mark with the victory.

In a long and successful career, Wei-Sender has won numerous North American titles – her Wagar win was her sixth – and three world championships: the Women's Bridge Team Olympiad, the Venice Cup and the Women's Pairs.

She is also the official Ambassador of Bridge for the World Bridge Federation and a former ACBL Honorary Member of the Year. She is an ACBL and WBF Grand Master and has served as co-captain and manager of the Taiwanese team which placed second in the Bermuda Bowl in 1971.

Surpassing 15,000 masterpoints must rank among her major achievements, considering that for years she has played only in the NABCs and in an occasional club game at home in Nashville TN. She is No. 8 on the all-time masterpoint list of women players.

"I'm pleased," Wei-Sender said, "because my husband, Henry, has been very supportive of my bridge activities even though he doesn't play. I want to thank my teammates and my bridge-playing friends for their support."

Besides her husband, there is another important person in Wei-Sender's life: new granddaughter Katherine, who lives in Houston TX.

Not exactly Methuselah

William E. Foster of Liverpool NY was playing in the Senior Pairs Saturday afternoon and waiting for his partner to show up, when his right-hand opponent began grousing.

"My back hurts," said RHO.

"Why is that?" inquired Foster.

"Because I'm old," said the complainer.

"How old?" said Foster.

"Sixty-nine and a half."

"Well, I'm seventy and a half," said Foster.

RHO's partner spoke up at that point: "I'm seventy-seven."

Turns out the "old" guy was the youngest one at the table.

Marshall's back in action

Tournament Director David Marshall was hospitalized earlier this week because of a mild heart attack. The doctors did an angioplasty and inserted three stents in two of his arteries to allow easier passage for his blood. He's feeling fine, and he was back on the job yesterday.

Deal of the Day II: A lucky escape

By Marc Smith

The bridge in the final set of the Spingold quarterfinal between Mavromichalis and Coleman was some of the most exciting of the week. Hence we have a second edition of today's Deal of the Day.

The situation was that the Swiss-English-Norwegian team trailed by 15 IMPs with one stanza remaining. At the table where the Hackett twins, Justin and Jason, were sitting North/South, things were not looking good. On consecutive deals, they had failed in two fair slams. The first went down on the lead of a singleton to the ace and a ruff. On the second slam hand, the defenders did not find the killing lead, but declarer still needed to make a number of guesses and he was unable to find his way through the minefield. It is understandable, therefore, that declarer's concentration wavered when, on the very next deal, he found himself in a game that appeared to be a piece of cake.

We could all learn one of the most important lessons in bridge from this deal.

The twins reached game in their 9-card fit after the trademark Hackett 1♥ opening bid, and West led a heart. It looks normal to lead a high spade a trick two – East wins the ace and returns a heart.

Even though West ruffs your ♥A away, you are still not overly concerned. Where do you therefore win the trick when West now returns a diamond?

Of course, "where do you win this?" is a trick question – the only danger to your contract is a 6-0 diamond break, and East will ruff whichever diamond you play from dummy. This ruff is harmless enough as long as you did not put up one of dummy's diamond honors. If you allowed East to ruff away a diamond winner, though, you are now in danger of losing four tricks.

As it happens, this is your lucky day - the full deal is:

Even if you allow East to ruff your ♦A at Trick 4, he is endplayed – he must then lead away from either the ♣K or the ♥Q. Whichever he chooses, you will be able to avoid losing a club so will lose only the three trump tricks the defenders have already made. A rather fortunate plus 620 for NS.

At the other table, the Hacketts' Norwegian teammates, Terje Aa and Glenn Groetheim, not only flattened both slam deals (by finding the killing lead on both to give their opponent no chance), but they also generated a game swing on the deal shown above.

The auction at their table was:

The duction at their tuble was.

Maybe Groetheim had just read Thursday's Deal of the Day on which we saw Kate McCallum open an almost identical hand with 3♦ to great effect. More likely, though, this was just a routine European action that emphasizes the different way in which the game is played on the other side of The Pond.

There can be no doubt that the 3♦ opening placed Andrew Gromov in an unenviable position. His choice of

Better late than never

In 1950, Alan Truscott was in the Netherlands as part of a British student chess team. On one of the group's train rides, Truscott was assigned to help a man in a wheelchair get off the train. While that was going on, another team member was supposed to take care of Truscott's luggage.

Unfortunately, Truscott's bag was still on the rack when the train departed, and it took some nifty work by the Dutch train system to get it back to Truscott.

The guilty party was one David Youston, who now lives in Toronto. He and Truscott got together during the NABC and – 51 years later – Youston apologized for the bag incident.

3NT was not at all unreasonable, but it was mercilessly punished because Groetheim unerringly found the club lead, setting up four tricks in the suit while his partner still held the ♣A. N-S minus 100 and another 12 IMPs to the Mavromichilas team, who went on to win the match by 155-133.

Another day at office

By Marc Smith

It was the early hours of the morning, but a large crowd was still gathered around the table where Jeff Meckstroth and Eric Rodwell were playing the final few deals of a match in which they were trailing by 20-25 IMPs going into the final set. No one knew at the time, but the Nickell team was still down by a double-figure score with three deals remaining.

This was Board 14 of 16 at Meckwell's table.

Where would you like to play these North-South cards?

At the other table, North-South reached 3NT from the South seat. Bob Hamman led a heart to the 10 and ace, and Paul Soloway shifted to a club.

How do you like your chances now?

Declarer won the ♣A and played a diamond to the 10 and king, but when Soloway then returned a heart, declarer's hand was effectively dead. The 4-2 diamond break meant that declarer could make only eight tricks – N-S minus 50.

At the Meckwell table, Meckstroth bid his suits facing a strong 1 opening, and he then pressed on with 4 over 3NT. Rodwell corrected to 4 and there matters rested. West led a highish spade and Meckstroth won the ace to lead the Q. Bruce Ferguson, sitting East, grabbed the A and returned a club, but Meckstroth put in the jack after considerable thought.

The  $\clubsuit$ A-K followed quickly, followed by a ruff of the fourth round of clubs. Meckstroth then led the  $\spadesuit$ Q from dummy and ruffed away East's king. Cashing the  $\blacktriangledown$ K extracted East's last trump, and now Meckstroth led his winning club. West could score his low trump and the jack, but that was all - the diamond loser went on the  $\spadesuit$ J.

Declarer had lost just three trump tricks: NS plus 420. 10 IMPs to Nickell.

They went on to gain two more swings on the last two deals at Meckwell's table and won the match by a margin just in double figures. An exciting finish for the spectators who had stayed into the early hours to see the conclusion of the match, but just another routine day at the office for Jeff and Eric.

Names you trust

Overheard in the women's restroom at the Royal York Hotel:

A woman entered a stall and noticed the brand name of the fixtures: American Standard.

"Oh," said the woman, "Standard American. Finally there's something I'm familiar with."

Do you double?

That question came up twice every time this hand was played in the Spingold yesterday.

Three of the four Souths opened  $3\blacklozenge$ , so the Wests were faced with the first decision. The distribution wasn't perfect and the point count was minimum. However, you lose a lot of IMPs when you let the opponents get away with such preempts. So all the Wests doubled. Of course it was easy for East to bid  $3\blacktriangledown$  – he didn't know partner had only three, and he didn't know about the terrible break.

Then the spotlight was on North – should he double 3♥? Nick Nickell didn't think so – he passed. Nickell and Freeman beat the contract three tricks, but that was only plus 300. At the other table, George Jacobs opened 3♦, Soloway doubled, and Hamman bid 3♥. However, when this was doubled, Hamman ran to 3♠, which Ralph Katz also doubled. This fared no better 3♥ – down three for minus 800 and 12 IMPs to Jacobs.

In the other match, Kerry Smith of the Moss team bid  $3 \spadesuit$ . Glenn Groetheim thought for several minutes and finally doubled. Terje Aa bid  $3 \heartsuit$ , which was doubled, down three for 800.

Brigitte Mavromichalis was the only South not to preempt – she opened with a pass. That made it easy for Mike Moss to open 1NT, Paul Hackett overcalled 2♣ – hearts and another suit. Mavromichalis of course bid 2♠, but Hackett leaped to 3♠. Mavromichalis of course was not pleased with this development, so she bid her diamonds again. And of course Hackett was not interested in diamonds with his void – he ran to 4♠ after 4♠ was doubled. This was doubled, naturally, and when the smoke cleared Hackett had suffered a 1400-point set.

That was a 2200-point plus for the Moss team - a gain of 19 IMPs.

Maybe all events are pre-determined

By Harry Ross

Somewhere in pasteboard Valhalla are the bridge gods. They sit and sip their espresso and determine who should win what. We now have the proof.

On Thursday and Friday, our team consisting of Mark and Roberta Epstein and Susi and Harry Ross won a Senior knockout. In the semifinal match we were down by 17 IMPs at the half and we won by 1 IMP. In the final we started with a 4-IMP advantage since one of our opponents was delayed (coincidence?), and through we were behind by 12 at the half, we won by one! Two consecutive matches won by a single IMP!

Here is a deal from the final which I feel further proves my contention.

At one table the auction, beginning with West, went Pass - 1NT - Pass - 3NT, which was promptly defeated by one vulnerable trick. At the other table the auction went Pass - 1♠ - Pass -1NT - 2♠ All Pass. Five diamond tricks and three club ruffs resulted in plus 110 for a tied board. Keen analysts of course will note that without divine diversion, a black suit slam is available to North-South. So there is my proof. Can anyone seriously doubt the evidence?

Montreal World Bridge Championship Quiz

To heighten awareness of the Bridge World Championships in Montreal, Quebec, next year (Aug. 16-31), the organizers have offered a daily bridge problem with prizes for the winners.

Yesterday's quiz was the last. The prizes for the winners (listed below) can be collected in the Algonquin Room on the mezzanine level at the Royal York Hotel. Thanks to Eddie Kantar, who provided all but one of the problems.

Quiz #8 solution: ↑ 10 9 3 ♥ 7 6 5 4 ♦ A 7 6 ♣ Q 7 6 ♦ Q J 8 ↑ 7 6 5 4 2 ♥ Q 2 ♥ A 3 ♦ K Q J 10 5 ♦ 9 ♣ J 10 9 4 8 5 4 3 2 ♠ A K ♥ K J 10 9 8 ♦8432 ♣ A K West East North South 2♥ 2♦ Pass

West leads the ♦K. You win and lead a heart from dummy at trick two, East playing low. Which heart do you play?

Here is what Kantar had to say.

All Pass

You must play the king for the simple reason that you cannot make the contract if East has the  $\mathbf{\nabla} \mathbf{Q}$ .

Say you play the jack and it forces out the ace. West will simply play three more diamonds, allowing East to overruff dummy on the last round.

Nor does it do you any good if you jack holds and you find East with  $\P A Q 3$ . You still must lose two hearts and two diamonds.

Therefore, your only chance is to find East with either  $\forall A x$  or  $\forall A x x$ , and the proper play beyond any doubt is the king.

Quiz #8 winners: Jim Hamilton, Doug Doub, Gordon Campbell. Please pick up your prize in the Daily Bulletin office, Algonquin Room, mezzanine level at the Royal York Hotel.

Humans leading GIB in exhibition match

Four Junior players led two GIB computer programs plus Fred Gitelman and Brad Moss in a special exhibition match at the Royal York Hotel Saturday. The match, with the Juniors ahead 90-55, concludes Sunday, beginning at 8 a.m. in Salon A on the convention level at the hotel. The match is not an official ACBL function.

GIB, developed by Matt Gisberg, has won two world computer championships and is consistently among the highest-rated programs on the market.

Counting to 13 — An underrated skill

Fred Alger's  $4\Psi$  bid may have placed a touching if misguided faith in my declarer play. When South led the  $\clubsuit J$  rather than a top diamond, I was apparently headed for defeat. The play went  $\clubsuit J$  to ace, heart to jack and king, club ruff,  $\bigstar K$  to ace, spade to jack,  $\bigstar A$ ,  $\bigstar K$ , heart to ace.

At this point North rebelled at the idea of giving me a free finesse in clubs, so he exited with his spade. But the ruff and discard let me pitch dummy's diamond, then crossruff for 10 tricks.

Note that if North could add to 13 he would discover I have three spades, four hearts and two clubs for sure. Hence I would have four diamonds, so two discards on clubs wouldn't be enough – I'd still lose a diamond. So North could work out that the club lead is safe.

Turkish youngsters had a great time here

The four youngsters from Turkey who did well in both the Life Master Pairs and the Spingold thoroughly enjoyed their visit to their first North American Championship. All four – Ata Aydin, Gokhan Yilmaz, Ergun Guhadar and Cengiz Arigon – signed up as members of the ACBL.

In the Life Master Pairs, they tied for 16th-17th. In the Spingold, they won their first two matches before being eliminated.

King

be repeated next year with an expanded schedule.

King believes that support from the professionals is vital to the success of his venture. "If the pros don't support it, it won't work," he says.

The initial meeting with a group of pro players left King feeling optimistic. There were about 30 people at the gathering, he says, "and not one negative word was said." More than a dozen of the ACBL's top players have signed up to form a professional organization – the first step in getting the effort off the ground.

Another key step, King says, is the formation of what King refers to as a "calendar council," the group which schedules all the events – locking in time periods in specific locations so that everyone knows from week to week where the big-money tournaments are. It will also allow the promoters of those tournaments to lock in top players much like tennis and golf tournaments do.

King believes that the SuperBridgeTour can soon boast of $10 million in prizes annually. "I think it can be in place by 2005," he says. For 2002, he says, the SuperBridgeTour can have 30 tournaments.

In King's vision, the cash prize events would be two-day, four-session games run in individual movements and scheduled as part of regional tournaments and NABCs. Even before sponsors sign on, King says, the cash-prize events can have total purses of $100,000 from entry fees only.

With a $200 per-person entry fee, that would take 125 tables – roughly eight 15-table sections. That's a tall order, but King believes it can happen if the right people get behind the movement.

King hopes to form a calendar council of representatives from the ACBL, the United States Bridge Federation, the World Bridge Federation, the to-beformed players' and promoters' associations.

King believes that now is the perfect time to repopularize bridge, in part because so many Baby Boomers are reaching the point in their lives where they begin looking for hobbies – they have more time on their hands and more disposable income. "For the next 15 years," King says, "there will be 10,000 Baby Boomers a day turning 50."

With the right promotion, King says, young people can be drawn to the game. "As soon as they see Zia winning $1 million in prize money, the youth market will be into bridge. They are practical beyond anyone's imagination."

After meeting with the professional players in Toronto, King says he is even more optimistic that his SuperBridgeTour can get off the ground.

"I'm certain that it can happen," King says. "It might not, but it can."

Jack's developer, Kuijf, said the play engine for the program is four or five years old. The bidding part was first written in April of 2000.

The way Kuijf decided on the name of the program is interesting. He is also a chess player, and he had a chess program called King. When he started on his bridge program, he called it Queen, but in the early stages of its development the program didn't perform particularly well, so it got a "demotion" from Queen to Lack Kuijf, who lives in The Hague area in the Netherlands, said he may publish a Dutch version of the program for commercial purposes by the end of the year. He isn't certain whether he will do one in English.

Toronto expected to top 16,000 tables today

Through the second Saturday, the 2001 Summer NABC had recorded 15,299.5 tables (not counting the midnight zip knockouts) and was on target for the magic 16,000 mark today.

Barring the completely unexpected today, the tournament will be the best-attended NABC since the 1993 Summer NABC in Washington DC.

Toronto 2001 also has a good chance to move to the No. 9 spot on the all-time list of ACBL tournaments.

Bull misrepresents record, was actually 0-6 in Spingold

In Saturday's semifinal Spingold matches, Jacobs got out in front of world-class Nickell-Freeman, Meckwell and HamWay by 17 after one quarter, 32 at the half, 36 after three quarters -- then they held on to win by 11.

In the Cinderella bracket, the original #32 seed with the British Hacketts, plus the Swiss Brigitte Mavromichalis and Norwegians Aa and Groetheim, got blown out early and never quite got back, losing by an eventual 21 to the surviving Cinderella, Moss. Congratulations to Ms. Mavromichalis and crew for a most impressive Spingold.

An investigation by the ACBL revealed that in yesterday's Daily Bulletin the Bull misrepresented his prognosticating record, claiming to have gone 2-2 in quarterfinal predictions when in fact the he was a miserable 0-4. Combined with an equally abysmal 0-2 in the semis, the Bull's record for this year's event so far is an appalling 0-6. With no choice, the League indefinitely suspended the Bull. Neither the Bull nor the ACBL would comment, citing the possibility of future legal action.

In the finals of the 2001 Toronto Spingold:

#3 Captain George Jacobs with Ralph Katz joined by the Italian Olympiad champions Alfredo Versace and Lorenzo Lauria and Georgio Duboin and Norberto Bocchi against the original #29 Mike Moss-Fred Chang, Jeff Shuett and Kerry Smith. Wow! What a tournament for the Moss squad with, unfortunately, an unhappy ending as the experience, depth and sixhanded Jacobs team defeats the gallant Moss by 3.

The Bull gives the fine folks of Toronto a triple snort salute for a fine Toronto NABC and invites everyone to Las Vegas in the fall. Remember, Las Vegas starts on a Sunday and ends on a Tuesday.

New Life Masters

MARILYN JESHION of Dumont NJ easily won the last point she needed for her gold card when she placed second in Bracket 2 of the Morning Compact Knockouts. She was playing with her husband Michael, who is already a Life Master. Their teammates were Kara Jarman and Louise Kavall of Las Vegas.

We have already announced that EUNICE FREED-MAN became a Life Master, but she wants to thank her teammates –Molly Fainer, University Heig OH; Marvin Wolf, Cleveland, and Ogie Tzankov, Kennesaw GA. Freedman needed 13 golds to achieve Life Masterhood, but she went well beyond that – 37 golds so far

LIZ SPENCER and CATHY FRITSCH, both of Winnipeg, went over the top together by winning Bracket 4 of the Ontario Knockouts.

Congratulations to SETH WEISBERG and NICOLA BIRD of Los Angeles. The married couple, both attorneys, earned their gold cards together in the qualifying sessions of the Master Mixed Teams. They were playing with Julie and Willie Ehlers of West Orange NJ. It was a good matchup because Julie taught the couple to play bridge while they were dating as students at Columbia University School of Law.

Lauria and Giorgio Duboin-Norberto Bocchi.

On the sidelines today despite a valiant comeback are the defending Bermuda Bowl champions – Nickell, Richard Freeman, Meckstroth-Rodwell and Bob Hamman-Paul Soloway.

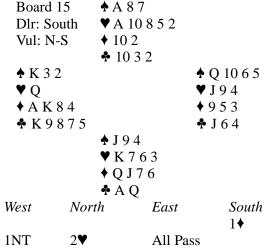

In the other match, pitting the original #32 seed, led by Brigitte Mavromichalis, against the original #29, Moss (Fred Chang, Kerry Smith-Jeff Schuett), raced to a 70-IMP lead at halftime and finished with a 146-125 victory. Mavromichalis, of Switzerland, teamed with Paul Hackett and his twin sons, Jason and Justin, as well as Norwegian stars Glenn Groetheim and Terje

Nickell and company found themselves down 125-90 going into the final 16 boards of the semifinal. They managed to outscore their opponents, 52-28, in the final set, but it wasn't enough.

Mavromichalis also mounted a fourth-quarter rally, 36-15, but the team was in too deep a hole to recover.

Not so obvious

Lee Rautenberg made the "obvious" play on this deal from the second final session of the Life Master Pairs. However, what seemed like an obvious play to the trusting declarer was merely a sleight of hand by a quick thinking expert.

His partner, Drew Casen, led the $4. As soon as the dummy came down, and while declarer planned his play, the usually deliberate Rautenberg had to quickly evaluate the defensive chances to be ready to pull the trigger to make the illusion seem real. It was clear there was no future in clubs, and any natural trump tricks were not going away. Furthermore, given the auction, Casen would surely have led a doubleton diamond if that is what he had. Therefore only the spade suit mattered.

Rautenberg reasoned that if his partner had either the  $\triangle$ A or the  $\triangle$ Q without the 10, the number of defensive spade tricks would always be the same. However, if partner had the  $\triangle$ Q-10, Rautenberg could put declarer to the test by playing the  $\triangle$ K to make it appear that had the  $\triangle$ K-Q-10. From declarer's perspective, if West held the  $\triangle$ K-Q-10 it surely would be obvious to lay down the king, so Rautenberg had to act quickly to avoid arousing declarer's suspicions.

Declarer took the club finesse, losing to Rautenberg's king, and he smoothly switched to the ♠K. After a little thought, declarer decided there was room in Casen's hand for one diamond honor, so that by ducking the ♠K he would temporarily freeze the spade suit. He would hope that he could get West to win the first diamond or that the ♠10 was with East—or at worst that West had both the ♠A and ♠K.

So declarer ducked and Rautenberg continued with a second spade, ducked to Casen's queen. The top diamonds and the natural trump loser sealed declarer's fate – down one.

Thanks for the help

Irene Warner, in charge of the Partnership Desk at the Metro Toronto Convention Center, would like to thank two players who assisted her earlier in the tournament when she had an accident. Warner said she does not know who the players are but she was impressed with their aid and their later concern.

Tale of the Club King

Jean Monette of Ottawa and Genecia Adler of New York City were getting ready to bid when suddenly the king of clubs fell out of Genecia's hand. They got the ruling from the director, but a minute or two later the director returned, apologized and gave the correct ruling.

That evening, Monette and Adler were at the table when one of their opponents dropped a card before the bidding began. You guessed it – it was the king of clubs again. They got the ruling from the director and – you guessed it – the director came back a minute or two later, apologized and gave the correct ruling.

How to be famous!

Remember the story the other day about Dave Treadwell losing 3398 IMPs in just one deal? He dropped by yesterday to tell us he can accomplish similar feats in matchpoints. In one round, his side bid  $4 \spadesuit$  and went down one (½ a point) and then bid  $1 \spadesuit$  and made six ( $2 \frac{1}{2}$ ).

In case you think this means Treadwell can't play bridge very well, be assured that he is absolutely the best 80-plus-year-old player at this tournament.

Never give up!

The final contract of 4♥ looked hopeless on this deal from the first round of the NABC Senior Swiss Teams.

North opened 3♠, but partner Mike Cappelletti decided 4♥ would be a better shot. He ruffed the ♠J opening lead. He played the ♣Q, and when West ducked, the game was cold. Cappelletti next led the ♣K and this time West took his ace.

On the heart shift, Cappelletti won the jack, ruffed a spade (in case West had two), and ran all his trumps but one, leaving this position:

He led a club, won by West, and ruffed the club return with his last trump. Then he led a low diamond and West was cooked. He won the king and led a low diamond, but Cappelletti put in the jack to score up his game and a 10-IMP gain.

Note that West could have avoided the endplay by throwing away all his high clubs and keeping the jack and the 2. Then when he could duck and let partner with the 8 for a diamond through, killing the endplay

How experts think

Cezary Balicki of Poland opened 1NT on this Spingold hand, and his partner raised him to game.

The opening lead looked like a fourth best heart, and he won this in hand. He crossed to dummy with the ♥A – and East had a problem discarding. Why would East have a problem, wondered Balicki. Apparently East has no five-card suit, because usually it's easy to discard from a five-card suit. So East must be 4-1-4-4. Balicki played for this, finessing to the ♣10 to pick up the suit. When the diamond finesse worked, he had his nine tricks.
