Courageous Cowan rejects self-pity, continues bridge

For 13 months, New York attorney Phil Cowan has battled inoperable brain cancer. He has undergone a variety of medical treatments and is struggling to make it against long odds.

Given those circumstances, one might ask what the 57-year-old is doing at the Toronto NABC. Cowan's answer: "Dealing with it as best I can." One of the best ways for him to cope, he says, is to play bridge.

Although he is not nearly as sharp as he was before he was stricken, Cowan still plays with the dedication that led him to about 20 Summer NABCs in a row, playing mostly with regular partner Steve Becker. The two have played together and won numerous events since they started in the Seventies.

They played the first two qualifying sessions of the Life Master Pairs earlier in the tournament and, despite Cowan's condition, were only slightly below average in each session

"The doctors seem to think bridge is good for me," Cowan says.

The sentiment is echoed by his wife, Edna. "It exercises his memory," she says,

CEO Silber to leave ACBL

David O. Silber, chief executive officer of the ACBL since 1998, announced at Sunday's meeting of the Board of Governors that he will leave the organization at the end of the month.

At the meeting, Jim Kirkham, ACBL President, thanked Silber for his many contributions to the ACBL and the United States Bridge Federation and indicated that the Board of Directors will appoint a CEO search committee to identify a successor.

Kirkham announced that the search committee will be chaired by Wayne Hascall, who represents District 12 on the Board.

In the interim, Jack Zdancewicz, ACBL's chief financial officer, will serve as acting chief operating officer.

Levin-Weinstein break string of seconds with LM Pairs win

After a string of what seemed like "a million" second place finishes in major events, Robert Levin and Steve Weinstein finally made it through to the top, taking the lead after the first final session of the Life Master Pairs to win the event by nearly a full board.

Second place went to Ralph Katz and Gary Cohler.

The two have been friends for a long time but partners for only about three years. Practically from the beginning, their extraordinary chemistry has produced a succession of high finishes in major events, including a victory in the Cavendish Invitational Pairs in Las Vegas a couple of years ago.

Levin and Weinstein thought that was their breakthrough, but the string of seconds resumed after that. Even more frustrating was the fact that on several of the occasions -- including the Cap Gemini in Europe and last year's Vanderbilt Knockout Teams -- they were winning until the last board.

Of course, second in several major events is nothing to sneeze at. "It's been good," said Weinstein, "but it feels a little better now."

The partnership came together when Levin and Weinstein, both in longtime partnerships, were ready for a change. "We have worked really hard," said Levin.

Weinstein had to make an adjustment from the Precision system he had played for many years, but the two settled on a 2/1, Standard American. "It's an

Just ask Martha: no hanky panky with computer deals

In some circles, computer-generated deals have a decidedly bad reputation. Many players believe the deals are manipulated to:

- (1) Be more difficult.
- (2) Assure that all finesses fail.
- (3) Have wilder distributions.

In fact, computer-generated deals are truly random deals – no more, no less. If you prefer the less-exotic deals you sometimes find in your regular club game, it may be because the deals have been inadequately shuffled, which tends to produce more even distributions.

Then again, some of the truly outlandish deals reported in various publications were dealt by humans. At one time, the ACBL did business with an East Coast company which supplied the computer deals for tournaments. Now, all deals are generated at ACBL Headquarters in Memphis.

Here is the process by which the computer-generated deals are created:

Once a month, Martha Walls, who works in the Publishing Department, unlocks the room near her office where the deals are created. The office stays locked at all times.

To start up a new set, Walls boots up the computer and opens the random-deal generator created by ACBL systems analyst Jim Lopushinsky.

A stopper? Not quite!

Some years ago we published a hand played in 3NT by Bobby Gookin. He felt that his 10-small constituted a stopper even though the dummy was void in the suit.

One of the players here had a slightly better stopper, but he too now sees the follies of his ways. The auction went like this:

 West
 North
 East
 South

 1NT (1)
 Dbl
 3♠

 4♠
 4NT
 All Pass

The 3NT bidder had only a doubleton 10 in spades, and his partner raised to 4NT on a singleton. It didn't work – the opponents led spades.

Zero tolerance three years later

The ACBL Board of Directors -- citing a commitment to "improving acceptable player behavior at all times" -- adopted Zero Tolerance as ACBL policy, effective with the 1998 Spring NABC in Reno.

Unacceptable behavior has decreased – our goal, however, is to eliminate unacceptable behavior as much as possible.

Please report conduct that is unacceptable while keeping in mind that we must be tolerant of other people in general -- and bridge players in particular. Also report conduct that is outstanding or refreshing.

Commendable behavior includes (but is not limited to):

- Being a good "host" or "guest" at the table.
- Greeting others in a friendly manner.
- Praising the bidding and/or play of the opponents.
- Having two clearly completed convention cards readily available to the opponents. This is also a regulation.

Unacceptable behavior includes (but is not limited to):

- Badgering, rudeness, insinuations, intimidation, profanity, threats or violence.
- Negative comments concerning opponents' or partner's play or bidding.
 - Gloating over good results.
- Constant and gratuitous lessons and analyses at the table.
- Loud and disruptive arguing with a director's ruling.

If you experience someone exhibiting discourteous behavior or being other than civil, please call a tournament director immediately. If you feel that there was a very serious breech of discipline, in addition to the resolution by the tournament director at the table, please discuss the problem directly with the Directorin-Charge of the tournament.

Should it become necessary to call a tournament director, you may simply state: "This player is interfering with my enjoyment of the game."

The director will then attempt to determine the facts. If he establishes there was unacceptable behavior, an immediate 1/4-board disciplinary penalty (3 IMPs in team games) shall be assigned to all offenders.

This may involve any one or all four players at the table, regardless of who initiated the unacceptable behavior. If both members of a partnership are guilty, the penalties are cumulative (1/4 board each = 1/2 board or 3 IMPs each = 6 IMPs).

If it is determined that a second offense has occurred in the same event, the offender(s) shall be ejected from future competition in that event.

An offender removed from an event shall be deemed not to have played in the event, no masterpoints will be awarded and no refunds will be made.

In the case of a serious offense and in the case of multiple offenses (three) during a tournament, a disciplinary committee may determine whether the offender(s) should be allowed to play in other events at the tournament and/or whether additional sanctions may be appropriate.

While the director may issue a warning, directors are strongly encouraged to give penalties and a warning should be given only when there is no clear violation, where the facts cannot be clearly determined or there are mitigating circumstances. Offenders should receive an immediate penalty. Regardless of who may have initiated unacceptable behavior, all offenses are punishable. Retaliatory behavior is a punishable offense. Frivolous accusations will also be considered as offenses under this policy.

Juniors are a force to be reckoned with

The Junior team that will represent Canada in the World Junior Championships in Brazil later this year will be a force to be reckoned with. Watch Vincent Demuy of Montreal on this deal from the first semifinal of the Life Master Pairs.

Darren Wolpert, East, led the ♠K to dummy's ace, and Demuy led a diamond. When Jurek Czyzowicz put in the 10, Demuy let it hold. Czyzowicz switched to a heart away from his doubleton king, but Demuy let it ride to dummy's 9. He led another diamond and played the 8 from hand, losing to the jack. Wolpert played his ♠Q and Demuy ruffed. He cashed his trump ace, dropping the king, and then drew the last trump. This was the position at this point:

He led the \mathbf{v} 10, completely fixing the defenders. Wolpert could see that he would be endplayed if discarded his small club, and a diamond discard would have been equally disastrous. So he took his only chance – he ditched the ♣A. Demuy pitched a spade from dummy and now the noose tightened on West. He sluffed his spade, postponing the inevitable. Demuy cashed the ♦A, taking away West's last out card, and then led the club. Demuy won his 10th trick with the ♣J for an excellent result.

Brian Power, Peter Louis and Henry Lee became Life Masters together yesterday in the Knockout Teams.

3 teammates become Life Masters together

Yesterday was a big day for the team captained by Debbie Robertson of Toronto - all three of her teammates became Life Masters at the same moment - the second when they discovered they had won their semifinal match in Bracket 12 of the Bluejays Knockout Teams. The men with their new gold cards are Brian Power of Thornhill ON and Henry Lee and Peter Louis of Toronto.

What about Robertson? "I still have a long way to go," she said. But I'm the pillar for this team – they wouldn't be Life Masters if it weren't for me."

SUSAN GOON of Scarsdale NY became a Life Master Friday by winning Bracket 8 of the Welcome to Toronto Knockout Teams. Her partner was her husband Gil, and their teammates were Lee Ohliger of Ridgewood NJ and Sandy Johnson of Ho-Ho-Kus NJ.

LAURIAN HASSELWANDER of Rochester Hills MI made the grade in Bracket 9 of the Toronto Knockout Teams.

JOHN McGOVERN of Oakville ON also earned his gold card in the Welcome to Toronto Knockout Teams. His wife Sue was on the team, but she was partnered by Val Tabler of Mississauga ON. McGovern was playing with Gisella Gassman of Mississauga.

He took a club finesse to the dangerous hand and lost to the queen. Cameron Parker switched to the \(\dagge Q\) and the defenders quickly gathered three spade tricks. Declarer still had to lose two trumps, so he went down three tricks. Table 2

Graham Hazel found the most devastating opening lead – a trump. Declarer won with the queen and went after hearts, putting up the king from dummy and losing to the ace. Eugene Hung continued the attack on trumps, and declarer tried a diamond to the jack, losing to the queen. Hazel led his last trump, and declarer was in deep, dark trouble. He led another diamond, losing to the ace, and Hazel found the perfect return – the ♥8, which forced declarer to cover with the 9. Hung took his queen and accurately switched to the *Q. After winning three tricks in that suit, Hazel led a fourth club, forcing declarer to ruff. But declarer had to lead away from dummy's ♥10-6, and the defense took two more heart tricks for down four and an 8-IMP gain.

Notice that hearts was the key suit. The Californians won two tricks in the suit when they defended 4♥ and then took four heart tricks against 2♠.

Montreal Championship Quiz

To heighten awareness of the Bridge World Championships in Montreal, Quebec, next year (Aug. 16-31), the organizers will offer a daily bridge problem with prizes for the winners during the 2001 Summer NABC.

There will be a drawing from among the names of those who answer correctly – and five will win copies of the World Championship Book from 1995 or 1996 (your choice while supplies last). Turn in your answers to the Daily Bulletin office – Algonquin Room on the Mezzanine Level at the Royal York Hotel. Check the Daily Bulletin for the list of winners.

You, South are in 4♠. Opening lead: ♣2. West is a player who loves to underlead kings. How should you play this contract with the club lead? Thanks again to Eddie Kantar for the problem.

Solution to Quiz #2

      ♠ K J

      ♠ K
      ♠ 6 5 3 2

Here is what Kantar, who provided yesterday's problem, had to say about this deal.

The only two to go down on this deal is to have a mental lapse or a complete collapse. There are 10 tricks there for the taking, and even though a well-known expert did go down, you shouldn't.

Simply win the \bigstar K, draw as many trumps as necessary, ending on the table, discard two hearts on the two high diamonds and eventually lead up to your \bigstar K. If West has the ace you make an overtrick. If East has the \bigstar A, you make your contract.

The only way to mangle this one is to discard clubs on the diamonds and then try to hold your club and heart losers to three tricks. That won't always work, but the recommended play will.

Quiz #2 winners: Jacques Sormany, Jacob Morgan, Bernard Gench, P. Mallela and Gene Kazlow. Please pick up your prize in the Daily Bulletin office, Algonquin Room, mezzanine level at the Royal York Hotel.

Walls, looking at a screen with blank spaces for 52 cards, takes out a deck, shuffles it at least seven times and deals out four hands. She then enters the cards in each of the corresponding compass directions on the screen. She then fills in the number of sets of deals she needs, and starts the process. Last year, Walls used the computer to generate 10,825 sets of deals for tournaments, including NABCs.

The deals come out in sets on a laser printer hooked to the computer. After the printing is completed, the deals are packaged and sealed immediately, along with a sheet containing all the deals in the set. That sheet is photocopied at the tournament so that players can have the hand records after each session.

No one sees the deals until a tournament director opens a package at a tournament for duplication by players.

Walls, who has worked at the ACBL for 21 years – mostly in the now-defunct print shop – has never played bridge. If she was so inclined, she wouldn't know how to "manipulate" a bridge deal. "I wouldn't know a bridge hand from Adam," she says.

Lopushinsky says the program he wrote to generate the deals is capable of creating all deals possible, but no one reading this piece could ever see them. The number of possible deals is a mind-boggling 53,644,737,765,488,792,839,237,440,000.

If you could examine one bridge deal per second 24 hours a day, seven days a week, 365 days a year, the number of years it would take to see all the deals possible would be a 29-digit number. Consider that even with 1 billion deals – a tiny fraction of the number possible – it would take 178 years to view that number even at one per second all day every day year round.

Lopushinsky said the deal generator operates with a seed number and a 20-digit number that combines with the clock in the computer to assure that no deal is ever duplicated. The chances of having a duplicate deal, he says, would be the same as your chances of getting the same deal on consecutive nights after a thorough shuffle the second time around.

After he first wrote the deal generator, Lopushinsky says, he checked it once a week for about a year to assure that the deals being created conformed to mathematical expectations. It was right on target every time, he says.

If you are one who objects to the use of computer deals, consider how long it would take to start a game with several different sections if hand records were not available for duplication in all sections at the same time. The alternative would be to have players in each section play their own deals without duplication, not a desirable choice in events where there is an overall winner. \square

"which is important because his short-term memory was affected."

The grim diagnosis last June was the culmination of a series of physical problems for Cowan. For months before that, he knew something was wrong because he kept "bonking into people" and losing his balance. Bad became worse one day when he collapsed in his office.

"He hadn't been right for about six months," recalls Becker. "He kept breaking bridge dates with me, saying he didn't feel well."

Becker remembers visiting Cowan in the hospital after the collapse. He and Cowan had been planning to play at the 2000 Summer NABC in Anaheim. Cowan apologized for having to cancel the trip to Anaheim, "but we're going to Toronto."

Says Becker: "I thought there was no way."

Phil and Edna had become engaged the week he was diagnosed with cancer. They went ahead with the wedding plans despite the bad news. They were married at the New York University Medical Center.

Since the diagnosis, Cowan had undergone radiation treatments, chemotherapy and a procedure known as a "gamma knife" – like a laser, according to Edna.

Cowan says the illness and what he has gone through have been "tougher on Edna than on me."

It has also been hard on Becker, who admires his friend's courage. "He just wants to play," Becker says.

Despite his problems, Cowan soldiers on. No way will he be, as he puts it, "lying there going, 'Oy, vey'." In fact, he is hoping to attend the 2001 Fall NABC in Las Vegas.

"There's nothing better," Cowan says, "than being at a craps table at midnight with bridge players all around you." \Box

ACBL Online Deal: May I show you my winkle?

By Marc Smith

Vince Oddy is probably best known in the bridge world as the man behind Canada's biggest online supplier of bridge books, so it is a fair assumption that he has seen his share of neat plays and clever hands.

When he approached me at the end of Sunday's first session of the Life Master Pairs final with the question, "Can I show you my partner's winkle?" I figured this would be a deal worth seeing. Judge for yourself.

West opened with a diamond covered by the 10, queen and ace. How would you have played?

Declarer at the table in question was Mark Arbour from nearby Scarborough ON.

His first move was a low spade toward dummy. Good news – West hopped in with the queen and played a second diamond. More good news came when declarer then led a heart to the king and followed with a club to dummy's 10.

Now Arbour set about cashing some winners – first the two minor-suit kings and then three spade tricks. West had to pitch his long diamonds to retain the club guard, so these cards now remained:

Arbour could have cashed the club ace for 10 tricks and a fair matchpoint result. He spotted a much better option, though -- he exited with the ♥7. West played the queen perforce, and what could East do?

If he overtook, he would then have to surrender a trick to dummy's ♥J. He therefore allowed his partner's ♥Q to win, and thus West was left to lead away from his ♣Q at Trick 12. Eleven tricks for declarer: plus 660 and a very good matchpoint result for the Canadians.

World Computer Championship

The ACBL's fifth annual World Computer Bridge Championship starts today and continues through Saturday, when the final will take place. Six programs from six different countries are scheduled to compete.

The format will be a double round-robin coming down to two finalists. Matches will be played in the Saskatchewan Room on the mezzanine level at the Royal York Hotel.

This year's sponsor, FunBridge.com, is a French and Canadian software company specializing in innovative and entertaining online bridge activities. They can be found online at www.funbridge.com and www.goto.co.uk.

Last year's championship was played in Maastricht, the Netherlands, in conjunction with the World Bridge Federation's World Bridge Team Championships. For a history of this event event see www.members.aol.com/allevy/Maastricht.

Last year's champion, Meadowlark, has withdrawn from this year's competition, citing programming difficulties. The contestants are Blue Chip Bridge from the UK, Bridge Baron from the U.S., Micro Bridge from Japan, Q-Plus Bridge from Germany, WBridge5 from France and Jack from the Netherlands.

An exhibition pitting three top human teams against computer opponents will take place later in the week. Times and participants will be announced later, but Zia has said he wants in.

To draw attention to the 2002 Summer NABC in Washington DC, bridge officials from the area got together at the Royal York Hotel wearing T-shirts promoting the tournament. They posed with an Uncle Sam replica. They are, from left, Nadine Wood, who represents District 6 on the ACBL Board of Directors; Ron Spieker, finance chairman for the Summer NABC; Margot Hennings, tournament chairman; Charity Sack, marketing chairman; Bruce Culmer, president of the Northern Virginia Bridge Association, and Barbara Doran, president of the Washington Bridge League. T-shirts are available from Hennings, who urges all those who have purchased them to wear them this coming Thursday at the Toronto NABC.

average-aggressive style," Weinstein said, "with a lot of treatments."

Levin, who had been in Florida for several years, returned to New York a year ago last May to trade on the American Stock Exchange. Weinstein is also involved in the stock market.

Levin is now a three-time winner of the LM Pairs. He won with Richard Katz in 1989 and with Jeff Wolfson in 1994. Weinstein won 20 years ago with Fred Stewart. □

Showing goodwill

Today is Goodwill Day, so it is appropriate to report two events illustrating how it's done.

Evan and Jared Markowitz were impressed with the calm demeanor of their opponents after a disaster during their knockout match. Gary Robertson and Lee Easterbrook had a bidding accident and ended up in 2♦ redoubled, down 1600, when they were cold for a slam in clubs.

In another knockout match, the Educational Foundation KO, the team captained by John Moschella made it to the final but could not complete the morning session if the starting time was the usual 9 a.m. Their opponents - Burrell and Joy Humphreys, Eli and Cynthia Schneider and Ryan Humphreys – could have won the event by forfeit, but they graciously agreed to start the match at 7:30 a.m. The Moschella team won but the Humphreys squad earned the admiration of the directing staff.

Educational Foundation OKs seed money plan

The Educational Foundation has given many grants over the years for very diverse and important projects. At its meeting on Saturday, the Board approved a grant for what it believes represents the future of bridge. The Foundation is providing the seed money for an ambitious after-school program that its members envision will have young people everywhere playing bridge in the very near future.

The Foundation, which has always strongly supported Junior programs, continued this effort. The Board approved grants for the 2002 National College Team Championship and will subsidize all Zone 2 (North America) ACBL members who attend the Junior Camp in Washington DC next summer. The cost of the camp is anticipated to be $425 per camper. Each Junior member who attends will get a $200 subsidy.

The Foundation will continue to support worthwhile education projects for all levels and needs. The continued financial by the ACBL membership via the $2 checkoff on the membership dues form is a major source of funds. The Foundation hopes all members will continue to participate in this way and in every other way possible.

Shuttle schedule

The ACBL Shuttle Service will be available throughout this tournament. The daily schedule:

Beginning at 8:35 a.m., the shuttle departs the Royal York Hotel (York Street entrance) at :05 and :35 past the hour.

Beginning at 8:45 a.m., the shuttle departs the Holiday Inn on King (Widmer Street side) at :15 and :45 past the hour.

The shuttle arrives at the South (Bremner Boulevard) entrance of the Metro Toronto Convention Centre at :25 and :55 past the hour.

The shuttle departs from the MTCC at the hour and half-hour until 1 a.m.

An additional stop has been added to take care of those players who are staying at the Renaissance. The bus cannot pull into the driveway, but throughout the rest of the tournament the shuttle will stop on the Widmer St. side of the hotel at :20 and :50 past the hour. The first stop is at 8:50 a.m.

Remember, the shuttle runs every 15 minutes between 11 a.m. and 1 p.m.

Correction

Susan Kramer and Nancy Molesworth, who finished fifth overall in the Flight A/X Pairs on Saturday, are from White Plains NY and Croton-on-Hudson NY respectively, not as reported in yesterday's Daily Bulletin.
