Genial Lampert busy with cartooning, bridge

It has been more than 70 years since Harry Lampert decided on his first career – and a quarter century since he embarked on his third. At age 84, he has slowed down a bit, but not completely.

After careers as a cartoonist, ad agency owner, bridge teacher and author, Lampert still is involved in three of the four activities – teaching bridge, drawing and writing books.

"It's good to stay busy," says the soft-spoken Lampert, who looks and acts like everyone's favorite uncle. He was among the participants this week in the Summer NABC in Toronto, enjoying an opportunity to play and socialize.

Lampert, who grew up in New York City, lived his early years in Harlem. One day when Lampert was 11, his older brother, Bernard, brought home a yearbook and newsletter from the high school he at-

Wei-Sender, Canadians in Wagar KO Final

The team captained by Kathie Wei-Sender, down 28 IMPs with a quarter to go in the Wagar Women's Knockout teams, roared back in the fourth quarter for a dramatic 151-136 victory.

The win sends Wei-Sender into the final against Canada's Venice Cup representatives.

The Canadian women, with Ralph Cohen as nonplaying captain, took care of the Lynn Baker squad, 163-130.

Today's championship round pits Wei-Sender (Betty Ann Kennedy, Tobi Sokolow, Janice Seamon-Molson, Juanita Chambers, Jill Levin) against Cohen (Dianna Gordon, Katie Thorpe, Sharyn Reus, Francine Cimon, Martine Lacroix, Ina Demme).

Wei-Sender, the defending champions, fell behind 51-17 after one quarter and found themselves trailing 90-33 at the half. They came back in the

Form prevails in Spingold

Form prevailed for the most part in the Spingold Knockout Teams Thursday as the event enters the round of eight today. The matchups, by team captain, are #1 Brigitte Mavromichalis versus #8 Jack Coleman, #2 Nick Nickell versus #7 Richard Schwartz, #3 George Jacobs versus #6 Gerald Sosler and #4 Mike Moss versus #5 Mark Gordon.

The defending champions, led by Rose Meltzer, were knocked out on Tuesday, the second day of the event. Three other high seeds have since been kayoed. The Spingold concludes Sunday and can be seen on vugraph in the Ballroom on the convention level of the Royal York Hotel.

Bridge is No. 1 for four LA youngsters

Four Los Angeles youngsters, all just 11 years old, enjoy playing all kinds of sports together, but there's no question which is their favorite – BRIDGE. They go the Friday night game at the Barrington Bridge Club in Santa Monica every week, and they play at home and at school as well. Three of them came to Toronto to try their luck in high-class competition.

Jeremy Koegel has been playing bridge the longest – since he was 6. His uncle, Bob Bell, taught him, and Jeremy was playing with Bell yesterday in Strat A of the Stratified Pairs (they earned section awards).

After Jeremy learned to play, he wanted some action. He got his three best friends together and told them "I'm going to teach you how to play bridge." He actually was the teacher for Bill Wasson and Matthew West (he's the one who didn't make it to Toronto), but Evan Willenson already had learned something about the game from his grandmother, Janella McCance of Whittier CA.

They don't play mama-papa bridge – they play a card loaded with agreements and conventions. They play five-card majors, 15-17 notrump, weak two-bids, forcing  $2\clubsuit$  with  $2\Psi$  as the negative response, negative

Wolpert, Czyzowicz lead IMP qualifiers

Darren Wolpert of Thornhill ON and Jurek Czyzowicz of Aylmer ON compiled the biggest score in the history of North American bridge yesterday, thanks to the new way of scoring the NABC IMP Pairs. Wolpert and Czyzowicz will lead 204 qualifiers into today's twosession final. Their score was 25,968.13, which was 51 IMPs better than runners-up Russ Ekeblad of Providence and Michael Seamon of Miami Beach. There was a big drop after that – 22,384.76 for Michael Shuman of Pasadena and Lowell Andrews of Huntington Beach CA In the new scoring method, every pair is IMPed against every other pair playing in the same direction, with a maximum swing of 17 IMPs per comparison.

The Toronto NABC racked up an unexpected 1670 tables Thursday and seems to be a favorite to top 16,000 total. The 2001 Summer NABC certainly will be in the all-time top 10 of ACBL tournaments.

When all is said and done, Toronto will almost surely have four of the top 10 ACBL tournaments all time. Best was 1986 (21,075 tables), followed by 1978 (18,408) and 1992 (16,680). This year's version stands a good chance of being ninth-best all-time.

$10,000 scholarship

A special event for Juniors at the Houston NABC next March will offer a superb prize – a 10,000 scholarship to be divided between the winning partners. The event will be a two-session regionally-rated game. It will take place on Junior Day, March 9. Conditions will be announced later.

Toronto-area players take National 199er Pairs title

Two first cousins from the Toronto area put together two solid sessions to win the largest-ever National 199er Pairs. The winners are Bernie Mayer and David Cohen, Thornhill ON residents whose mothers are identical twins.

Second place went to another Toronto-area pair, Jim Betts of Mississauga and Ross Holden of Etobicoke.

Cohen, who owns a computer company, also sponsors a bridge game at the local Doubles Bridge Club. Mayer is a mortgage broker in a family business.

They don't play together often – only about 10 times in the past four years – and they don't travel to tournaments, sticking mostly to the Toronto area.

Says Mayer: "We enjoy bridge but we have other commitments."

Before Thursday, the largest National 199er game was 26 tables. This year's edition attracted 176 players – 44 tables.

Losing 3398 IMPs on just one board

With the new method of scoring the NABC IMP Pairs, the directors warned that there could be very big swings. Dave Treadwell and his partner proved this to be true – they set a record that may take some beating. They suffered a 3398-IMP loss on one board when they took a 1700-point bath.

Rueful, as in Rabbit

It was almost like a playback of Victor Mollo's Rueful Rabbit as Sherry Metcalf and Howard Piltch played this deal in the Saturday pairs game. She misheard – I mean misread – the bidding, but serendipity came to the rescue, just as it always did for the Rueful one.

John Sutherlin opened an off-shape 1NT as South on this deal from the second final of the Life Master Pairs. East doubled in passout seat, intending it as takeout but accepted as penalty by partner because it was in the passout seat. This rode around to Richard Coren who redoubled for SOS. But Sutherlin thought it was a real redouble, again because it was done in the passout

Deal of the Day: A style of her own

Kate McCallum is one of the game's true characters. Her style of bridge could not be described as "mainstream," particularly in the women's game, but no one would ever claim that she was a dull player to watch. If ever you get the chance to sit behind her for a session, don't miss it.

Today's deal from the Wager Women's Teams shows Kate in action, and afterwards she described her feelings at various stages of the deal. As the dealer with only the opponents vulnerable, her hand was:

- †76
- ♥ 3
- • J 10 9 6 4 2
- 4 Q 9 5 3

While most Americans would consider this an automatic pass and many Europeans would opine a weak two in diamonds, Kate has never been backward in coming forward, and for her this was a routine 3¢ opening bid.

You may think that the worst thing that could happen after such an opening bid is to find yourself playing 3♦ doubled, but things are almost as bad when the preempt is followed by three passes. Not surprisingly, the first thing partner puts down in dummy is a singleton diamond, followed by plenty of defensive values.

Not only does partner probably have enough to make sure that the opponents cannot make  $4\Psi$ , but you can make  $5\Phi$  with a favorable lie of the trump suit. For sure, you can make a club partial and you are surely going down in  $3\Phi$ .

Things do not improve when the defenders start with two rounds of hearts, tapping you immediately. You can hardly afford to start trumps – the best chance seems to be to cash spades and hope RHO ruffs high in front of you on the fourth round.

That doesn't happen, but things do improve slightly when LHO ruffs the third round of spades – that's good as the opponents have only two spade losers in a high heart contract. More good news is right around the corner – West now leads a club and you finesse. Are you not delighted when East ruffs this?!!!

This turns out to be the full hand:

thought Piltch had opened one of a major and the 2NT bid was an overcall showing the minors.. She sure was surprised when she found out what the auction really was.

East started with the  $\bigstar K$  to the ace, and Piltch ruffed to hand with a club. He finessed the  $\bigstar J$  successfully and ruffed another club. He took another diamond finesse, cashed the trump ace and then took the  $\bigstar A$ , happy to see both opponents following. He led the 13th diamond from dummy and pitched a spade to rack up plus 590, losing only a spade and two trumps.

Computer championship

The final of the FunBridge.com World Computer Bridge Championship will start today at 10 a.m. in the Saskatchewan Room on the mezzanine level of the Royal York Hotel. Kibitzers are welcome. The 64-board final will pit Jack (The Netherlands) against Micro Bridge (Japan), with Jack having a 12-IMP carryover from the round-robin.

During Friday and Saturday the top two computers will play short matches against three top human teams, with a cash prize to the humans that beat the computers by the most IMPs. seat.

West led a low club – fourth from his longest and strongest – and Coren had a few words to say about SOS redoubles as he spread the dummy. Sutherlin waited and listened quietly, then equally quietly won with his  $\clubsuit Q$ . "No overtricks," he said. "I'm just claiming my contract." That was plus 760.

Coren's feelings of impending disaster could easily have been fulfilled, of course. If West had led a high club, the defense would have taken five clubs, four hearts and two spades – down five redoubled for minus 2800!

3 duly drifted three down: NS minus 150.

At the other table, Kate's Dutch teammates, Bep Vriend and Marijke van der Pas, had no trouble reaching  $4 \forall$  after their South passed as dealer. A  $2 \blacklozenge$  opening also would have given West an easy way into the auction, with similar results.

No doubt the players at the second table thought little of this deal, mentally registering it as a dull flat game. Chalk up yet another 10-IMP swing for the "Crazy Woman from New Hampshire."

Sunday Swiss Teams

There will be two Stratified Open Swiss Teams on Sunday. Only one was listed in the tournament program – the game that will start at 10 a.m. and be a seven-match playthrough. The other Swiss will start at noon and will consist of eight matches with a break after the fourth match.

Bali - the World Transnational Open Teams

By Mark Horton

The next World Transnational Open Teams will be held in Bali. The Transnational Teams Championship gives all players the perfect opportunity to enjoy all the atmosphere and excitement of a great world championship while at the same time playing in an excellent bridge tournament. Transnational event means that you may play with a partner or teammates of other nationalities.

In Bermuda, both teams that reached the final were transnational and they contested many fascinating deals.

With an eye to the vulnerability, (sometimes called "Vulnerability Syndrome") South made a pre-emptive raise. When East doubled again West was not tempted to try for game. With an awkward lead East instructively selected the *A, the suit in which someone was most likely to hold a singleton and consequently establishing the king would be of less significance.

Seeing dummy it was easy enough to switch to the A, followed by the Q. Declarer could discard a diamond on the K, but still had to lose three tricks in the red suits for minus 300 and a loss of 9 IMPs.

It was another major difference in evaluation that gave the eventual winners another big swing:

but it worked like a charm as West discovered his partner was minimum with no four-card major. However, saw things through to reach a game that proved easy to make after a low heart lead. Plus 620 was worth 14 IMPs.

Of course, many of the participants from the Bermuda Bowl and Venice Cup will participate after the round-robin stage, giving everyone a unique opportunity to play against some of the top players in the world, something that rarely happens in any sport.

In order to enter the event, you will need to contact your national Bridge Organization so that they can officially put your name forward to the World Bridge Federation for entry. A list of people seeking partners or teammates will be available on www.ecatsbridge.com - follow the links through the Championships section - and although it cannot be guaranteed that you will find anyone suitable, at least you can be put you in touch with other people also looking for partners/teammates.

Please email wbf@ecats.co.uk if you want to be included on this list.

Bali is an enchanting island, with wonderful scenery. It is famous for its dance, carving and music. It is known as the "Island of the Gods." The Balinese believe that the Gods always spread their wings of affection to assure peacefulness to anyone who stays or visit there.

The Indonesia Archipelago covers approximately the same area as mainland Europe, and has more than 13,000 islands of which some 6000 are inhabited. That's why Bali remains safe and unscathed during the political changes in Indonesia.

The Lippo Bank World Transnational Open Teams will take place during the second week of the championships, starting on Sunday, Oct. 28.

The schedule of play will be as follows: Sunday: three matches, starting in the afternoon.

Monday: four matches.

Tuesday: four matches.

Wednesday: four matches.

Thursday: semifinal and first session of the final. IMP Pairs for participants who wish to continue to play bridge.

Friday: Final and Victory Banquet.

It is intended that, in the semifinal and final, participants in the World Transnational Open Teams will play the same boards as those played in the Bermuda Bowl.

The team captained by Bruce Ferguson had a great match against a great team, finally losing by only 10 after leading for three quarters. Here is what Ferguson had to say about his opponents after the match.

"The most pleasure I get from bridge is playing against the best. Even when you lose (again) to Meckstroth-Rodwell-Hamman-Soloway, you have the greatest experience in card play. You're playing against people with a sense of humor and who show themselves to be true gentlemen – the type of people our game deserves.

(1) Announced; good 14-17 HCP

(2) Alerted; denies a major, shows a club stopper

The Facts:  $3 \neq$  made three, +110 for N/S. The opening lead was the A. The Director was called at the end of the auction and before the opening lead. South thought that  $2 \neq$  showed diamonds, not a club stopper. The Director ruled that there was no connection between the explanation and the subsequent  $3 \neq$  bid; pass was not a LA (Law 16). The table result was allowed to stand.

The Appeal: E/W appealed the Director's ruling. E/W believed South had received UI from the Alert procedure. Even though South believed he showed diamonds by bidding 2, his partner's Alert and explanation indicated that North did not know about South's diamond suit. The attraction of bidding 3 was much greater when partner had no knowledge of South's suit than if South believed 2 already showed diamond length and North knew about it. While E/W conceded that bidding 3 was attractive in any case, they thought it became even more so when partner was unaware of the suit. N/S conceded they had a disagreement as to the meaning of 2.

The Committee Decision: The Committee believed that the UI changed a 95% bid to a 100% bid, but that bidding 3 + was sufficiently automatic that it should be allowed in any case. The Committee allowed the table result to stand. Dissenting Opinion (Henry Bethe, David Berkowitz): We would like to be at the table where it went "Alert, 2♦ shows diamonds, wanting to compete." This was the 2♦ bidder's intent. Would the 3♦ bid be so easy then? N/S had stated that with 5-5-1-2 and 0 HCP they would bid Stayman. It seems to us that the additional chance that North has three or more diamonds and doesn't know about South's diamonds makes 3 more attractive. We would assign the offending side -110 in a 3 contract by E/W. We think, based on Law 12C2, that the most favorable result that was likely for the non-offending side was -110 in 3.

The Facts: 5  $\clubsuit$  went down two, +200 for N/S. The opening lead was the  $\P$ 8. The Director was called at the end of play. The Director determined there had been a mistaken explanation and that the N/S agreement was that 2NT showed two non-touching suits. The Director ruled that the 5  $\clubsuit$  bid broke the connection between the MI and damage (Law 40C, 21B). The table result was allowed to stand.

The Appeal: E/W appealed the Director's ruling and were the only players to attend the hearing. On the information given at the table, West had reason to believe that his partner would be short in hearts and therefore his high-card strength would be useful. West also believed that his defensive values were sub-par for a 2* opener against a red two-suiter on his left.

The Committee Decision: The Committee decided that the 5+ bid was directly connected to the misexplanation. The misexplanation and subsequent auction created a clearly erroneous picture for West and he based his bid on that. The Committee discussed probable results if West had suddenly been told over  $4 \lor$  that North had either the pointed suits or the rounded suits and decided there were too many possibilities. After deciding to award Average Plus to E/W, it was also decided that +500 defending 4+ doubled was the best result they could have achieved on the board. Therefore, E/W were assigned Average Plus or +500, whichever was worse. N/S were assigned Average Minus or -500, whichever was better.

Children's program a major success

The youngsters enrolled in the children's program here have been having a wonderful time. Fourteen of them went to the Toronto Zoo last Sunday, and nine visited the Children's Own Museum yesterday. A trip to the Science Center has been set up for Friday where the youngsters can get some hands-on science experience. On Saturday they'll be going for an outing on Toronto Island. Altogether about 30 youngsters have taken part in the program supervised by Donna Compton. The children range in age from three months to 10 years. They've done a lot of swimming, and they've been playing games, dressing up, watching puppet shows, fingerpainting, and doing other art work. The Montebello Room, their headquarters, was all decorated for the big pizza party they had yesterday. Donna is assisted by Deborah Marsh, Reena Ruparelia, Ginny Niezen and Ashley and Amy Kissinger.

Time to sign up for Zone 2 Senior Trials

The Zone 2 Senior Team Trials will take place in St. Louis beginning Tuesday, August 14 and ending either Friday, August 17, or Saturday, August 18, depending on the size of the entry.

The Trials will be conducted concurrent with the St. Louis Regional starting Monday evening, August 13, at the Renaissance Hotel. Call 888-340-2595 to make room reservations and do not wait until the last minute! Be sure and mention the "St. Louis Regional Bridge Tournament" to get the special bridge rate.

Teams may be transnational within Zone 2 (USA, Canada, Bermuda and Mexico).

The entry fee will be $85 per team per session which includes a $25 surcharge going to the U.S. International Fund to be used for Senior Trial subsidies if any. (The $2,500 entry fee in Bali will be paid from the International Fund).

Teams must submit entry applications no later than August 1 (late entries may be accepted up to midnight Monday, August 13, if they do not interfere with the conduct of the event) to ACBL Headquarters by E-mail to rena.hetzer@acbl.org, by phone 901-332-5586, ext 307, or by mail to Rena Hetzer, 2990 Airways Blvd, Memphis TN 38116. Applications should include the names and ACBL numbers of all team members, their E-mail address, the designated captain and the captain's phone and fax number as well as his/her E-mail address.

For further information on Indonesia go to the site for the Bermuda Bowl, Venice Cup and Transnational Open Team Championships as well as the Senior Championship. Also visit the ACBL web site where complete Conditions of Contest will soon be posted or request the conditions of contest be mailed to you by using the contacts listed in the previous paragraph.

Life Master Pairs Final corrections

Late score corrections changed the final standings of the Life Master Pairs. The top seven leaders stayed the same. The adjustments began with eighth place.

Eric Greco and Mike Passell moved up from ninth to eighth, supplanting Samuel Cohen and James Griffin, who were ninth. Stephen Brown and Pierre Daigneault climbed from 15th to 14th, moving ahead of Jim Barrow and Michael Polowan.

The second biggest gain was made by Sangarapil Mohan and Claude Vogel, who moved from  $27^{\text{th}}$  to  $22^{\text{nd}}$ . Pairs who originally were listed as  $22^{\text{nd}}$  to  $26^{\text{th}}$  each dropped one position.

James Czyzowicz and Darren Wolpert took over 34th place from Peter Stromberg and Frederic Nystrom. Doug Doub and Debbie Rosenberg advanced to 34th from 38th, with the otheer affected pairs dropping down one place.

The biggest advance was made by Carl Chadwick and Abe Paul who moved up to 51st from 59th. Once again all other pairs involved dropped down one position.

Free Bingo

Free Bingo will be the feature tonight following the evening session. The games will be held in Room 801 at the Convention Centre. Great prizes. Everyone is welcome.

Red Ribbon Pairs Final correction

As a result of late corrections, the final standings of the Red Ribbon Pairs have been revised. There were no changes in the first 12 places, but James Rasmussen and Pamela Miller of Cambridge MA moved up from 19th to 13th. Roberta Magnus of Brooklyn NY and Walter Schenker of Pine Brook NJ dropped from 13th to 15th, and the pairs that originally were 15th to 18th each dropped one place.

One other correction moved Mike Cotterman of Barnesville OH and Kenneth Rexford of Cleveland from 48th place to 46th. The pairs who were originally 46th and 47th each dropped down one place.

Lampert

tended. Both were full of cartoons.

Young Lampert was smitten. "I fell in love with it and decided then to be a cartoonist."

Working at it every spare moment, Lampert was a 16-year-old in the summer of 1933 when he stayed up all night working on some samples that he would take to a job interview the next day at Fleischer Studios. He got the job as a colorer for $12 a week.

Lampert worked for Fleischer Studios for five years but quit when the operation moved to Florida.

At that point, he started doing freelance work for All American Comics, which later became DC Comics, which published Superman and a variety of other titles. One of them was The Flash, about an ordinary guy who becomes the world's fastest being after having chemicals spilled on him.

The idea for The Flash originated with a writer, Gardner Fox. Lampert did the original Flash drawings. He also did another feature called the King Master of the Skies, but it never achieved the fame of the Flash, which was one of the DC Comics staples for years.

Lampert's career in comics was put on hold when he was drafted into the U.S. Army in 1942. Even in the Army, however, his drawing skills were put to use – in morale-building publications but also in more mundane jobs such as electrical diagrams.

Lampert married Adele Birnbaum in October of 1942 – because of swift wartime promotions he was Sgt. Lampert by then – and while he was stationed at Drew Field near Tampa FL he sent samples of his work to magazines all over the country. For six months, there was nothing, and then there was a breakthrough. Soon the nation's magazine readers were enjoying Lampert's cartoons in such publications as The Saturday Evening Post and Collier's, among many others.

Once discharged and back in New York, Lampert taught cartooning at the School of Visual Arts, and in 1947 he started the Lampert Agency. By 1953, the demands of the ad agency had become so pressing that he had just about stopped doing cartoons.

In 1976, Lampert retired from the ad agency and started a new career – teaching bridge, which allowed him to resume some drawing to illustrate his lessons and flip charts.

One thing he did before taking up teaching in earnest was to earn his gold card. "I couldn't be a teacher without being a Life Master" he says.

Lampert published his first book, The Fun Way to Serious Bridge, complete with illustrations, in 1978. Sales have been steady since and the book is approaching 250,000. The Fun Way to Advanced Bridge was next, published in 1985 and earning Book of the Year honors from the American Bridge Teachers Association.

The book Lampert is working on now -- about declarer play -- does not have a title at present, but it does have a subtitle: "Bidding sets the pace, play of the hand wins the race."

Lampert's connection to The Flash is in the distant past, but seven years ago he began collecting royalties from DC Comics. He traveled to San Diego to attend the 1994 Summer NABC there but also to address a group at a cartoonists' convention. While Lampert was there a representative of DC Comics introduced himself and asked for Lampert's Social Security account number. He has been receiving royalty checks ever since.

These days, Lampert divides his time between Deerfield Beach FL and Lenox MA. While in Massachusetts, Lampert runs a couple of bridge games at the development where he lives – and he serves as an usher for the Boston Symphony Orchestra's 12 summer performances.

Although he isn't working full time at anything, Lampert stays busy. "I'm still teaching, still playing and still drawing," he says. "Everything I've done has come from my cartoons."

Youngsters

doubles, Michaels, 2/1 forcing to game, fourth-suit forcing, etc.

Usually young kids who play bridge learned the game from their parents – but not these boys. "None of our parents play bridge," said Evan. "Oh, they know how to play – they know the rules – but they don't play."

But the boys sure do. "When we play at home, we switch around as partners," said Bill.

"And we take lessons at school, too," said Jeremy. "Annie Coren is our teacher, and she has helped us a lot."

Do they read a lot of books to learn more about the game? No. "Mrs. Coren told us we should read The Diamond Series by Audrey Grant, but that's the only bridge book we've read," said Jeremy.

Believe it or not, this is NOT the first NABC for Jeremy and Evan. "We heard about the big tournament in Anaheim last summer, so we went over and tried our luck for a few days," said Evan.

"We really enjoyed it," said Jeremy. "That's why we were so eager to come here." Jeremy got his first gold points here – a section top with his uncle in one of the Side Game Series worth 2.8 golds.

What do they do besides play bridge? All of them have good records in school, and they also enjoy basketball, baseball, football, soccer and tennis.

According to Bell, Jeremy's uncle, the youngsters have inspired a lot of their friends and schoolmates to try the game. "They're having a wonderful networking effect," he said.

Bull admires best Spingold field ever

For this year's Spingold Knockout Teams, the Bull splish-splashed over Niagara Falls into beautiful Canada and stumbled upon the best field in the history of the event.

The Nickell and Meltzer squads, fresh from qualifying as USA1 and USA2 in the USBC, joined 127 teams from all the major bridge-playing countries in the world. In particular, members of four of five European teams qualifying for the Bermuda Bowl are present, as well as top players from at least two other continents. The quality of the field did not prevent huge upsets in the early rounds as powerful #1 Meltzer, #4 Cayne, #5 Shugart, and #6 Robinson were eliminated in the rounds of 64 and 32.

In the Elite 8 of the 2001 Spingold:

Mavromichalis, originally the #32 seed, against Coleman. The British Hacketts, the Norwegian Aa-Groetheim, and the Swiss Lady Brigitte against afternoon Coleman-Compton, and the Vanderbilt champs featuring twice world champion Polish Balicki-Zmudzinski and the Red Hot Russians, Gromov-Petrunin.

Coleman is tired after the Eastern European championship against Rosenkranz in the round of 16, but at the end Balicki makes 1♦ redoubled with an overtrick on a complex squeeze in a 3-2 fit and Coleman wins by 4.

Nickell against Schwartz. Meckwell, HamWay, and Nick 'n' Dick are the defending Bermuda Bowl champs against USBF President Becker with new pard (Schwartz), Zia 'n' Michael, and David and Larry. Schwartz jumps out big to hold on at the end by 1.

Jacobs against Sosler. Versace-Lauria, Duboin-Bocci, the reigning world and recent European champion Italians with Katz-Jacobs against Sosler-Schulle with their Italian reigning Rosenblum champion cars, Buratti-Lanzarotti, as well as fellow Italians Sementa-Fantoni. In the evening, it looks like a championship in Rome. Jacobs finishes the afternoon up 9, but loses a stunner at the wire. In the upset of the day, Sosler moves into the semifinal by 2.

Rueful, as in Rabbit

It was almost like a playback of Victor Mollo's Rueful Rabbit as Sherry Metcalf and Howard Piltch played this deal in the Saturday pairs game. She misheard – I mean misread – the bidding, but serendipity came to the rescue, just as it always did for the Rueful one.

That double by Metcalf was intended as natural. She thought Piltch had opened one of a major and the 2NT bid was an overcall showing the minors.. She sure was surprised when she found out what the auction really was.

East started with the  $\bigstar K$  to the ace, and Piltch ruffed to hand with a club. He finessed the J successfully and ruffed another club. He took another diamond finesse, cashed the trump ace and then took the A, happy to see both opponents following. He led the 13th diamond from dummy and pitched a spade to rack up plus 590, losing only a spade and two trumps.

Vulture's perfect record makes the Bull see red

Those snorts of envy you heard echoing through the halls of the Royal York last night were emanating from none other than the Bull. That's because the Vulture is now five-for-five in predicting the results of the Wagar KO Teams in Anaheim and Toronto!

After two stanzas of yesterday's semis, Wei-Sender (Kathie Wei-Sender-Betty Ann Kennedy; Tobi Sokolow-Janice Seamon-Molson; Juanita Chambers-Jill Levin) had been left for dead by most observers. They trailed the ebridge team by 57. Indeed, the Vulture was circling low in anticipation of a tasty meal. But the "hyphenates" stormed back to pull the match out, just as the Vulture predicted.

In the other match, Cohen (npc) (Dianna Gordon-Sharyn Reus; Katie Thorpe-Ina Demme; Martine Lacroix-Francine Cimon) had a huge first quarter, and held on to beat Baker by 33. Kudos to the Canadian women, whose outstanding play this week has made their countrymen -- and countrywomen -- proud. Hail, Canada! The Vulture wishes this team good luck in Bali!

#1 Wei-Sender vs. #2 (originally #22) Cohen (npc): After yesterday's miraculous comeback, defending champion Wei-Sender has the momentum to win it all again this year. The Canadians will keep it close, but look for Wei-Sender to win by 3. See 'ya next summer in DC!

third quarter but still trailed. In the final set, Sokolow-Seamon-Molson and Chambers-Levin routed Meyers-Montin and Levitina-Sanborn, 68-25, to get to the final.

The Canadians, meanwhile, faced Baker and Karen McCallum, who were paired with two of the top players in the Netherlands – Bep Vriend and Marijke van der Pas. The Cohen team jumped out to a 61-3 lead after one quarter and never looked back, although their opponents did win each quarter after the first.

The Canadian women qualified to represent their country in the Venice Cup this fall in Bali, Indonesia.

New Life Masters

DAVID RUBINSTEIN of Cote St. Luc PQ placed in the overall in the Saturday evening side game, but he got more points for finishing first over the A, B and C strats in his section. That was enough for Life Masterhood. He came to Toronto needing 15.5 and he came through. His partner was Ghassan Menachi of Laval PQ.

Substitute gifts

The unexpectedly large attendance has exhausted the supply of registration bags. Six thousand bags seemed more than enough when Toronto 2001 started, but all 6000 have been given out. Tournament Chairman Penny Augustine has purchased a large batch of excellent convention
