Einberg is Mini-Spingold I champ

The team of Howard Einberg, Michael Mikyska (both of Los Angeles), Alan Meyerson (Sherman Oaks CA), Jim Glickman (Woodland Hills CA) and David Sokolow (Austin TX) dominated the final of the Mini-Spingold I (0–5000), winning the 64-board match 155-92.

They defeated the squad of Franklin Lowenthal (Pleasanton CA), Lynn and Dale Johannesen and John Hodges (all of Sunnyvale CA).

The Einberg squad was solid throughout the event, losing only two quarters in six days of play. Continued on page 2

Why do players seek pro partners?

Zeke Jabbour offered four reasons why clients seek pros in an article that appeared in an earlier

Daily Bulletin this week. That brings up the question, of course – why did Zeke's regular client, Michael Levine, decide to play with pros?

"I always had this fantasy," said Levine." I fantasized that if I could put in enough time I could become as good as the best. I couldn't do much about this fantasy while I was working full-time, but I suddenly had the time when I turned 48.

"I knew I couldn't improve as fast as I wanted to playing with partners of approximately my ability. I had to play with good partners. How do you get a really good partner? You hire a pro. The die was cast.

"In Michigan the two best pros were Chuck Burger and Zeke Jabbour. I got together with Zeke and we went to Bermuda. I was feeling very good there – we were getting big scores and we were winning knockout matches. My castles started to tumble, though, when Zeke told me I had made 18 mistakes in a 26-board session. I realized I needed some lessons."

Zeke proceeded to give him some tips that we ment is that you must belive in yourself."

all could use. Sit up straight. If you do something wrong, don't let the opponents know about it. Don't let a previous hand influence you in later play. "You have to look like a bridge player before you become one," Zeke told me.

Levine's work had begun. At first he looked for the easier regionals, but as the lessons began to make him more effective and more confident, he wanted to play more competitively. His partnership with Zeke got stronger and stronger, and they began winning even at the national level.

Of the eight senior national events they've entered, they've been victors in five. And they were second in the Senior World Championships in Albuquerque in 1994. He's going to try for the world championship again in the Senior Teams in Montreal next month. His team will have Allan Siebert, Arnie Fisher, Russ Arnold and Randy Pettit as well as Jabbour.

"I'm very glad I decided to take the pro route," said Levine. "Working with a pro gets you where you want to go much faster. Playing with a pro is way better than depending on the partnership desk."

He believes that chemistry has a lot to do with winning. "You have to play with partners and teammates who have personalities that you click with you. And of course the most important commandment is that you must believe in yourself."

They were second in the Mini-Spingold, 0–1500 Bracket: Allan Wolff, Russell Friedman, Maeve Mahon and John Segal.

Tips for New Duplicate Players

Susan Freeman, who teaches bridge at the Miami Valley Bridge Center in Dayton OH, prepared these tips for her players who are new to duplicate:

- Count cards face down before sorting to make sure all hands have 13 cards.
- Recount after sorting to make sure no card is hidden.
- Decide your bid before you touch the bid box so you don't give extra information.
- Place bidding cards sequentially on the table so all bids can be seen and reviewed.
- Bid in tempo to avoid giving information, which may result in partner being banned from further bidding.
- Ask about opponent's bids only when it is your turn to bid.
- Direct questions to bidder's partner.
- For first lead, place your card face down on the table and ask your partner if there are any ques- tions. This will avoid leading out of turn or being influenced by partner's question.

- Play each card in tempo to avoid giving extra information to your opponent or your partner.
- Call the director of the game if there is any question about any part of the game and let him or her make any decisions or rulings. The directors are there to help.
- Arrive early when playing with a new partner to decide partnership agreements and fill out a convention card.
- Be sure your convention card is complete, available and visible during the game.

It's certainly true

Barbara Shaw was fixing her coffee when she heard a woman tell her partner, "If the competition wasn't so tough and we played better, we'd do better."

Whose hand is it anyway?

Mason Davis and Andrea Hayman reported the following amusing deal from the second session of Friday's Fast Pairs.

(1) Club stopper?

(2) Yes.

With his solid eight-card suit Davis was unwilling to allow the opponents to declare a spade contract. The lengths to which he went to do this created a bizarre situation at the table. After reaching 3NT, the opponents persisted with 4♠. Not to be outdone, Davis bid 4NT. The opponents upped the ante by bidding 5♠ and Davis bid 5NT. Although neither side was entirely certain who was saving and who was bidding to make, East–West decided that they had heard enough so they doubled.

Since East–West are cold for 11 tricks in a spade contract (plus 450), Davis had already secured a good score for his side because the defense can only defeat the contract by two tricks (plus 300). What actually happened turned the good result into a top.

West began with the ♥A, and East played the 5. The ♥K was next (East played the 2). Since South had merely promised a club stopper in the auction, but not necessarily a heart stopper, West decided that East's echo in hearts was attitude. East, of course, thought she was merely giving count.

West continued with a third round of hearts and declarer, Hayman, spread her hand. 5NT doubled, making five, plus 670.

Transfer doubles?

John Potter was helping his daughter to learn bridge. He advised her to learn Jacoby Transfers and Negative Doubles so she could play in the 0-5 games. She got a book and studied. Then she went to her father and said, "This Jacoby Transfer stuff is ridiculous. Why should you have to go to three level when you have a weak minor?"

Her dad asked her how she'd handle it. "Easy. After my partner opens 1NT, I double, asking him to bid 2♣. Then I can pass or correct, depending on which minor I have."

"Great idea," said Potter. "The only problem is that there's a rule against doubling your partner."

"No there isn't. I've done it. When my partner opened 1♠ and I was short of spades, I doubled her, and she bid a different suit."

It seems the opponents didn't know any better, so they accepted the unusual double.

Running clubs – twice!

Declarer was playing in a notrump game, and she ran dummy's clubs, pitching losers from her hand. Then she crossed to her hand and ran five more clubs. Yes, it was in the 0-5 game. As declarer ran the second set of clubs, her partner said, "That club suit worked really well for you, didn't it?"

En route to victory in Wagar Knockouts

This is the hand referred to in yesterday's Daily Bulletin report on the Wagar Women's Knockout Teams final, won by the team captained by Cheri Bjerkan.

Board 61 ♠ 3 Dlr: North ♥ K J 5 2 Vul: Both ♦ J 4 ♣ AJ9852 ♠ AJ865 ♠ K 10 9 2 ♥ 8 7 ♥ Q 4 ♦ A 10 5 3 ♦ Q 9 6 2 ♣ K 7 ♣ 10 4 3 ♦ Q 7 4 ♥ A 10 9 6 3 ♦ K 8 7 ♣ Q 6 West North East South Palmer Deas 1♥ $1 \blacklozenge (1)$ Pass 1♠ 3♥ Pass 4♥ All Pass

(1) Less than a forcing club bid – upper limit 15 HCP. Does not necessarily show a diamond suit.

Lynn Deas had only 10 high-card points, but she always likes hands with 6-4 distributions. Beth Palmer responded in hearts, and Lynn showed her good fit by leaping to three, despite her lack of high cards. Of course Palmer bid the game.

With hearts breaking and with the $\clubsuit K$ onside, Palmer made her game with an overtrick, losing only the two aces.

This was the bidding at the other table:

West	North	East	South
	Pass	Pass	Pass
1♠	2♣	2♠	All Pass

West took exactly eight tricks for plus 110, which meant 13 IMPs to Bjerkan since Palmer scored 650 for making 5♥.

The Bjerkan team gained another 9 IMPs two boards earlier, again because of an opening bid.

Board 59 ▲ J 10 8 6 3 Dlr: South ♦9753 Vul: None ♣ 10 9 7 ♦ Q 9 7 5 4 ♠ A K 2 ¥ 6 ♥ A O 9 ♦ K 10 ♦ Q 8 4 ♣ A Q 8 3 2 ♣ J 6 5 4 ♥ KJ1087532 ♦ A J 6 2 ♣ K West North East South Palmer Deas 4♥ Pass Pass Pass

Palmer decided that the South hand called for a preemptive bid and opened 4Ψ . Everyone passed. She lost five tricks, but that obviously was a good save since East-West could make a spade game despite the atrocious spade split. Perhaps West should have come in with 4Φ , but that could have been very wrong on a different lie of the cards.

At the other table, it went this way:

2♥	Pass	4♠	5♥
Pass	Pass	Dbl	All Pass

Certainly opening this hand with a one-bid is reasonable. But it didn't work out well this time. West was able to use Michaels, so East-West easily found their spade fit. South wasn't willing to let the opponents play spades, so she went on to 5♥. This was doubled and beaten three tricks – 9 IMPs to Bjerkan.

In the third quarter, Deas and Palmer had a very complicated relay auction. Deas, through a series of asking bids, discovered that her side had all the necessary controls, so they got to a cold grand slam that was missed at the other table. This was the deal:

New Life Masters

Lynette Vander Schaaf and Fran McNaught both became Life Masters as partners in the Compact Knockouts, but they did a week apart. McNaught made the grade in the first Friday Compact KOs, and Vander Schaaf got her gold card in the second Friday Compact Teams.

Arvil Henderson and Shirley Glover of Fredericksburg VA both went over together when they won the Consolation of the Afternoon KO Teams. That was worth 2.99 – more than enough since Henderson needed 1.90 and Glover was only .19 short. Henderson was partnered by Paul Haselbush of Fredericksburg, and Glover's partner was Marilyn Henderson, also of Fredericksburg.

George North of Cherry Hill NJ made the grade when he reached the final of a bracketed knockout match yesterday. He's had a good week here, picking up about 20 points. He was partnered by Dilip Udeshi of Bensalem PA. His teammates were Fran Herman of Langhorne PA and Patricia Bassman of Maple Grove PA.

Katherine McCave of Annapolis MD earned her gold card in the Senior Pairs yesterday morning.

Jeff Rawlings of Santa Barbara CA made the grade in Friday's Stratified Open Pairs.

Katherine Cave of Annapolis MD went over the top in the Senior Pairs with Ron Woofter.

Players' kids enjoy a sleepover

If you happened to drop by Room 8209 last night, you would have seen 25 youngsters having a sleepover. The group consisted of some of the older youngsters who are in the tournament child care program. Altogether Donna Compton of Dallas and her crew have been taking care of 64 kids this week.

The kids were very excited about staying together all night long. They've already let it be known to their parents that they'd rather be with their friends than with them.

The youngsters have had a busy week – field trips galore. They've been to the Air and Space Museum, the Zoo, the Museum of Natural Science, the Children's Museum, the Washington Monument, the Lincoln Memorial, the Museum of American History and the Aquarium. They also play soccer and go swimming every day. And don't forget that pizza party Thursday evening. Life's a ball!

The children range in age from five months to 10 years. This is the 15th time there has been a child care program at an NABC. After she had children, Compton still wanted to play bridge, so she brought them to tournaments and hired baby sitters. Sometimes others joined in with her, and the child care program idea was born. During the recent Boston NABC, she asked the Board of Directors to make child care a part of the NABC program, and they approved the idea. The ACBL supplied a tour bus this week so the kids could do all their sightseeing.

It's reached the point where the kids are more excited about going to an NABC than their parents. Between tournaments the youngsters e-mail each other back and forth. Lots of parents agree that they wouldn't be able to come to NABCs if it weren't for the child care program.

The child center opens every day at noon and proceeds through an afternoon session, a dinner session, and evening session and an after-hours session that ends at 2 a.m. In other words, it's open 14 hours a day. Lots of the kids stay for the dinner session – they'd rather eat with their friends than their parents. "Sometimes the parents feel abandoned," laughed Compton.

Compton needs a good-sized staff to handle so many youngsters. Working with her are Debra Marsh. Dallas; Sky Cappelletti, New York City; Katie Stevens, Houston; Rhiannon Breed, Austin and Alison Rogers, Memphis.

In addition there are three junior sitters – they're too old for child care but too young to be senior sitters. They are Alison Cappelletti, Katie Klein and Alison Klein.

Hope you were quiet when you went by Room 8209 last night. There were 25 kids sleeping in there.

Quadruple squeeze

Mark Itabashi came by to offer two interesting hands with the same point. On the first, he and Kassie Munoz had a good auction to reach a grand slam. Now all that was left to do for Itabashi was to make it.

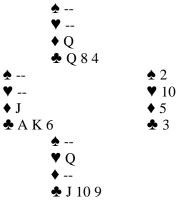

(3) King of diamonds.

A red-suit lead would have ended the hand quickly, but North made a lead that gave nothing away – the ♠J. Itabashi played three more rounds of spades to see what the opponents would sluff. South pitched the ♦9-2, playing upside-down signals, while North discarded the ♥7 and a low club. Itabashi then cashed his top cards in both red suits ending in dummy, noting that South had started with four diamonds. When he now led a spade, South had to throw a club and North, not knowing the position of the ♣J, threw his last heart. South might have made it easier for partner by sluffing the ♣J instead of a low club, but that would not have mattered in the end. This was the position:

When Itabashi led the last spade, South had to hold the $\P Q$, so he discarded a club perforce. Itabashi sluffed his $\P J$, leaving dummy's $\P J$ as the threat. North had no choice – he had to hold the $\P J$, so he pitched a club and hoped. That was all Itabashi needed – his club were good for the last three tricks.

A neat double squeeze. Later on he did it again – doesn't that make it a quadruple squeeze? This exhibit comes from the first qualifying session of the Fast Pairs.

Itabashi won the opening lead of the ♣6 with the 7 and went after spades, West winning the second round. He led a heart and Itabashi won with the queen. He cashed the ♥A, crossed to the ♣A and claimed. Why? On the run of the spades, West had to save his high heart to cover dummy's last heart, so he was forced to discard a diamond. East had to save the ♣K so was forced to discard a diamond. So Itabashi took the last three tricks with diamonds and scored up his game.

A happy ending

By Barry Rigal

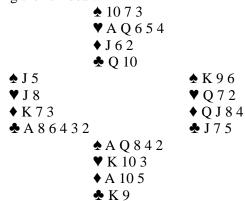

The winners of last night's Bracket A Knockouts (Beverly Perry, Ron Smith, Vincent Demuy and Gavin Wolpert) gave me a hand from their semifinal win against the top-seeded Russian-Polish team. (In the final, all they had to do was to take out Mark Lair's squad.)

The contract looks fine – except on a diamond lead, but that's what West led. Wolpert ducked the ◆J, then won the diamond continuation as West followed small. Wolpert led a low club to dummy's queen which won. Now the spade finesse held so Wolpert crossed his fingers and cashed the ♥A-K and the ♠A before exiting with a third diamond. Much to his surprise, his RHO was caught in an endplay, this being the full deal:

(Yes, West might have unblocked the ◆K at trick two and could still have recovered by taking the ◆A at his first turn – but you have to take advantage of your opponents' errors.)

Make 'em guess

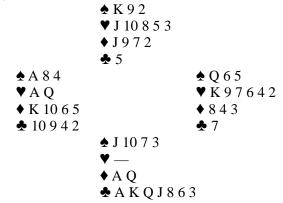

Disa Eythorsdottir found the killing lead on this deal from quarterfinal round of Wagar Women's Knockouts. She was playing with partner Rozanne Pollack against Jo Anna Casen and Barbara Wallace.

In second seat, Eythorsdottir held

♠A 8 4 ♥A Q ♠K 10 6 5 ♣10 9 3 2, and right-hand opponent, Wallace, opened 1♣. Eythorsdottir passed and LHO, Casen, responded 1♥. Pollack passed and RHO bid 3NT ending the auction.

What would you lead?

Although anything (except, probably, a club) could be right, Eythordottir led the ♥A to catch this layout:

When declarer showed out, Eythorsdottir continued with the $\P Q$ and then shifted to a low spade. Declarer (Wallace) had eight tricks on top and needed only to guess the spade layout to make the contract.

After a long study, Wallace finally elected to play low allowing East to win the trick with the queen. Pollack accurately switched to a diamond, dooming declarer.

3NT succeeded in the other room (played from the North side), making three.

Bidding ZT

You can actually bid "Zero Tolerance" at the Scottsdale Bridge Club in Arizona.

Yellow Zero Tolerance cards are in the bid boxes and they have had a positive influence on behavior, according to club owner Jan Bricklin.

Players are asked to flash a ZT card at an offending player (or players) when they feel intimidated or abused. If the bad manners continue, the offended players can call the director and get a ZT ruling.

"There are too many new players who are simply afraid to call the director when unruly behavior occurs," said Bricklin. "These cards can be very useful. I think they are a very good reminder."

Attention new LMs

Mari Retek, wife of ACBL President George Retek, invites all players who become Life Masters at this tournament to be her guest some evening in the President's Suite, Room 7340. The invitation includes all those who already have been recognized in the Daily Bulletin as well as those who become Life Masters later in the tournament.

In order to keep the bridge public informed of appeals results in a timely fashion, the NABC Daily Bulletin staff publishes write-ups. Every effort is made to ensure that these reports are accurate and complete. However, before they are published in the

The Facts: 3NT made four, +630 for E/W. The opening lead was a low heart. The director was called at the end of the auction. North said he would have bid 3♣ at his second turn (for a club lead) if he had known 1NT was forcing. East said his bid could be based on any hand type. The director allowed the table result to stand because North had the opportunity to bid 3♣ at his second turn and chose not to.

The Appeal: N/S appealed the director's ruling. Only North spoke with the reviewer. North said that, had he been properly informed of the meaning of 1NT, he would have raised to 3♣. Then, against 3NT, partner would have led clubs allowing N/S to hold the contract to nine tricks.

The Panel Decision: Five experts were polled. They were asked whether it would make any difference to them if 1NT were Announced or not. Two said they would always raise if not vulnerable. Three said they would make the same call regardless of whether or not 1NT was Announced as forcing. The panel believed that there was so little connection between the infraction and the damage as to render the appeal without merit. The table result was allowed to stand and N/S were assessed an Appeal Without Merit Warning.

pleted. West thought North looked surprised after the 2♥ bid. North admitted to having been surprised, but wasn't aware of whether it was noticeable. South was unresponsive when asked about his partner's actions. N/S claimed that their system required South to reopen. The director ruled that pass was a logical alternative for South and changed the contract to 2♥ down two, +100 for N/S. N/S were instructed to bring system notes to the hearing to reinforce their statement that their system required a reopening double.

The Appeal: N/S appealed the Director's ruling. N/S stated that they were very aggressive, balancing in either direct or balancing seat with hands that were short in the opponents' suit. Doubles were always for takeout and by agreement South did not need any points, merely heart shortness, to double.

North acknowledged the he had reacted to West's second bid. He said he had to look twice because if 2♦ had been bid he would have doubled for takeout. N/S said they are well-known in their area for their aggressive tactics at matchpoints. No system notes were provided. West said she noted the reaction when it happened and thought it likely that all had noticed it. East was uncertain that a reaction to the 2♥ bid had occurred.

The Panel Decision: The panel believed that North had reacted to the 2Ψ bid and that it was possible that it was noticed by South. Thus, there was unauthorized information. Since N/S could not produce system notes or otherwise confirm their alleged agreements, it was decided to poll experts to determine if pass by South was a logical alternative. Four experts were given the auction minus the extraneous information and all passed. They all agreed when told of the reaction by North that it would suggest action over inaction in the passout seat.

Pass was deemed to be a logical alternative and the contract was changed to 2♥ down two, +100 for N/S. Since N/S could not demonstrate to the panel's satisfaction that their agreements were as stated, their appeal was deemed to be without merit and an Appeal Without Merit Warning was assigned.

The Facts: 4♥ went down one, +100 for E/W. The opening lead was the ♦10 (Rusinow) to the king, followed by the ♣7 to the king, the ♣9 to the jack, and the ♣A ruffed high, promoting a trump trick for East. During the play of Board 32, South approached the director away from the table and said that East had asked about the 2♣ bid, specifically about the length of the suit.

(1) 2/1 Game Force

The director ruled that East's question made available to her partner unauthorized information that suggested his club switch at trick two. Under Law 16A West's play of a low club was a choice from among logical alternativess which benefitted his side. Therefore, the contract was changed to 4♥ made four, +620 for N/S.

The Appeal: E/W appealed the Director's ruling. At the end of the auction East asked if the 2♥ rebid showed six hearts and how many clubs the 2♠ bid promised. East was in the habit of asking more questions than most players. West said he tends to play fairly quickly and goes for the clearest route to a set on defense. A club shift could enable the defense to cash two or three club tricks before declarer obtained a discard, had declarer started with the doubleton ♠Q. No other play was attractive to him.

N/S believed that the question about the club suit suggested that East held a club honor, an impression that was reinforced by the speed with which West switched to a club.

The Committee Decision: A player is normally allowed to ask questions without compromising his side's options. The Committee was able to confirm that East is well known in her area for her tendency to ask questions about the opponents' bidding. Additionally, N/S's teammates had complained earlier in the match about the number of questions East asked when she played against them.

East's holding of ♠K-9-6 in front of the 2♠ bidder is not such that she would want to draw attention to her "strength" in the suit to partner and declarer. Her known habit of asking more questions than the average player further reinforced the non-informative nature of the question.

Thus, the committee decided that East's question about the club length shown by South's 2♣ bid did not convey unauthorized information to West. The table result of 4♥ down one, +100 for E/W, was allowed to stand.

Einberg, captain of the winning team, played every set

Team member Glickman dedicated the victory to his very good friend James "Buddy" Maughn, who is battling advanced stage colon cancer.

On this deal from the third day of the contest, Glickman and Einberg demonstrated their aggressive style:

Einberg and Glickman use a very light opening style. West led the ♥A and shifted to the ♠2: 3, 8, jack. Declarer advanced the ♣7 and West flew with the ace to play the ♥J, overtaken by East. A diamond shift was won by declarer who then played a club to the king, dropping East's queen. The ♣J was ruffed by East and overruffed by declarer, who then ruffed a heart in dummy. The ♣10 was ruffed and overruffed and another heart ruffed in dummy.

Glickman escaped for down one, minus 100, but gained 11 IMPs when his teammates were plus 630 in the other room (3NT making four).

Mahon gave up before commencing the third quarter of play.

This is a repeat victory for Hollow and Farag. They won the Mini-Spingold II in Toronto last year also. Teammates Lichtenstein and Tawil replaced four members of the original squad who did not play this year.

How do you bid a 10-card suit?

Peter Lynch of Marblehead MA had a problem on this deal from a board-a-match teams event. How do you bid a 10-card suit?

He finally decided to try 1, but when East made a takeout double, he decided to jump right to Blackwood. His partner, Marge Gallagher of Philadelphia, showed no aces, so of course he signed off in 5. He had to lose three aces, so he went down one, but that was an easy win on the board. This was the bidding at the other table:

West	North	East	South 5 ♦
Pass	Pass	Dbl	Pass
5♠	Pass	6♠	All Pass

An immediate preempt didn't keep East out of the bidding. She doubled, and when her partner took her double out to 5♠, she went to the slam. When she got the opening lead of the ♥10, she was able to execute a squeeze to bring home the slam. In the end position, North had to protect both hearts and clubs – and he couldn't.

I intended 3♥ as control-showing, but my partner took it as a real suit. When he bid 6♥ I decided that it couldn't be our best contract so I bid 7♣ to hold down the losses.

On the lead of the ♦K, I won the ace. The combination in the trump suit appears in Bill Root's How To Play a Bridge Hand, so I knew to lead the ♣Q toward dummy in case North had ♣K 10 6. In fact, the king fell, so I drew the last trump ending and took the heart finesse to bring home the contract. The moral of the story: when you get overboard, don't panic. Sometimes things work out fine. Plus 2140 was worth 12 out of 12 matchpoints.

The next deal comes from the Saturday afternoon pairs game.

(1) Forcing, see below.

(2) Control showing.

Playing with a pick-up partner in the afternoon side game, we reached 6♥ after what seemed a perfectly normal auction. It was when partner put down the dummy after the lead of the ♦8 that we discovered he had two diamonds mixed in with his hearts.

Reminding myself not to panic, I played the $\triangle A$ followed by the AQ. The AJ was covered and ruffed, and then the K revealed the good news in trumps. All that remained was to cross to dummy's AK and discard three losers on dummy's A10 9 7.

Just a routine 6♥ making seven for plus 1460 and 8 out of 8 matchpoints. It's better to be lucky than good!

Smoking restrictions

Players are advised that smoking is prohibited everywhere inside the Marriott Wardman Park except for the lobby level bar area. Players wishing to smoke must do so outside.

In the exhibition halls (downstairs), players may use the doors to the loading dock at the end of Exhibition Hall C. In the ballroom area (lobby level), players may use the doors to the parking area across from the tournament registration desk. (Smoking in the foyer beyond these doors is also prohibited.)

Penalties will be assessed for players smoking indoors.

The Bridge Trip

By Gary King

Gary King of Houston is a Silver Life Master who writes a column for 299er players in the Scoredcard, the District 16 publication.

Over the years I have spent time talking with quite literally hundreds, if not thousands, of students about bridge. I talk with prospective players who are considering beginning lessons and with rabid duplicate addicts who are consumed with the game.

What strikes me as most interesting is how many things are reflected in this game that we play and love so much. In numerous ways, this game is like other sports and even like life itself.

Several years ago I received a telephone call from a previous student. She and her partner had a dispute about a particular hand and called so that I could mediate.

We discussed the auction and the hand (she was a GOOD student because she had the auction and complete hand written out including all passes, vulnerability, dealer and every hand which remarkably had 13 cards).

After a few minutes of discussion she sighed and with a little frustration said, "Do you ever think I will get this game?"

get this game?"
How would you answer that question? Have you ever felt that way?

My answer was very straightforward. I replied,

"You are thinking about this game all wrong!"

There is no Utopia. There is no plateau at which you arrive and realize that you know everything that you need to know. There is no heavenly-like existence where you never make mistakes and can play with little or no effort.

You must realize -- and learn -- that the enjoyment of this game is the trip. Learn to enjoy your travels along the path to becoming an accomplished player. Enjoy the scenery, the people and the experience.

It is the trip that is the fun. Do not be like the vacationer who is in such a hurry to get to the final destination that he views the Grand Canyon from the car while passing by.

Stop and take in the enjoyment and pleasure that this game has to offer. Enjoy the game, enjoy the people, enjoy making good decisions, enjoy your wins and enjoy the wins of others.

Bridge is also an escape for many players. During a three-hour duplicate game all the stresses of life and everyday living can be forgotten. I have seen players with serious health problems able to take a break from concerns and play for a few hours. What a stress reliever.

I have seen people who are meek and mild-mannered in everyday life get to live somewhat vicariously at the bridge table playing aggressively and taking risks that they are not allowed to take in day-today life.

I am also fascinated as how much this game of bridge is similar to other sporting or competitive activities. For example, in many ways this game is like golf. Good golfers spend time doing two main things.

First: when they want to work on their skills, they drive to a practice range and spend an hour more working with one or two shots in an effort to hone their skills.

Second: when they go to a course and play 18 holes, they PLAY the game. The course is not the place to practice your skills. The course is the place to try to use the skills you have to the best of your ability.

These are two different activities, which relate to two different purposes and two different mind-sets.

Bridge should be approached much the same way. There is a time and place for you (or you and partner) to work on your game and try to develop and perfect skills. This is often alone with a book or across the table from one another with yellow pad and a No. 2 pencil.

There is also a time to play the game. This is usually at the bridge club or local tournament. This is where you should use the skills you have and focus on getting the best results possible.

If you recognize areas that need work (in your own game or in your partnership), make a brief note and discuss it later. During the play is generally not the time.

A few laughs

Just sit there?

When Ralph Hirshberg was reprimanded for giving hints to declarer as dummy, he was aghast. "What am I supposed to do when I'm dummy -- just sit there?"

"Like my floor directors!"

A player was telling a story about how a hand was bid. "He had ace-king fourth in spades and ace-king sixth in clubs and something -- well, his red cards didn't matter. He opens a club and it goes pass-pass-something and he bids a spade. It went two hearts and it went four spades or something. I don't remember the exact auction, but it went round and round and when it . . ."

At this point Harry Goldwater broke in to say, "You sound like one of my floor directors."

"Where are my cards?"

It happened at a sectional tournament in Seekonk MA. A furious thunderstorm was raking the area, and suddenly part of the hotel's roof gave way and the players were deluged. Fortunately it was a very large playing area, and everyone pitched in to move the tables and chairs and supplies into the dry part of the convention center. Moments later the storm was forgotten and everyone was playing bridge – except one table.

"I can't find my cards. I was in the middle of playing a hand and now I can't find my cards." A major search took place – no luck. Then one of the players started to laugh and pointed to the player's feet. There, tucked in his socks, were seven cards. That's where he put them when the deluge began.

At the very least, wait until the round is over and you have stepped away from the table.

Try to locate a mentor. A mentor should be a player with greater experience and one to which you have at least regular access (in person, by phone or email). Use the mentor not to teach you but to help you and partner work out the root cause of problems in your bidding and play. With the root cause identified, you can then work on those skills on your own.

Most players are willing to act as a mentor if approached the right way but you must also do your part. I have had players come to me and begin: "I had some spade and hearts, not sure how many of each, and I really do not remember the auction but I think someone bid diamonds. What should I lead?"

You have got to be kidding. Bring a hand with the auction clearly written out (which players were passed hands?), the vulnerability and the complete hand (S-H-D-C in order). Check to make sure you have all 13 cards. If you want good advice, bring a good setup.

If you think about this game for a minute, it is beautiful in its simplicity. The laws of the game do not dictate how you and partner communicate. At any given time, the methods you choose to use are totally up to you. You can use whatever tools you think are in your best interest. It is this flexibility of design that keeps a player continuously striving to improve. It is also this simplicity that keeps providing greater and greater enjoyment from the play.

In conclusion, my advice to the advancing player at any level is to spend time working on your game and working with partner. The rate at which you expend effort in this regard is up to you and the time you can devote. Also spend time playing the game and enjoying it.

Do not mix the two activities. Your results and attitude will improve. Let me hear from you.
