Fisher passes 15,000

Arnie Fisher, who passed the 15,000 mark in masterpoints at this tournament, learned to play bridge in Austria. He was a Fulbright Scholarship student at the University of Vienna in 1959, and he used to visit the local coffeehouses. Bridge was the big game at these gathering spots, and Fisher just naturally joined in. He remembers that he was playing with a Pole, an Italian and a Frenchman in his first game in Austria.

Kaplan leads NA Swiss

The team captained by Peggy Kaplan (Dick Bruno, Hideki Takano and Tadashi Teramoto) racked up 121 Victory Points (out of a possible 160) to lead 48 qualifiers into today's semi-final round of the William Keohane North American Swiss Teams.

One hundred six teams entered the six-session event which ends with Sunday's two-session final.

There is a two-way tie for second place. Jeff Schuett, Xiaodong Shi, Jiang Gu, Barry Harper, Brenda Jacobus and Cameron Doner have 114 VPs, as do Larry Mori, Ed Schulte, Joseph Godefrin and Kenji Miyakuni.

Only 2 VPs back are two teams tied at 112 VPs. They are Bruce Reeve, Michael Huston, Corinne Kirkham and Jim Kirkham — and James Marsh Sternberg, Allan Cokin, Linda Epstein, Dan Gerstman and Robert Lipsitz.

Defenders bounced from Reisinger

The defending champions in the Reisinger Board-a-Match Teams – the team that won the United States Bridge Championship last summer and won bronze in the Bermuda Bowl earlier this month – are no longer in the event.

The team – Steve Landen-Pratap Rajadhyaksha, Dan Morse-Bobby Wolff and Adam Wildavsky-Doug Doub – failed to make the first cut in the six-session event.

Forty-eight teams entered this year's Reisinger and the field has already been reduced to 20 teams. The leading qualifier is the team captained by George Jacobs (Ralph Katz, Alfredo Versace-Lorenzo Lauria and Norberto Bocchi-Giorgio Duboin). Their score is 33.50.

Only a half-board back at 33.00 is the team of Jo Morse-Haig Tchamitch and Stasha Cohen-JoAnna Stansby.

There is a two-way tie for third. Blair Seidler, Kevin Wilson, Seth Cohen and Richard Gertner have 31.00, as do Malcolm Brachman, Mike Passell, Eddie Wold, Eric Greco and Geoff Hampson.

There's also a two-way tie for fifth between an

Rosenberg ahead for Player of Year

Michael Rosenberg still is in first place in the Player of the Year race, but his margin has become very small. He has 688.18 platinum points so far this year. Close behind is Zia Mahmood with 684.82. Ralph Katz is third, but he is quite far behind the leaders with 630.76 platinums.

The Player of the Year race is based strictly on the number of points earned in North American championship events that do not have an upper masterpoint limit.

Zia climbed from fourth by collecting 186.33 points so far at this tournament. Rosenberg has only 77.72.so far in New Orleans.

Three of the top five at this tournament are not among the year-long leaders. In first place here is Jacek Pszczola of Poland with 203.94. Janice Seamon-Molson is third with 190.70 and Geir

Best Played Hand award to Helgemo

Geir Helgemo, who won the Blue Ribbon Pairs in partnership with Michael Seamon, was the winner of the Digital Fountain Award for Best Played Hand of the Year. He was honored by the International Bridge Press Association at their annual meeting in Monte Carlo. The author of the prize-winning article was Geir Olav Tislevoll of Norway.

The deal is classic Helgemo, another example of his superior ability to see through complex positions to the way home. Geir's ability to project the end position of the cards at the early point of the deal makes him appear to be a magician at the table.

Here is the winning article:

A Thing of Beauty By Geir Olav Tislevoll

This lovely piece of declarer play took place when Geir Helgemo and Jimmy Cayne were practicing on OKbidge. Since it did not occur in a big tournament, there was a danger that it would not come to light. To remedy that, here it is:

East-West were strong opponents and West found the best lead — a trump — which prevented declarer from ruffing a diamond for his 10th trick. Geir took the first trick with the ace over East's queen. If spades had been 4-3 there would not have been much to tell. In that case, declarer would have had no problems establishing the fifth spade.

The play would continue ace, king of spades, discarding a diamond. Then a spade is ruffed, and if both opponents follow to that trick, declarer plays three rounds of clubs. The defenders must then play two more rounds of trumps to deny declarer a club ruff, and he ends up in dummy with the ♥9. He would then ruff another spade and would get to the now good fifth spade with his ◆A.

But, luckily for all but East-West, East showed out on the third spade, discarding the $8. Geir ruffed and played the $J$ to East's king (East cannot profitably duck). East continued hearts to dummy's 9. On that trick, West had to find a discard, and he could not let a black card go without giving declarer an easy task. So West discarded his $K$, best defense. This was left:

Now came a strange but beautiful trick: the ◆2, jack, 7 and 10! If East now switches to a club, declarer plays low and West will be endplayed, forced to help declarer in spades or clubs. But East continued with a diamond to the ace. On that trick, West had to discard again. He could not give up a club, but since there was no more entry to the North hand he could afford to let a spade go, and so he did.

However, that only delayed the inevitable. Helgemo still had one joker left to play out: he ruffed a spade with his last trump, and that took away West's last spade as well. With four cards left both West and South held only clubs. North had a high spade and his three clubs. A low club toward dummy's 10 gave West no good option. Beautiful, yes?

Lynch had to cancel trip to New Orleans

Carolyn Lynch of Marblehead MA, who was non-playing captain of the victorious Senior Knockout team, originally planned to play on the team. However, her husband Peter's brother died and she had to cancel her plans to visit New Orleans. Clement Jackson was a last-minute addition to the team, and now he's a North American champion.

Discovery play – but in the bidding

John Solodar made a fine slam decision by "discovering" that his partner, Judith Weisman, did not hold the trump queen.

After learning that they were off one key card, Solodar asked about the trump queen. If partner had it, he planned to bid 6. When she said "no" to his question, he bid 6NT instead because he knew he could test the side suits before committing to the whereabouts of the $\int Q$.

Sure enough, after the lead of the ♥3 (third and fifth best), four rounds of clubs and four rounds of diamonds left the following three-card ending:

The hand counted out perfectly so the top spades dropped the queen for the slam. While it was fortuitous that the $10 fell, the slam always came down to finding a key queen holding nine pieces. It's always best to delay a two-way guess as long as possible.

USWBC set for May 2004

The United States Women's Bridge Championship to determine who will represent the U.S. in the next World Women's Olympiad Teams is scheduled for Raleigh NC over Memorial Day weekend (May 2004).

Check the USBF web site (www.usbc.org) or the ACBL web site (www.acbl.org) for the exact dates and conditions of contest. You can also determine what qualifying points your team has earned. If you haven't earned points, your team can still play.

The cycle for earning points (Fall 2002 and Spring, Summer and Fall 2003) has ended.

The championships will be held in conjunction with the Raleigh regional. The room rate is only $68 and the Mid-Atlantic Conference and Raleigh are famous for their hospitality.

The road to winning the LM Women's Pairs

Lynn Baker and Kerri Sanborn won the Life Master Women's Pairs earlier this week and they credit their victory to a little luck, combined with good card reading and partnership defense.

East led a low spade to West's king and a low diamond came back. Sanborn won her ace and led a low heart, won by East's 10. East returned the ♠J and Sanborn ruffed.

Now she considered her options in the heart suit. "I finally decided that my left-hand opponent wasn't doing all that bidding on just queens and jacks," she said.

Accordingly, Sanborn led another low heart and East's ace went on air. East led another spade and Sanborn ruffed. She cashed the ♥K, drawing the last trump, and crossed to dummy's &K. Now she led a low club and finessed with her $10. When that held, she claimed 10 tricks for plus 620 - and almost all the matchpoints.

Baker led the $6 and Sanborn played her 9, forcing declarer's queen. Declarer led a heart to dummy's king and returned a heart to her jack and Baker's queen.

Now Baker played "thoughtful defense, partnership defense," said Sanborn.

Baker cashed the ♠A and the ♠A before continuing with the $3. Sanborn won her $10 and, knowing there were no outside tricks available, continued with a club which promoted Baker's ♥10 to the setting trick. Plus 100 was worth most of the matchpoints.

It's time to make your plans for RENO!

Few and far between

By Barry Rigal

Looking for the bright spots when you've been eliminated from a qualifying event can be like the proverbial search for the needle in a haystack hence the title. The good boards were indeed few and far between.

Here are my teammates, JoAnna Stansby (North) and Sharon Osberg (South), at work.

I guess most players with the West cards settled for an invitation to game at their second turn. There is a case for not consulting partner since they will always misevaluate heart length or shortness.

Indeed, 5♦ does look very good, does it not? Well, read on.

Sharon led a third/fifth ♣3 and JoAnna won the ♣A. She knew declarer was likely to be 4-4 in the minors. South's failure to bid spades and the absence of a support double or any action over 3♦ made the 4-1-4-4 hand type the most likely. So JoAnna found the trump shift at trick two.

Declarer won in dummy to lead a heart – and JoAnna ducked. That let Sharon in to play a second trump.

Declarer now needed the club finesse and something favorable in the majors. With the \(\blacktriangle \)Q offside, there was no way home.

Logical reasoning

John Mohan had a tough decision to make on this deal, but he came up with the correct answer.

George Tornay leaped to the heart game - he didn't want to give any information to the opposition. Maybe he could induce a club lead. It worked - East led his singleton club. He won with dummy's 10 and led a trump. John Sutherlin climbed with the ace and led the $9 in tempo.

Mohan thought for a long time. Did the 9 mean Sutherlin's other entry was in spades?

Sutherlin had to have either the $\triangle A$ or the $\triangle K$. After considerable thought, Mohan decided to base his guess on the bidding. North had jumped to game, and Mohan already knew the defense had two aces. Would Tornay jump to game with only one ace? Not too likely. So Tornay was more likely to have the $\triangle A$ than the $\triangle K$.

Mohan underled his ◆A and was gratified when Sutherlin won with the king. Sutherlin of course led another club and Mohan ruffed for the setting trick.

Groner tops 10,000

Ed Groner of Houston, who started playing bridge with his parents when he was a teenager growing up in Oklahoma, has reached the 10,000masterpoint plateau.

He hasn't won a North American championship yet but he's had several top-10 finishes and especially remembers the 1997 Senior Swiss Teams in Albuquerque. "We lost that event by a fraction of a Victory Point."

Groner, a graduate of the University of Oklahoma, began playing duplicate in the early Fifties while living in Duncan OK (about 75 miles from Oklahoma City). He didn't play for about 15 years while his kids were growing up but he and his wife, Ellen, were regulars after that. Ellen died in

His regular partner these days is David Horner of Dallas and they're playing here at the New Orleans NABC. "Bridge has been good for me," said Groner. "I get a lot of enjoyment out of it. I wouldn't give up bridge for anything."

He is a longtime member of the National Goodwill Committee.

Taking all you can

Buddy Hanby and Sally Wheeler found a nice defense to defeat 4. three tricks on this deal from the second semi-final session of the Blue Ribbon Pairs.

- (1) E/W said range not Announced; N/S disagreed
- (2) Alerted; one-suiter
- (3) Notrump range asked, followed by a 10-15 second hesitation

The Facts: 4♥ made six, +480 for E/W. The opening lead was the $10. The Director was called at the time of the 4♥ bid and again at the end of play. Both pairs acknowledged that West's question was followed by a 10-15 second hesitation before she passed 3 . N/S did not believe that double was a call that most players would make with the East hand. East said she had the first three tricks and a likely ruff. West said she could never leave in the double with her weak hand and had been thinking that she regretted not having overcalled 3♥.

The Director ruled that there had been an unmistakable break in tempo. Law 16 does not allow a player to select from among logical alternatives one suggested by unauthorized information. Under Law 12, the most favorable result that was likely was 3♠ made four, +170 for N/S. Therefore, the contract was changed to 3 \(\text{m} \) made four, +170 for N/S.

The Appeal: E/W appealed the Director's ruling. West did not attend the hearing. East said she believed she had a good defensive hand and could beat 3. When the Committee asked why she hadn't acted over 2 she said that she didn't think her partnership had any agreements as to what values her bids would show. She also mentioned that the notrump range had not been Announced but was clarified at the time of the 2. bid. N/S believed that pass was a logical alternative and that especially in view of the long hesitation, the double and the $4 \checkmark$ bid should not be allowed.

The Committee Decision: The Committee believed that pass was clearly a logical alternative and in view of the marked hesitation should have been the action taken at the table. In fact, the Committee believed that the pass was so clear under the circumstances that E/W were each assessed an Appeal Without Merit Warning.

- (1) Not a balanced hand
- (2) Splinter

The Facts: 3NT made five, +660 for E/W. The Director was called after the round had finished, but before the players had moved. The opening lead was the ♠J, won by the king and at trick two the ♣J was led and passed successfully when South failed to cover. South insisted that his play was correct because East could not hold two clubs and be

Thus, given the explanation he received he had no chance to get the defense right since he did not think 5-4-2-2 distribution was unbalanced. The Director ruled that West's explanation that 1♦ was not a balanced hand was accurate since 5-4-2-2 distribution can be classified as either balanced or unbalanced (technically it is "semi-balanced"). The table result was therefore allowed to stand.

The Appeal: N/S appealed the Director's ruling and were the only pair to attend the hearing. South said that had he known East could have a doubleton club he would always cover the *J at trick two. After the AJ opening lead he said a top seed would never try an illegitimate line by trying to float the singleton &J, so there was no reason to cover the presumed singleton.

If East held a doubleton he expected him to return to hand to play a second club to the 9, losing to the 10 and going down one. South was convinced that East's singleton had to be in clubs because West was known to have some length in clubs but not in hearts. 3NT had made five rather than three after the non-cover because of an exposed A after a late lead out of turn by South.

The Committee Decision: The Committee reviewed the ACBL's definition of a balanced hand and determined that a 5-4-2-2 pattern could be defined as either balanced or unbalanced. E/W were a Swedish pair and N/S could have asked more questions as to what West meant by "not a balanced hand."

The Committee was somewhat constrained by E/W's absence (which is their right being nonappellants) and so could not determine the details of their system, including the range for the 1◆ opening bid. But since East's hand could legitimately be considered "not balanced" there had been no misinformation (and therefore the Committee also did not need to examine the merits of South's defense).

Finally, the Committee determined that the appeal had merit because of the somewhat ambiguous definition of "balanced."

Case 4

Event: NABC Open Board-a-Match Teams, first qualifying session

- (1) Alerted; a weak two-bid in a major or a good 4-4-4-1
 - (2) Alerted; Pass-or-Correct
- (3) Alerted; a good three-suiter (17+ HCP), short in clubs

The Facts: 3NT made three, +400 for N/S. The opening lead was the 48. North won the first trick with the *K and play proceeded (E/W playing upside-down signals): ◆2, 6, Q, 4; ◆9, 8, 5, K. ♣7.... N/S are an established partnership who said that South's explanation of the 2NT bid was correct but could produce no documentation. The Director ruled that there had been misinformation based on Law 75, example 2: "the Director is to presume mistaken explanation rather than mistaken bid in the absence of evidence to the contrary." The contract was changed to 3NT down two, +100 for E/W (Law 40C and 12C2).

The Appeal: N/S appealed the Director's ruling. N/S explained that the basis for their confusion was that if responder bid $2 \blacktriangle$ in response to the $2 \spadesuit$ opener needed 3♥ as a natural bid, so opener bid 2NT in that auction with any strong three-suiter. But when responder bid 2♥, as here, all bids above 2 were available and they showed their shortness immediately.

E/W explained that they played a form of Smith Echo which might have been able to help them overcome the misinformation, but there was an ambiguity in their methods introduced in part by the misinformation. They played that the "owner" of a suit used reverse Smith Echo (a high-low in the first suit played by declarer to suggest a switch) while the partner of the owner of the suit used standard Smith Echo (a high-low in the first suit played by declarer to suggest a continuation of the suit led on opening lead). Who was the "owner" of the suit?

The player with presumed length normally is the player who bid the suit or, if the suit is unbid, the one who led it. East thought the extenuating circumstances here, with declarer known to be short in clubs, made his partner the "owner" of that suit, so he treated her ◆4 as a reverse Smith Echo, encouraging a club continuation.

The Committee Decision: The Committee found that N/S's statements, while logical, did not rise to the level of evidence sufficient to decide mistaken bid rather than mistaken explanation. Pairs using complex methods have a special obligation to know and understand those methods. Further, they have the option of maintaining system notes and making them available to a Committee should they be needed, as here. Had N/S made system notes available to the Committee it might well have decided differently.

News from Nickell to Wolff: "You won!"

Last year's winners of the Reisinger Board-a-Match Teams didn't know of their victory until they got the good news from Nick Nickell.

Team member Bobby Wolff said the team was comparing in a small room apart from the larger playing area. "We were sitting there," said Wolff, "and Nick Nickell came in and asked what score we had. We told him and he said, 'You won!""

That was welcome news to Wolff, partner Dan Morse and their teammates: Steve Landen-Pratap Rajadhyaksha and Adam Wildavsky-Doug Doub.

The Reisinger, the premier team event of the Fall NABC, is a three-day contest using board-amatch scoring. At board-a-match scoring, a team wins, ties or loses a board by comparing scores from both tables of play. Overtricks can be vital if the contract is the same at both tables. Here's an example:

Dlr: South	♠ K	10 9 6 3
Vul: None	♥ 8
	♦ J	10 7 6
	♣ K	7 3

Wolff and Morse opposed Alfredo Versace and Lorenzo Lauria of the George Jacobs team. At the other table, North-South bid to 4 and declarer took 10 tricks. Wolff needed 11 tricks to win the board and he got them.

Versace started with the ◆3. Lauria won dummy's jack with the queen, cashed the ace and continued with a low diamond. Wolff ruffed high in hand, played his low spade to dummy's 9 and ruffed dummy's last diamond with the ace. He then overtook the AQ with the king and pulled West's third trump with the 10, discarding a low club from hand.

Wolff next played a club to his ace, planning to finesse in the suit if East played an honor. A club to dummy's king was followed by the last two trumps, Wolff discarding his fourth club and the ♥5.

On the last trump, Versace was squeezed in hearts and clubs, forced to discard a heart from the then-doubleton K-Q or his last club, which would make dummy's 7 good.

The Reisinger

The event is contested for the Reisinger Trophy (the Chicago Trophy until 1965). It is a six-session open team-of-four event scored by board-a-match with two qualifying sessions, two semifinal sessions and two final sessions. It was contested as a four-session championship until 1966.

The event began in 1929 as the North American Open Team Championship and the prize was the Chicago Trophy, donated by the Auction Bridge Club of Chicago. (In 1928, the open team competition was for the Harold S. Vanderbilt Cup.)

The Chicago Trophy was replaced in 1965 by the Reisinger Memorial Trophy, donated by the Greater New York Bridge Association in memory of Curt H. Reisinger.

Reisinger (1891-1964), New York City, was a principal patron of contract bridge and the American Contract Bridge League in the early years of both.

Reisinger was a great-grandson of Anheuser and a grandson of Busch, co-founders of the brewery from which he inherited great wealth. That wealth enabled him to become a stalwart financial supporter of the game, as well as a noted philanthropist on a far larger scale.

In the years when there was often a struggle to meet the League's modest payroll, Reisinger was often called upon and never failed to help with a loan or an outright gift. His support made possible several early contract bridge tournaments, clubs and books.

Among the positions in which he served were director of the United States Bridge Association, president of the Greater New York Bridge Association and chairman of the ACBL. In 1953, Reisinger was named ACBL Honorary Member.

Harlan elected to ACBL Board

One newcomer has been elected and eight incumbents have won re-election to the ACBL Board of Directors.

Phyllis Harlan, former president of Unit 167 (Sooner) and District 15, has been elected District 15's representative to the Board.

Harlan, Oklahoma City, replaces Virgil Anderson Jr., who did not seek re-election. Anderson was first elected to the Board in 1988 and served as ACBL president in 1994.

Eight incumbents, seven of them unopposed, will serve additional terms on the Board.

District 18 director Richard Anderson, Regina SK, won election to his fifth three-year term, defeating Ian Martindale, Boise ID. Anderson, a retired high school mathematics teacher and Diamond Life Master, served as ACBL president in Re-elected without opposition were George Retek, District 1; Sharon Fairchild, 5; Bruce Reeve, 7; Harriette Buckman, 13; Barbara Nist, 19; Alan LeBendig, 23, and Richard DeMartino, 25.

Harlan is only the third person to represent District 15 on the Board. Edgar Theus served from 1961 to 1988, when he was succeeded by Anderson.

Harlan and her husband Bill are Silver Life Masters and longtime members of the National ACBL Goodwill Committee. They have one son, who does not play bridge "but I'm working on that," says Harlan.

She describes herself as "typical of the majority of our members. I'm not a world-class player and never will be, but I enjoy the challenge of competing against these players."

Another benefit: "The continuing, close friends we have met through bridge. The vast majority of ACBL members are truly fascinating, witty, wonderful people. I feel very strongly that the success of all events held under the ACBL umbrella from club games through the NABCs — depends upon the voluntary contribution of the time and resources of our members.

All "change" please

By Sandy Friedman

Moving for the second round of the Smith Life Master Women's Pairs on Friday, I spy a gently used tissue on my chair. I brush it away, play our boards and start moving for the next round.

"From baking cookies for the game at the local club to being chairman of an NABC, our members make it all happen for the other players. These fine people are the backbone of the ACBL and should be treasured and appreciated by all of us."

Other directors:

District 1 — Retek, a Montreal resident, is a chartered accountant and a graduate of Sir George Williams University. He has been a member of the Board since 1979 and served as ACBL president in 2002. He is a Gold Life Master.

District 5 — Fairchild, who lives in Rocky River OH (suburban Cleveland), was first elected in 1997. She is a Silver LM.

District 7 — Reeve, a Raleigh NC resident, is a retired real estate broker who also teaches bridge. He completed the unexpired term of the late Bobby McMahan (from September 1997 to the end of the year) and ran unopposed for a full three-year term. He was re-elected in 2000 and again this year.

Reeve is a Diamond LM and former president of Unit 119 (North State) and District 7. He will serve as the 2004 ACBL president.

District 13 — Buckman, Lincolnwood IL, is a retired teacher who now teaches bridge. A Gold LM, she is a member of the Unit 123 (Chicago) board of directors and a club manager. She was first elected in 1997.

District 19 — Nist lives in Bellevue WA and works as a research interviewer at the Fred Hutchinson Cancer Research Center. She was first elected to the Board in 1997. She is a Gold LM and was co-chair of the 1993 Fall NABC in Seattle, the largest-ever tournament in the Northwest.

District 23 — LeBendig, Los Angeles, is the co-owner of the Barrington Bridge Club. He is a Grand LM who was first elected to the Board in 1997. He is a former chairman of the ACBL Board of Governors.

District 25 — DeMartino, Riverside CT, is an ACBL Grand LM who has taught bridge for more than 35 years. He was first elected in 2000. He is a former president and vice president of District 25.

As I get closer, I see a crumped medicine wrapper on my seat. Not being shy, I ask the woman I'm following* to please not leave anything else for me unless it's money.

The next round is called and, once again, I see some paper on my chair. This time I'm not upset since the note reads "Sorry" with a nickel on top. (*Ulker Mutlu, name used by permission)

Swiss stars compete for Keohane Trophy

Players competing in the six-session North American Swiss Teams are vying for the Keohane Trophy, donated by Ethel Keohane in 1973 in memory of her husband, William H. Keohane, one of the leading New England bridge personalities.

Bill Keohane (1896-1972) was a consulting engineer, bridge teacher and bridge administrator. He served as chairman of the 1970 Summer NABC in Boston and for many years was chairman of the New England Individual Championship, consistently the largest Individual in the world.

Keohane was elected in 1972 to a one-year term as the first District Director of the newly created District 25 (New England). He died later that year, just before he was to attend his first Board meeting.

The Keohane Trophy was presented for the Open Individual Championship until it was re-designated in 1995 by the ACBL Board of Directors for the North American Swiss Teams.

P.P. Double Occupany Cruise Only

A newlywed – and a widow!

By Karen Hammonds

(Adapted from a feature that appeared in New York Resident August 25 and September 1, 2003.)

I am a newlywed and yet a widow – a bridge widow. My husband, Kelley, is a serious bridge player. He plays at least two nights a week and goes to weekend or week-long tournaments regularly. I knew about this other passion in his life when I married him. In fact, I was glad he spent some time away from home. Marrying for the first time at 40, I was used to having considerable "me" time, and I wanted to preserve some of it.

But soon after we married, curiosity got the better of me. I signed up for a beginners' bridge class to find out just what it was that had him so hooked on bridge – him and a lot of other people.

In search of the reason why all these people spend all this time on a card game, I signed up for classes recently at Honors Bridge Club in New York City, one of the places where my husband plays. I had no intention of playing with him, though. He's too high up the bridge ladder. And although many couples do play together, it can be an ill-advised, even dangerous undertaking. In one notorious case in Kansas City many years ago, a woman actually shot her husband after he bid poorly!

In any case, I probably couldn't catch up to Kelley's level of play. My goal was more to make some sense of this strange language I overhear him speaking with his partners. Also, I often tag along when he goes to tournaments, and I feel a little like Cinderella waiting for him in the hotel bar. I decided it would be nice to actually participate...

Whist Class

I am apprehensive going to my first lesson, especially since my card-playing experience is pretty much limited to childhood games of Go Fish. Fortunately, this club has an inviting, even soothing atmosphere: There are a few large rooms and several smaller ones filled with bridge tables. Big glass windows overlooking a courtyard let in lots of light, and a kitchen serves up sandwiches and salad. This is a place where you can settle in for hours, and in fact time seems to slow down here, in contrast to the warp speed of so much of Manhattan.

Most of the people at the club, and in my class, are over 50, so I'm a relative youngster. Jean Patterson, manager of marketing services for the ACBL, says the average age of players nationwide is around 60, which is actually younger than a few years ago. The ACBL hopes that number will continue to go down, and it just might, especially with the advent of online bridge, which is attracting a younger crowd.

About 60 percent of players are women. The 15 or so students in my class are all women.

Our teacher, Alene, is a veteran instructor who seems to live for bridge in a love-hate sort of way. Watching us play the first day, she observes to a colleague, "Look, beginners enjoying themselves, laughing. Remember when bridge was fun?" And clearly the further along you get in this game, the more serious it gets.

But Week One is all fun, as we just play a simplified version of whist, a forerunner of bridge that boils down to taking as many tricks as possible. Whist has been played since at least the 18th century. I love the idea that I'm passing time the same way George Washington did (he played regularly at Mount Vernon).

Modern bridge developed in the 19th century, probably in Turkey or Russia, and became popular in England and America in the 1890s. Contract bridge, the variety now dominant in most of the world, was invented in the 1920s. It combined elements such as bidding with a scoring table, and only tricks bid and made counted toward making a game.

But we don't need to worry about bidding just yet, and I'm quite content playing whist. I'm dealt some lucky hands and win lots of tricks, so I leave class in high spirits. The only thing I need to learn at this point in the course is how to avoid gloating.

Speaking the Language

In week two, we start playing real bridge, and things get more complicated. We learn all sorts of new vocabulary: contract, promotion and more. And we learn about the dummy, a role that quickly becomes prized by those seeking to avoid any responsibility. "It's the one time you get to snooze," says my husband.

This week, my classmates and I begin to fret over our play. Fortunately, our partners are forgiving: "Oh no, you did nothing wrong," "We're all learning," et cetera. Ah, the advantages of an allfemale group — seeming supportiveness. Alene likes to rib us when we mess up, but I think we all find her approach motivating.

For the next few weeks, we learn how to count the points in our hands. We also learn about trump, which of course changes everything. The trump inspires mixed emotions: When you trump someone's ace, it's a total rush; when it happens to you, it's a moral outrage.

We continue to learn a never-ending stream of new vocabulary: balanced hand, overtrick, partscore, void, and on and on. And then there are singletons, not to be confused with unmarried characters in Bridget Jones's Diary. I have a bad habit of referring to my singletons as "simpletons."

Back at home, Kelley complicates matters by teaching me hand signals for directing the dummy play. If I want the lowest card in the suit, he says, I can point my finger downward instead of actually naming the card. Or, if I want the highest card, I can flick my fingers away from me, as if brushing away crumbs. This game is nothing if not nuanced – who dreamt up all this stuff?

Doing My Bidding

Starting in week six, my class learns how to bid and develop game contracts. The number crunching involved gives me a headache. If I have 15 to 17 points and a balanced hand, I'm supposed to open with "one no trump." If I have 13 to 21 points and a long suit, I'll open with one heart or one spade, or a lesser suit if I must. My partner may pass, or bid two notrump, or two of a six-card long major suit if she has zero to eight points, or four of a long suit if.... I glance at my classmates, wondering if anyone is getting this. They look pale. Alene assures us it will all soon be old hat.

I find bridge a bit like deconstructionist theory: I think I understand the rules when they're explained to me, but then a few minutes later I realize I don't at all. And then there are the demoralizing losses: In week seven, for instance, I lose control of a game and squander an ace of spades. I stare glumly at the table. My tablemates look sympathetic. They're glad I did it and not them. I hear golf is like this – you get pretty angry with yourself. "Bridge is a very humbling game," says our teacher.

To try and get a better handle on things, I start practicing at home on my computer, using a CD called Omar Sharif Bridge that lets me compete against imaginary players. Kelley tries to give me some pointers, but unfortunately, I don't seem to take instruction very well from him.

It's a little like getting driving lessons from your parents. He keeps telling me my next bid or play is "obvious," to which I snarl, "Maybe to you!" Normally I admire his sharp analytical mind, but right now it's just profoundly annoying. Our tutorials don't bode well for ever playing together, but I anticipated as much.

I think these instructional clashes reflect our different overall mind-sets. I tend to stress aesthetics, whereas he is a more sensible, goal-oriented type. For example, for some reason I really like the look of the club suit, and have to resist the urge to bid it when I shouldn't. Even as a beginner, Kelley would never have fallen prey to this sort of temptation.

The Lure of the Deck

Around week nine, my classmates and I start going to "supervised play," where there's no formal instruction but club staffers are available to answer questions. Most of us do supervised play after class, with a break for lunch.

If someone had told me two months ago that I'd be spending an entire day every week at the bridge club, I wouldn't have believed it, but here I am, eating tuna fish salad and catching up socially with my classmates. I feel a bit out of place at first because of my age, but the generational divide is not that big a deal, especially as we get to know one another. "We're like a family now," says one of my foursome.

As the 12-week course nears its finish, we start talking about who will continue with the next level of classes. I'm torn: On the one hand, I don't have any great talent for this game, and I don't like being bad at things. On the other, I've invested a fair amount of time learning it, and I want to reach a certain level of competence.

Stopping now would be a little like quitting French class when all you can say is "Nice to meet you" and "Where is the ladies' room?" Besides, I have learned a few things: Those opening bids that seemed so daunting in week six have, as Alene promised, become old hat. It's the second bids that are hard now.

"Bridge is addictive," says my husband's bridge partner. "There's always something new to learn." Plus there's the mysterious lure of the deck, one that's kept people playing card games for centuries. What's so enticing about a bunch of little cards with red and black designs and pictures of court figures? I don't know, but the fact is you want to find out what's in that next hand, and the one after that, and the one after that.

When Alene sends us off into the "real" world of bridge, we feel like young birds pushed from the nest. Go out and practice, she says, but don't try to play with the advanced players. "They'll run the other way," she warns. True, but with a little more practice, I can compete in the novice games when I tag along to tournaments. My days of bridge widowhood will soon be history.

And whether I continue with this game or not, I think Kelley and I are both happy that I now speak his "second language," though haltingly. We can talk about what happened at bridge that day, what our partners did and said. I can also better appreciate his successes – and commiserate with his failures.

And did I say we'd never play together? Never say never.

Note: Karen Hammonds played in an I/N game here at the New Orleans NABC. "I was nervous," she admitted. "I think I kind of enjoyed it about half-way through."

Fisher

He was playing the Roman Club system – he didn't know anything about Standard American until he got back to the United States. He plays Standard American now, but he still prefers the Roman Club.

Nowadays Fisher's life is bridge – he teaches and plays pro. It wasn't always that way.

He majored in Slavic languages and literature in college. Back then he could converse in Czech, Bulgarian, Russian, Spanish, German, Hebrew and Gothic as well as English. But that was a long time ago – the only language besides English with which he is comfortable today is German.

He actually taught German and Russian at Temple University, but his interest suddenly turned to the graphic arts. For 10 years he was in the foreign language typesetting business, producing outstanding manuscipts in various languages, many of them religious like the Bible. When the business failed because of technological changes, he decided he had had enough of this nine-to-five life – he started teaching bridge in South Jersey in 1980.

He has had many successes at the bridge table. He has won seven North American championships and has finished second in three others. Earlier this month his team placed third in the Senior Bowl at the world championships in Monte Carlo. He also finished sixth in the World Senior Pairs last year in Montreal.

Bridge is not his only work. He and his wife Jeanne have a travel vacation business. They do tours to England and to the food and wine areas in Italy.

His usual partners are Fred Hamilton, P.O. Sundelin and Zeke Jabbour. He also enjoys Fred Paul as a partner.

flowers. Some money already has been raised as a result of the fund started by Mark Molson earlier this week. Those interested in making a donation here may give their money to either Henry Francis or Jody Latham in the Daily Bulletin office.

Kremer was an outstanding bridge player. A Diamond Life Master, he won the Master Mixed Teams in 1983, finished second in that event in 1981, placed second in the Life Master Men's Teams in 1985 and was second in the Grand National Teams in 1973.

He had planned to play in the Reisinger this weekend with Deas, but he called her about a week ago to tell her he wouldn't be able to make the trip.

He did tax work in Schectady where he was previously in business with Neil Chambers.

Morse

won the Senior KO Teams and the Reisinger Board-a-Match Teams in Phoenix last year and followed with a win in the United States Bridge Championships. Their team won bronze in the Bermuda Bowl earlier this month.

Morse is a Houston pharmacist who replaced Wolff as District 16 representative in 1993. He won the World Senior Teams in 2000 and has 10 North American championships, including all the major team championships, to his credit.

He was named ACBL Honorary Member in 1989.

The Committee next addressed the adjustment for each side. The Committee decided that for N/S they should be assigned the result for 3NT down two. They then considered whether E/W's defense was so egregious as to constitute a "failure to play bridge," and decided it was not. Most pairs, told that declarer showed a singleton club, would likely defend the same way E/W had no matter what their defensive methods. Therefore, the contract was changed for both sides to 3NT down two, +100 for E/W.

The Committee next considered the merit of the appeal and decided that it did have substantial merit. While the statements presented by N/S were not sufficient for a decision in their favor, N/S were entitled to make their case. The laws do not require written evidence in order to receive a favorable decision and the judgment of the sufficiency of the evidence could have been a close one.

Finally, North asked if he was supposed to volunteer information about the intended meaning of his 2NT bid once his side became the declarer. He was told that, according to law, a member of the declaring side must correct his partner's mistaken explanation at the end of the auction (a defender must wait until the end of the hand) but need not disclose his own misbid.

As a matter of self-interest, though, a player ought to strongly consider explaining the intended meaning of his bid since if he doesn't he risks an adverse score adjustment if he cannot convince a Director or Committee that his partner's explanation was correct and the opponents are damaged either in the auction or the subsequent play. But if he explains his own understanding of his partnership agreement at the end of the auction he will be able to keep his table result, good or bad, so long as the opponents' bidding was not affected and his volunteered explanation is sufficient to prevent damage during the play.

As a player, then, one must judge whether or not one will be able to convince the Director or Committee that it was your bid that was mistaken and not partner's explanation. Since this is a tough case to make without written evidence (such as a notation on the convention card or system notes), a player will often be better off explaining his own understanding of a disputed call, regardless of which partner was mistaken.

DIC: Steve Bates

Committee: Adam Wildavsky (non-voting chair), Darwin Afdahl, Lowell Andrews, David Berkowitz.

Runners-up in the National 99er Pairs were Jane Murtishaw and Howard Lindsey.

Gatlinburg, Tenn. — April 12–18

A bridge player's true rite of spring: 7,424 tables this year, at a spacious convention center a half-mile from the Great Smoky Mountains National Park. Plan for an affordable week amid nature's beauty — and an avalanche of masterpoints. Scores of motels and restaurants within walking distance.

Chairs: Marlene Wass (865) 966–3292, bmw@esper.com and Judy Nolan (865) 380–8852, judynolan@chartertn.net.

22 foreign players place in Blue Ribbon

Twenty-two players from seven foreign countries were among those who finished in the overall standings in the Blue Ribbon players. Norway had the most – eight – and of course one of them was the winner – Geir Helgemo.

Four players from both Poland and Turkey made the grade, as did two from Poland and Israel. Italy and Sweden had one representative each.

Japanese pairs finished first and second in the Mixed Pairs on Thursday. A Swede was a member of the winning Turkey Swiss Teams. Players from England and Mexico finished on top in side games.

As for the knockouts, Bermuda and England had two winners apiece, with one each from Mexico, Scotland and Japan.

Goodwill Message

Here's a reminder that the preferred way to summon a tournament director is to raise your hand and say, "Director, please."

Remember to keep your hand raised so the director can find you.
