First-time partners top Silodor Pairs

Michael Rosenberg and Ralph Katz

It happens so often it's almost not news any more – two players getting together for the first time and emerging victorious in a major event.

The latest are Michael Rosenberg and Ralph Katz, two stars with lots of North American championships wins with other partners. They came from more than a board back after the first final session to win the Silodor Open Pairs I.

The winners' score of 3016.39 (90 top) put them 58.04 matchpoints ahead of Martin Fleisher and Michael Kamil. In third place were Doug Levene and Mark Lair.

Katz and Rosenberg made the date to play last fall. Rosenberg's regular partner, Zia Mahmood, wanted to play with Bob Hamman to practice for their game later this year in the Cavendish Invitational tournament. Katz was free because he doesn't play with George Jacobs, one of his regular partners,

Meckstroth tops 45,000 points

Jeff Meckstroth, many-time world champion, is in the headlines once again. The man whose image graces the March cover of The Bridge Bulletin recently crossed the 45,000point threshold. He is only the third player ever to do so – Paul Soloway and Mike Passell are the others.

Why is Meckstroth on the cover? He won the Barry Crane Top 500 for the third year in a row by scoring 2749 points in 2002. He averaged 94 points in the 17 regionals in which he played, and his average at the three NABCs was 242 points. He also competed in the U.S. Bridge Championship and the World Bridge Championship in Montreal. He won the Mixed Pairs in Montreal and now has triumphed in all major world championships except the Rosenblum Teams. He just missed winning the ACBL Player of the Year title.

Does Meckstroth plan to shoot for a fourth straight Top 500? "No. I never seek to win this contest," he said. "It just happens."

The Wall of Fame

Imagine a Wall covered with the glories of the game of bridge. Imagine a Wall covered with pictures of the best bridge players and outstanding celebrities of the world. Imagine reading intimate messages from all these stars, also posted on the Wall.

Well, you don't have to imagine. There really is such a Wall. It's called the Wall of Fame, and it's nearby at The Bridge Club of Center City. The Wall is dedicated to the aspiring bridge player. Everyone is invited to visit the club between sessions Tuesday -5 to 6:30 p.m. The club is located on the 14th floor of a historic art-deco office building at 1616 Walnut St. (Suite 1405) about five blocks away from the Marriott. It is easily within walking distance through beautiful Center City. Alternatively cab fare should not exceed $4. From the front of the Marriott, walk south on 13th St. to Walnut St. Take a right onto Walnut.

What's on the Wall?

There's a submission from WBF President José Damiani imploring "Bridge for Peace." His missive

Tomorrow is Goodwill Day

Goodwill Chairman Aileen Osofsky invites all members of the National Goodwill Committee to attend tomorrow's Goodwill reception in the Independence Ballroom from 5-7 p.m.

Bridge is big at Carnegie

Thanks to Noble Shore, bridge is big at Carnegie Mellon University in Pittsburgh. Shore, a 21- year-old senior majoring in computer science and psychology, teaches bridge to his fellow students, and they receive credits for passing his course.

So far he has taught seven classes with eight to 20 students in each class. "Altogether I've taught about 70 students here," he said. "At first the school didn't have a good place for us to gather – they put us in the PE area. But now they have a a student-taught department, and that's where we study."

Shore is here with four of his students and two others from the univer-

2003 USBF dues

Attention: Vanderbilt (for USBC) and Women's Swiss (for USWBC) contenders:

If you have already paid your 2003 USBF dues, please disregard this message. You may, however, want to check with your teammates and partner to make sure they have paid.

Remember that dues paid in 2002 applied only to the year 2002, regardless of when in 2002 they were paid.

There will be a desk set up in the Vanderbilt area for your convenience in paying your dues.

Turn 'em off

Cell phones, audible pagers or any similar communication equipment may not be operated or operable in the playing area during a session of play at NABCs except for health-related equipment or by permission of the director-in-charge of the tournament or event.

This is the resolution passed by the ACBL Board of Directors, meeting before the start of the 2000 Summer NABC in Anaheim. While the resolution applies only to NABCs, the board urged that "sponsoring organizations of other ACBL-sanctioned events are strongly encouraged to adopt this policy."

New pre-Alert/Disclosure forms

If your partnership plays pre-Alertable Mid-Chart or Super-Chart opening bids or overcalls in events which permit such methods, you must fill out one of the new pre-Alert/Disclosure forms for each such method that you play and make them available to your opponents before the start of each round or match segment.

This applies to any event, NABC+ or regional, which permits Mid-Chart or Super-Chart methods. Look for the light blue forms on the tables where convention cards and pencils are located.

Blissful in Philly

One thing about Zia Mahmood – he always seems to be having a good time when he's playing bridge, no matter what.

On this deal from the second qualifying session of the Silodor Open Pairs I, Zia was laughing about a slam he and Bob Hamman reached. "Anyone who knew what they were doing would not get to slam," Zia said. Of course, he wasn't turning down the excellent score they received for getting to the optimum contract.

There was nothing to the play and the superstar duo earned about 80% of the matchpoints for plus 980.

Hamman conceded that he didn't read Zia's 4. bid accurately. No doubt he would not have been excited to hear about a diamond singleton considering his holding in the suit. Nevertheless, Hamman said, "I have to do something to make up for Zia's bidding."

Convention cards – it takes two!

Each player is required to have a convention card filled out legibly and on the table throughout a session. Both cards of a partnership must be identical and include the first and last names of each member of the partnership.

If a director determines that neither player has a substantially completed card, the partnership may play only Class A conventions and may use only standard carding. This restriction may be lifted only at the beginning of a subsequent round after convention cards have been properly prepared and approved by the director. Further, the partnership will receive a 1/6 board matchpoint penalty for each board played, commencing with the next round and continuing until the restriction is lifted. In IMP team games, penalties shall be at the discretion of the director.

If the director determines the partnership has at least one substantially completed convention card but has not fully complied with ACBL regulations, the director may give warnings or assign such penalties as he deems to be appropriate under the circumstances.

The objective of these warnings and penalties is the encouragement of full compliance with ACBL regulations.

Gary and Linda Stokes

Discovering duplicate proves stimulating

Linda and Gary Stokes of Westchester PA are thrilled that they discovered duplicate after years of playing kitchen bridge with their friends. They and their friends, tired of rubber bridge, decided to take some Easybridge! classes about five months ago, and now the Stokes are duplicate addicts.

"What a difference!" said Linda. "Duplicate is so stimulating!"

"Every duplicate hand means something," said Gary. "Every hand has its own individual merits. Not only do you play one-bids, but they can be cutthroat. Two and three-level bids no longer are silly partials – they mean something. They're just as important as games and slams. We're competitors, so we like it that way."

They've won almost five masterpoints since taking those lessons. They're playing every session here that their work schedule allows.

Their enthusiasm for bridge carries over to their sons, Michael and Ryan, who enjoy playing the game during their free time at college.

Cover an honor

By Barry Rigal

The rule is: Cover an honor with an honor. Is this always the right thing to do? No! Look at Board 16 from the second qualifying session of Open Pairs I where best defense could give declarer a very nasty problem

Dlr: We	st ♠ Ç) 4

The above was the typical auction. On a heart lead to the jack, king and ace, declarer cashed the ◆A-K and led to the ♣Q. East took his ace to return a heart. Declarer knocked out the ◆Q and claimed the rest.

Compare that with what happens if East ducks the first heart. Declarer would be in dummy and would lead to the top diamonds in his hand. Then he would play a club to the queen and ace. East now would lead the $\P K$, and declarer would have to win in hand and would be an entry short of bringing in the diamonds.

So what to do? Would you criticize a declarer who played the percentages and took a finesse to the $9? After all, that way you get back to par against all the other declarers who were lucky enough to have East cover with the VK on the opening lead.

If you took the club finesse, don't cry just smile. Larry Holtz made the nice play of ducking, in partnership with Tobi Sokolow, and he was duly rewarded when declarer took the club finesse.

Way, way out

This deal, from the second qualifying session of the Silodor Open Pairs I, is the kind of thing that gives computer hands a bad name. On this occasion, the deal also provided a rather interesting variety of results.

The first thing about this deal is that no North-South pair went minus – although there were five pairs with plus 190 who might just as well have been in the red. Looking at all four hands makes one wonder about that score. Equally, plus 640 with the South hand doesn't figure to earn many matchpoints (it didn't – 8 out of 64).

The scores ran the gamut – in fact, there were 14 different scores, the best of which was plus 2330 (7♦ doubled), followed by 2230 (6♦ redoubled with an overtrick) and 2140 (a pedestrian undoubled, minor-suit grand slam).

There were also plus 1390 (6♦ undoubled making seven), plus 1740 (6♦ doubled with an overtrick) and plus 1430 (6♥ making – no overtrick missing QJ1093 in the trump suit). One North-South pair scored an unusual plus 1800 (5♦ redoubled, making seven).

The penalty numbers in favor of North-South ranged from plus 500 all the way to 1700.

Here's how Brad Moss and Fred Gitelman arrived at the top spot.

One genius actually passed with the South hand, making a takeout double after 1* by West, Pass, 1* by East. He did, of course, have excellent support for the unbid suits.

Section tops

District 4 has come up with an innovative section top award – an assortment of 10 different packets of postcards, three per pack (in a variety of combinations). The good news is that they are all prestamped and include a special pen (with our March 2003 logo).

The cards portray many historic Philadelphia landmarks – the Liberty Bell, Independence Hall, City Hall, Elfreth's Alley, Betsy Ross house, Logan Circle and Boathouse Row.

Take them to your room, address them – and as we say in Philly – just sign your John Hancock and drop them in a mailbox. A thoughtful remembrance for family and friends back home.

Mugs, NABC Philly tee-shirts and a selection of bridge books are also available as section top awards.

New Life Master

Carol Klempner of Churchville PA became a Life Master when she qualified for the final in her bracket of the Sprung Knockout Teams. The 14 points she won for placing at least second were more than enough – she needed 11.02. She was playing with her husband, Allen Anderson. Their teammates were Sid and Ellen Gordon.

The Facts: 2♠ doubled went down one, +100 for N/S. The opening lead was the ♣Q. N/S called the Director when dummy came down. They said they thought East had "fielded" West's psych of 2♠ and should have to bid 3♠ over 2♠ doubled. The Director ruled that there was no evidence of a concealed understanding (Law 40) and allowed the table result to stand.

The Appeal: N/S appealed the Director's ruling. N/S told the Committee that with four-card support for his partner's first suit (diamonds) and only a singleton in her second suit (spades) it was normal for him to take a preference to diamonds. The failure to do so suggested an implicit partnership understanding. If players adopt a destructive mentality against a strong club and are able to psych freely without fear of getting "buried" by their partner, then the strong club bidders have no chance of getting it right (the psychers have an unfair advantage).

East said he had shown his hand with his initial action (double) and his partner's subsequent actions were on his own. The Committee also determined that E/W had played together for more than 20 years and that East had played bridge for more than 50 years.

The Committee Decision: The Committee believed that the logic of the auction backed up what East had said about West acting on her own. East had shown two suits and the opponents had announced game-going values, making it highly unlikely that West would wish to compete in whichever of the other two suits East preferred. Further, if North's double showed at least five diamonds, then West could hold no more than four of them and could not possibly be bidding this way with four-four in diamonds and spades.

East may not have expressed his reason for passing very well, but he was experienced enough to recognize that West's bids suggested that she was feeling around and that East should stay out of her way. N/S seemed to have been playing methods that were adequate for exposing the psychic (North's double of 2•). They simply misjudged what to do on this hand.

Based on this logic the Committee decided that N/S were not damaged by a concealed partnership understanding and allowed the table result to stand.

The Committee noted that given East's initial action, it appeared that E/W were very active in competing against a strong club. This time West held a freakish hand with a moderate fit for both of her partner's suits (clubs and hearts), making her efforts to muddy the waters by psyching attractive.

However, E/W were advised that if they commonly bid a short suit in this type of auction, the opponents were entitled to that information ("Partner has been known to bid a short suit in this type of situation."). The hand was referred to the Recorder.

Dissenting Opinion (Aaron Silverstein): Although I do believe that East could have worked out that West had psyched from his own hand and the auction, his statements in front of the Committee ("I had shown my hand and whatever she did was up to her." and "For all I knew she had seven hearts and was about to bid them.") led me to believe there was a concealed partnership understanding. Even though South could, and maybe should, have worked out that it would be right to bid 3NT, I am reluctant to say that his failure to figure out that the opponents were psyching was an egregious error which severed any connection to the damage. Therefore, I believe the contract should have been adjusted to 3NT made five, +660 for N/S, for both sides."

Going to Menton? Contact Truscott

All North American Championships are miniworld competitions. They regularly attract players from Australia, Brazil, Japan, China, India and many parts of Europe.

There is now another tournament with this format. It is the European Open Championships, and is the brainchild of World Bridge Federation President José Damiani and European Bridge League President Gianarrigo Rona. It will be played for the first time this year in Menton on the beautiful French Riviera from June 14 to 28. Full details can be found at www.eurobridge.org

Alan Truscott is anxious to meet players who are planning to go to Menton. If you are in that category, please contact Truscott.

Attention Juniors! A change in coupons

At this tournament Junior Coupons are good for entry to any event for just $6.

Coupons will be available only to ACBL members who are residents of Zone 2 (North America including Bermuda) who are either (1) 21 years of age or younger or (2) full-time students between 22 and 25 years of age. Full-time students must offer proof of eligibility prior to purchasing their entry.

ACBL institutes new pre-Alert/Disclosure forms

By Rich Colker, ACBL Recorder

Pairs who play methods not permitted on the ACBL General Convention Chart are required to pre-Alert their opponents to these methods prior to the start of each round (in a pair event) or segment of a match (in team games). The methods in question are those permitted only on the ACBL Mid-Chart or Super-Chart

The pre-Alert must be in writing and should include a complete description of the method along with an approved suggested defense if one is required. Those marked with an asterisk on the Mid- or Super-Chart do not require a written defense.

Approved defenses can be obtained from the ACBL Defense Database. These are available on the ACBL web site (www.acbl.org) or can be purchased (hard copy) from the ACBL sales department. Defenders may refer freely to the written description of the method and any written defense during bidding or play.

What is new in 2003 is the form that the ACBL requires for disclosure of these methods. In the past the disclosure form was a simple lined sheet (sometimes on gray paper, sometimes on yellow) with the heading "Pre-Alert/Disclosure Form."

This has been replaced by two forms (one for opening bids, the other for overcalls) which have been adapted from the disclosure forms presently in use by the World Bridge Federation. The new forms (printed back-to-back on light blue paper) contain sections for the convention user to disclose far more information about their methods than has previously been required.

Information requested for a pre-Alertable opening bid includes: what seats and vulnerabilities the bid can be made in; a detailed description of what the bid shows; what typical, minimum and maximum holdings look like; what the responses and rebids are; which hands responder may pass the opening bid with (if any); what various actions (including pass and double) mean in competition; and space for the approved suggested defense (if one is required).

Information requested for a pre-Alertable overcall includes: at what vulnerabilities the bid can be made; what the bid shows; whether the bid applies when partner is a passed hand, an unpassed hand or always; what typical, minimum and maximum holdings look like; which hands responder may pass the overcall with (if any); what the partner of the overcaller's bids (advances) mean; what various actions by advancer mean if responder (third hand) acts; what various rebids by overcaller mean if opener acts again; and space for the approved suggested defense (if one is required).

The requirement to pre-Alert Mid-Chart and Super-Chart methods and the need to provide an approved suggested defense for some methods (see the Convention Charts for details) have existed for some time. ACBL is now testing these new forms. The ACBL hopes there will be a marked improvement in providing full disclosure.

Some pairs will inevitably be forced to discuss aspects of their adopted methods (such as what various responses and rebids mean, or what various bids mean if the auction turns competitive) that might otherwise be neglected.

And isn't that a good thing? It will now be possible to hold pairs playing these methods responsible for any problems caused by missing information. And that's surely a good thing.

The ACBL is interested in your comments and suggestions regarding these new forms. You can drop them off at the Tournament Operations Office, which is located on the fourth floor of the Marriott. Or you can direct e-mail comments to rick.beye@acbl.org.

Open Pairs I

in pair games.

Rosenberg and Katz played a standard system with a few gadgets. Said Katz of his first-time partner: "He played great – and there was a ton of action."

Katz said he and Rosenberg arrived at 3NT several times on auctions not likely to be duplicated at many tables. Fortunately for them, some "impossible" 3NT contracts came home, along with loads of matchpoints.

The penchant for playing 3NT got so pronounced, Katz joked, "at dinner I asked Michael if he wanted to take Stayman off the card."

After the first final session, Katz and Rosenberg lay fourth overall, more than 106 matchpoints behind the leaders, Eric Greco and Geoff Hampson. Those two, plus the pair lying second after the first final – Steve Weinstein and Robert Levin – had poor games in the evening and dropped in the standings.

Wall of Fame

arrived the day before the 9/11 attacks. Messages were received from Norman Kay, Max Hardy and Bill Root just prior to their deaths.

Many outstanding personalities in areas other than bridge also are on the Wall. How about three of the most famous actors in the history of the stage and screen? That's right – George Burns, Omar Sharif and Clint Eastwood. What about the investment world? Sure enough – Bill Gates and Warren Buffett. Tennis great Martina Navratilova is there as well as Supreme Court Justice John Paul Stevens.

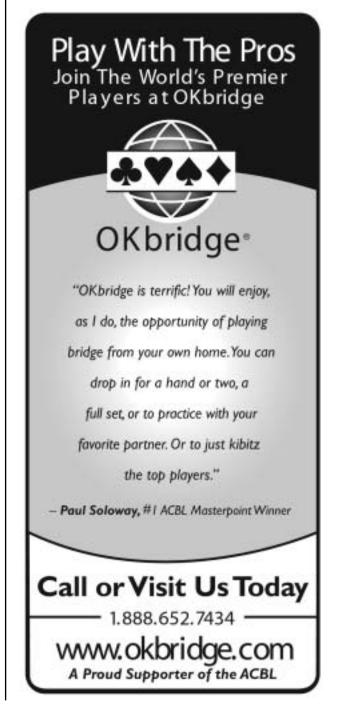

Actually there are three Walls. – South, West and Luminary. In the center of the Luminary are Charles Goren, Bob Hamman, Edgar Kaplan and Norman Kay. Featured with Goren is an autographed copy of the Time magazine from the Fifties where he was featured on the cover as the King of Hearts. Benito Garozzo, Dave Treadwell and Bobby Wolff are on the left, and Eddie Kantar, Arthur Robinson and Bob Jordan are on the right.

Altogether the Wall features more than 80 submissions from contributors spanning the globe.

Mark Lombard, who had the idea for the Wall, believes any club in the ACBL could build tremendous interest by building a similar Wall. "Our club members are enthusiastic, and interest in the games has increased exponentially," said Lombard.

Lombard did the organizational work, but he applauds the major help he received from Judy Kay, Zeke Jabbour, Frank Stewart, Hamman, Wolff and Robert Lombard.

Lombard realizes that it takes more than photographs on a wall to generate a global renaissance in bridge's popularity. "However, simply expressing one's passion for the game encourages others to explore its many glories. It is, after all, a glorious game. As Norman Kay inscribed on his photograph, 'Here's to bridge. Long may it reign!"

Looking back: Philadelphia, Spring 1996

The North American Bridge Championships returned to Philadelphia in 1996 after an absence of 47 years, drawing a total attendance of 10,995 tables while crowning new champions and inducting eight stars into the Bridge Hall of Fame. Eddie Kantar, Norman Kay, Alfred Sheinwold, Josephine Culbertson, Vic Mitchell, Al Morehead, P. Hal Sims and Sam Stayman were the Hall of Fame inductees.

Ralph Katz and Howard Weinstein, winners of Open Pairs I, credited luck with playing a major role in their victory.

East-West, with more than half the high-card points, did not take the sacrifice, so Katz-Weinstein were headed for a good score just for getting to slam with 13 points opposite 6. In fact, they collected 71 of 77 matchpoints when West underled his ♥A at trick one − trying to reach his partner for a spade ruff − and Weinstein racked up plus 1390.

Bruce Reeve and Nadine Wood sat down to play against Zia who, as usual, was surrounded by kibitzers. After the bidding made Nadine the declarer, Bruce asked, "Would one of you kibitzers like to play against Zia?" One volunteered and Bruce left the table temporarily. After the opening lead, the kibitzer put the dummy down, remarking, "I'm sorry about my bidding, partner."

Bob Goldwater (South) refused to give up in the bidding or the play on this deal. West led the ♣A and continued with the king, and Goldwater ruffed. He cashed the ♠A K and conceded a diamond to East's 10. East would have done better by switching to a heart at this point but he continued a club, and Goldwater ruffed again. Now Goldwater ruffed a diamond in dummy and led the ♠J, ducked. He ruffed a club back to his hand as East pitched the ♥J, and led a heart to dummy's ace. At trick 10, he was in dummy with East's ♠Q 7 3 trapped in front of his ♠A K 10. Plus 650 was worth all the matchpoints.

Tamres (West) led the ◆7: 10, jack, queen. Declarer dislodged Tamres' ♣A and she continued with a diamond to dummy's ace. Declarer cashed her spade tricks and on the 13th spade, Brady (East) pitched the ♣8, declarer the ♣J and Tamres a heart.

Next came the hearts and Brady read the situation perfectly – he realized declarer had started with two clubs and was probably down to the singleton queen at this point. So he pitched his three low clubs.

When declarer finally cashed the ♣A, Brady's king dropped – and so did declarer's queen. So Tamres took the setting trick with the ♣10.

'That was fantastic!'

On the first round of the Midnight Zip KO Teams at the previous NABC in Philadelphia, a player led his ♦ A against a 4 ♠ contract.

Declarer, as soon as dummy was spread, faced his hand and made the following claim: "If you lead another diamond, I'll ruff high with the king, hook the heart, draw trumps and play you for the *Q. Along the way I'll ruff two diamonds – a total of three diamond ruffs – to set up the case diamond. making six."

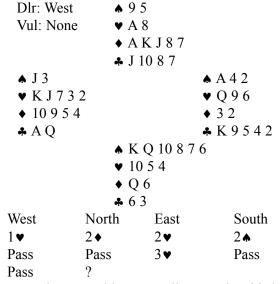

"Wow," said a defender, "that was fantastic."

"Not really," replied declarer. "That's the way I should have played this same hand last night."

So sharp you'll cut yourself

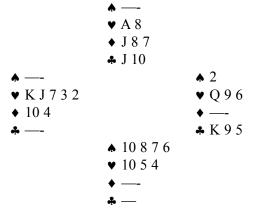

By Barry Rigal

Like most of the field, we had a fiercely competitive auction on this deal from the second qualifying session of the Silodor Open Pairs I

North at my table eventually passed and led the ♦ K, shifting to the ♠ 9 at trick two. I ducked to the ♠O and the ♦O was returned, overtaken by North, who played a second spade.

I won the ♠A and led a low club to partner's ace. Then he cashed the &Q, noting North's echo in clubs. This was the position:

The winning play on defense is not so hard to spot. If you lead a low heart from hand (West), North can rise with the ace and play a low diamond, forcing you to ruff with the $\mathbf{\Psi}Q$. South ruffs the $\mathbf{A}K$ low and the defenders must get another trick.

When I led a low heart to dummy, however, North ducked. Now I had a tempo: the ♥Q wins, I play the *K, ruffed and overruffed and exit with a second heart to North's now bare ♥A. Whatever North plays at that point – a club, high diamond or low diamond – I have the rest.

It was nearly the last board, however, so North and I were both tired. I put in the ♥9, playing North for a 2-3-5-4 pattern, and went down one.

Oh, well. Confession is good for the soul.

Frank Merblum and Doug Doub finished second in the North American Pairs A Flight.

Mike Kamil and Martin Fleischer were runnersup in the Silodor Open Pairs I.

Scholarships for ACBL Juniors

A new scholarship program is now available for ACBL Juniors. The plan, which owes its funding to generous donations, is available to college and high school bridge players 25 and younger who teach bridge at schools.

The initial program will award $500 scholarships to those who teach the equivalent of the ACBL Bidding Series (Club Series) or an eightweek program (16 hours of lessons to a class of six or eight students who are 25 or younger).

In addition, the ACBL Educational Foundation and the ACBL Education Department will provide books, tee shirts and an additional stipend of $270 for teaching the courses.

The $500 scholarship is payable to the school of choice for the Junior bridge instructor. Additionally, courses must be taught at accredited colleges, universities or trade schools for high school graduates.

Contacts are Jayne Thomas (jtacbl1289@aol.com) or Charlotte Blaiss (charlotte.blaiss@acbl.org).

Scholarships for Junior Instant Matchpoint Game winners and NABC Caddy Competition winners will be available in the near future.

Why Bramley sits East

Whenever Bart Bramley has a choice, he sits East. Why? "I'm from the East – Boston – and sitting East reminds me of my origin."

Masterpoint disclaimer

Scores as reported in the Daily Bulletin are subject to change because of score changes or corrections. Therefore, the masterpoint awards as shown are also subject to change.

Pleasanter way of being miserable

Colin Dexter uses quotes to head each chapter in his books. This is the heading of one of his chapters in The Dead of Jericho:

"I say, 'Banish bridge! Let's find some pleasanter way of being miserable together.' – Don Herold."

Its own reward

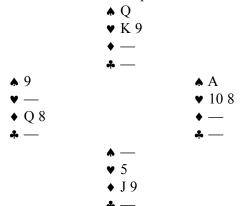

Sometimes your only reward for playing well is the knowledge that you did. Jeff Aker had that experience on this deal from the second qualifying session of the Silodor Open Pairs I. Aker was

East led a low spade to the jack and king. Aker then cashed five club tricks, discarding a diamond and his low spade. His right-hand opponent discarded three spades, while East let go of a low spade and a diamond.

Reading the position accurately, Aker cashed the \bullet K and \bullet A, then played the \bullet Q and a heart to the ace. This was the end position:

Aker exited with the \(\Delta \) Q to to endplay East, who was forced to lead into Aker's heart tenace. That was good for plus 690, not a huge difference on a 64 top since many East players discarded hearts prematurely on the run of the clubs, making it easy for North to scoop up 12 tricks. Still it's always good for your amour propre to play correctly.
