Meet Your TDs

Today, instead of introducing readers to a TD they might not know, the Daily Bulletin pays tribute to a tournament director who is retiring after this NABC.

It has been more than 25 years since Alice Kinningham first took the floor at a tournament with a law book in hand.

After the 2006 Fall NABC in Honolulu, the Aurora CO resident will retire - but not without regrets.

"I'm going to miss all of you a lot more than you will miss me," she said as she neared the end of her final tournament.

Kinningham is retiring primarily to spend more time with her husband, Wayne, who has had three major heart surgeries. "We need to be together and do more together," she said.

At NABCs, Kinningham works mostly with newcomers. "I love them," she said. "I love the enthusiasm they bring to the game."

Judy Cotterman, who is in charge of the Intermediate/Newcomer games at NABCs, is a fellow TD with a special appreciation for Kinningham's dedication and skills.

"Alice has done a lot," said Cotterman.

Kinningham said she could have pursued other careers but she chose directing, adding, "I did a great thing. It has been a great fun ride."

What are you thankful for today?

It's Thanksgiving Day, a rich, time-honored tradition among North Americans. On this special day, you might think that bridge players would be grateful for successful finesses or 3-2 trump splits. Not so.

A quick, informal survey of players revealed a wide variety of reasons why the participants in the Fall NABC are giving thanks today. Here are some of the reasons ACBL members are thankful.

"I am grateful for the many friends I have made through bridge."

Sharon Fairchild, ACBL president-elect for 2007.

"There are so many things I'm thankful for. I'm thankful I can work with these kids who make my job happy and fun."

Jackie Matthews, tournament director in charge of caddies at NABCs.

I'm thankful for my wonderful family and husband (Allan Falk). I'm thankful just to be happy." Jacqueline DeRouin, Okemos MI

"I'm thankful for bridge. It has been a very satisfying pastime. I'm also thankful for Zero Tolerance. It has been a big plus for the game."

Pat McDevitt, Brookline MA - new Grand Life Master.

"I'm thankful to be in Hawaii with our son, who is stationed here with the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers. Last year he was in Iraq."

Sue Kroning, Seaside OR.

"I'm thankful they turned down the fan in Section R."

Robert Kroning, Sue's husband.

Italians leading Blue Ribbon

Fulvio Fantoni and Claudi Nunes, World Open Pairs winners in 2002 and part of the reigning Bermuda Bowl champion team from Italy, took the lead after two semifinal sessions of the Blue Ribbon Pairs, which ends today. They enter play with carryover score of 152.

Right behind them after four sessions of play are Kit Woolsey and Fred Stewart, followed in third place by Paul Soloway and Alan Sontag. Jeff Meckstroth and Eric Rodwell were in fourth place.

One of the ideas he had for fund raising was to sell raffle tickets for a

While the raffle produced modest results, Zia said donations from individuals - especially Nick Nickell - helped push the total raised to about $130,000, about $30,000 short of the goal. Zia said many individuals gave between $1000 and $5000, but Nickell was the star giver. "Nick Continued on page 4

Overcalls B how low can you go?

By Pat Harrington

An overcall can sometimes let you win a partscore battle. When you don't win the bidding, there are still two possible ways for you to gain. You may have made it difficult for the opponents to communicate and they could miss their best contract. Even when they reach the right contract, your overcall could get partner off to the best opening lead for your side. Okay, you get it – we like to overcall. But we don't want to take too many risks or mislead partner when we do overcall, so we need some ground rules on exactly what an overcall shows.

All overcalls – major and minor – show long suits of at least five cards. Yes, an expert might occasionally overcall a strong four-card suit, but I advise my new players not to because they abuse it. I've seen too many players treat a minor-suit overcall like a minor-suit opening bid. Overcalls show the suit bid. They do not ask partner to show a four-card major. Use a takeout double if you want partner to suggest a suit and can tolerate any suggestion partner might make.

The strength shown by an overcall depends on the level. Simple (non-jump) overcalls on the two level (a 1  $\blacklozenge$  opening followed by 2 $\checkmark$ , for example) show a hand worth an opening bid. Modern bridge players are aggressive, and most players will make a one-level overcall on a fair amount less than an opening bid. You and your partner will have to decide your range. A common choice is 8-17 points. But some players will overcall with as few as six points and some 18-point hands should make a simple overcall. Let's look at a few examples and determine your style of overcalling. Your RHO opened 1.

- 1. AAKJ97 VK4 *10974 *92 2. AAQ4 VAK10976 *Q5 *92 3. AQJ1095 V54 *A962 *92
- 4. ▲Q 4 3 ♥J 9 7 6 2 ♦A 7 ♣J 6 2

With 1, overcall  $1 \bigstar$ . No. 2 is a good  $1 \bigstar$  overcall. No. 3 is a fairly minimum  $1 \bigstar$  overcall. As for No. 4, pass is best. You have a poor suit and a minimum. An overcall is safer if you have a good suit or a good hand. You are not really anxious for a heart lead with that hand.

You have a poor suit, but you have a good hand and your side might have the preponderance of high-card points. Get in there with  $1 \mathbf{v}$ .

As you see, one-level overcalls can vary a great deal in strength. Your partnership should have some agreements on how to advance an overcall. Give high priority to raising overcaller's suit. I suggest you raise to the two level with 6-10 points and at least three trumps.

To make sure that your light one-level overcalls do not backfire, advancer (overcaller's partner) must be careful about raising overcaller's suit with a good hand. Suppose your left-hand opponent opens 1, partner overcalls 1, and you hold one of these two hands: (a.) & K 62  $\forall$ Q 7 62 &K 53 &A 7 6 (b) &A K 62  $\forall$ Q J 62 &K J  $\clubsuit$ 7 63

With hand (a),  $3 \bigstar$  is too high for you if partner holds No. 3. Opposite No. 3, hand (b) can tolerate the three level but nothing higher.

How can you manage to get a plus score when partner has a light overcall yet not miss your games when partner has a decent overcall? The solution is to use a cuebid response to show a limit raise or better of overcaller's suit. The opponents opened 1*, so 2* is a cuebid, and that is what you bid. Partner will assume you have a limit raise and will act accordingly, signing off in 2 with hand 3. You will pass partner's 2 signoff holding hand (a) but will make another move toward game with hand (b) to show you actually have more than a limit raise. Partner will rebuff your second attempt with a weak overcall but will accept with a minimum opening hand.

There are other adjustments to make. Overcaller's partner (the advancer) needs a five-card suit to change suits. Your partnership will have to decide if a change of suit is forcing. Many pairs treat new suits by advancer as non-forcing, which makes those light one-level overcalls a bit safer. For safety, you will also want to strengthen advancer's notrump bids. Respond 1NT to an overcall with about 8-11 points; jump to 2NT with about 12-14 points.

If you can tolerate these adjustments in responding plus the uncertainty of not knowing how good partner's overcall is, consider broadening your range for one-level overcalls. You will be involved in more auctions and making a nuisance of yourself to the opponents. Most pairs can reach their best spot in an uncontested auction. You make it harder for them when you compete.

Lead commentary: They don't come any more obvious than this.

Play commentary: This deal exemplifies the type of overview declarer must take before playing to the first trick. Ostensibly, there are three losers, two diamonds and a contract that looks relatively easy, be sure to ask yourself if anything can go wrong (Murphy's Law). If there is some danger, ask yourself if there is any way to overcome it. You have to do this kind of thinking early. Later may be too late!

All Pass

Opening lead: ♥2.

Bidding commentary: Facing a passed hand, South should forget about slam and simply bid 4. South needs very little in partner's hand to make 4. A good partner will have what you need. If partner doesn't have it, it's partner's fault.

spade. But the bidding and the opening lead must be considered as well. It is clear that the opening lead is a singleton. It is also clear than when East gets in with the  $\bigstar A$ , East can and will give partner a heart ruff. The ruff ,along with the A K, spells down one. However, declarer has a counter: Win the  $\mathbf{V}$ K and discard the  $\blacktriangleleft A$  on the  $\clubsuit A!$ Applause. Goodbye, heart ruff. Declarer winds up losing two diamonds and a spade. When playing a game in the second final session allowed them to win by about one-half board.

Houde is a mortgage broker and insurance agent in St. Augustine FL. Ghargava is a nuclear engineer in Richmond VA. They play several times a year now. Their bidding system is "2/1 with lots of gadgets," according to Bhargava

In second place were John Klayman of Haymarket VA and Lawrence Lau of Westport CT. They scored 58.79% in the afternoon and 66.03% in the evening. This was slightly better than the winners, but the winners had more carryover from yesterday's play.

Klayman is a computer engineer who works on big mainframe computers creating network software. Lau is a retired banker. They used to play in college, and, like Houde and Bhargava, didn't play together for nearly 30 years. They began playing regularly again two years ago.

Yayoi French of Kirkland WA and Andrew Sherrill of Bellevue WA finished in third place more than two boards behind second.

showed that he is as generous as he is successful at the bridge table," Zia said. "He is a world champion in both."

Also noteworthy, Zia said, was a donation of 10,000 pounds by the World Bridge Federation from the annual Charity Pairs. Zia said WBF President Jose Damiani has earmarked proceeds from the 2007 WBF Charity Pairs for the Pakistan school. ACBL clubs can participate in the Charity Pairs by contacting Anna Gudge at anna@ecats.co.uk. The games are scheduled for Monday through Friday, Jan. 22-26, 2007.

Zia said it is hoped that construction can begin on the school toward the end of the year. He said he plans to visit Pakistan after the NABC to help select a site for the construction.

Meanwhile, the names of 15 raffle ticket purchasers have been selected at random. Names will be drawn before the end of the NABC for the game with Zia.

McDevitt now a Grand Life Master

Pat McDevitt, two-time North American champion, is now a Grand Life Master, having surpassed 10,000 masterpoints as his squad has advanced in the Senior Knockout Teams. The five-man team was playing the semifinal round on Wednesday.

McDevitt was born in Ireland but has lived in the U.S. for four decades. "I've been a Yank for 40 years," he says. He lives in Brookline MA, in the Boston area. A former consulting engineer, he now manages some real estate he owns.

A Grand Life Master is a player with 10,000 or more masterpoints and at least one North American championship. McDevitt was on the winning Senior KO team in 2000, and he and Steve Gladyszak won the six-session Life Master Pairs in 2005.

His regular partners are Lloyd Arvedon and Ron Newburg. He is playing with Richard DeMartino and Jeff Brod on the Senior KO team in Honolulu.

Hawaii for Dummies

"Water, water everywhere, and not a drop to drink." Well, luckily, there is plenty of drinkable water here (most areas don't even need to chlorinate it). But the supply is not infinite; and that bothers the planners.

The Hawaiian Islands are semi-submerged volcanic mountains. And volcanic rock is porous. As rain falls and seeps down underneath, it becomes available to our pipes and pumps.

Way down underground, the water lands on top of the water that seeps in from the ocean: salt water.

Salt water is heavier then fresh water, so the fresh water down there stays on top of the ocean water – and will continue to do so unless we start pumping too much out — like when our growing population and industry get too big and too thirsty.

That's why our planners worry.

Here's a Hawaii tradition in verse

NAP/GNT conditions of contest

The North American Pairs and Grand National Teams were created initially with the expectation that players would play in and represent the districts in which they lived. They were to be "grass roots" events.

Over the past several years, implementation of this original intent has become increasingly difficult. This is especially true in the top flight of the GNT as expert partnerships are established over increasingly large geographical distances.

Partnerships in all flights were also affected mostly where districts abut one another.

In an effort to restore the integrity of the original intent to these two great events, the ACBL Board of Directors, after lengthy and extended deliberations over two years, has approved for implementation the following measures:

Effective July 1, 2006 for the GNT 2006/2007 event.

Effective April 1, 2007 for the NAP 2007/2008 event.

GNT: A member's principal physical residence as of Sept. 1 of the year prior to the National Final shall establish the district in which said member is eligible to participate beyond the club qualifying stage, if any.

NAP: A member's principal residence as of June 1 of the year prior to the National Final shall establish the district in which the member is eligible to participate beyond the club level, if any.

In order to ensure that each participant at the unit or district level understands that a participant is affirming his or her eligibility, entry forms for unit and district finals should include the following statement: "By entering this event, I hereby certify, subject to penalties provided in the Conditions of Contest for the event and the ACBL Code of Disciplinary Regulations, that I am eligible to play in this event in this district."

It is expected that there will be virtually no exceptions to the residence requirements for participants in this event. A player seeking an exception must obtain permission in writing from the ACBL District Director representing the district in which the member has a principal residence and from the ACBL District Director representing the district in which the member wishes to play.

Both District Directors must approve the request for the exception to be granted. The player must begin this process by April 1 of the year prior to the National Final for the NAP and by July 1 of the year prior to the National Final for the GNT.

An ACBL Credentials Committee (CC), composed of ACBL Board members, has been established to clarify in which district a player is allowed to participate when said player's eligibility is in question. When a challenge to one's eligibility from a unit final stage or later stage has been made, the CC may request documentary evidence from the member whose eligibility is in question. If a member is unable to verify to the CC's satisfaction that he or she is playing in the district of principal residence, the CC shall automatically disqualify the member and his or her partner and teammates (if the event is the GNT). When a member is disqualified by the CC, the CC may refer the matter to the ACBL President. Upon such referral, the ACBL President may make charges to the ACBL Disciplinary Committee in accordance with section 2.2.3 (d) of the ACBL Code of Disciplinary Regulations. The ACBL recognizes that implementation of these measures may inconvenience some members who were granted exceptions for previous events. The general consensus, however, is that implementation and strict interpretation of these measures is necessary to restore the initial intention ("grass roots") and, therefore, integrity of application of the conditions of these events.

Pairs, Reisinger Board-a-Match Teams, Keohane North American Swiss Teams, Kaplan Blue Ribbon Pairs, Mitchell Open Board-a-Match Teams, Marsha May Sternberg Women's Board-a-Match Teams and the Senior Knockouts. The entry fees for these contests are $18 per player per session.

Players must also be current ACBL members to play in the Mini-Blue Ribbon Pairs, Miles Non-Life Master Pairs or National 99er Pairs. The entry fee is $16.50 per player per session.

Regional championships are $15.50 per player per session for ACBL members, $17.50 for nonmembers.

All other events are $14.50 per player per session for ACBL members, $16.50 for non-members.

NABC Diary

Shawn and Joe's Excellent Adventure

If you encounter Shawn Quinn at this tournament and hear her speaking words that sound strange to you, don't be concerned. She's just practicing her Polish. Shawn and husband Joe will soon be moving to Poland. In fact, he is already there on his new assignment from the Fluor Corporation, an engineering and construction firm.

The Quinns have sold their home in Richmond TX in the Houston area and Shawn will be leaving for Poland in mid-December. They will be living in Krakow.

Shawn is determined to be a good guest in her new country, so she has been listening to audio tapes in an attempt to develop at least a modest proficiency in Polish.

The Quinns plan to scope out the bridge club in their new home – they will be there two to three years, says Shawn - and plan a report for the ACBL Bridge Bulletin at some point next year.

Meanwhile, Shawn says she is looking forward to the new adventure. "I'm going to practice being a spoiled ex-patriot wife."

Partnership bridge

After the first board of a round in the Blue Ribbon Pairs, a woman's partner and an opponent began a lengthy discussion of the deal.

"Partner," said the woman, "please be quiet."

"Well," said partner, "he asked me a question." The last word (from her): "Who do you want to make happy? Me or the opponent?"

Birthday, part 6

Goodwill Chair Aileen Osofsky was in the Daily Bulletin office the other night. She had been reading all the stuff about Chief TD Rick Beye and his birthday, and she couldn't help asking how old he was on the special day (last Saturday).

Rick responded in jest: "Seventy."

"Oh," said Osofsky, "that's nice."

When Beye appeared crestfallen at her ready acceptance of his statement, Osofsky compounded the affront by adding innocently, "Well, you could be."

Since that time, Rick has been contemplating throwing himself off his lanai.

On the subject of the birthday boy, here's more from Linda Granell:

"We all know that we like Rick, our famous birthday boy. But in Hawaii, to like Rick is redundant, as his name in Hawaiian is Like. Have some fun with Rick's name next year when you give him a card. Anagram Rick Beye and you'll get Icky Beer."

Don't call me Shirley

In the Daily Bulletin office on Wednesday, Marketing Director Linda Granell was making a point about events with a "mini" designation in front of them, such as the Mini-Blue Ribbon Pairs at the Fall NABC. According to Linda, who sends out press releases about NABC winners, it's tough to get newspaper editors to take an event seriously when it's called a "mini" something. Sharon Fairchild, soon to assume the role of ACBL President for 2007, was in the room, so Linda said, semifacetiously, "Will you take care of that, Sharon?" As it happened, TD Patty Johnson was standing nearby at the copying machine and, unaware that Linda was talking to Fairchild, responded, "Okayif you don't call me Sharon."

Simpatico By John Wignall

After a delayed flight from New Zealand, I arrived here on Sunday evening, and at breakfast the next day I met with Joan and Dan Morse. We were joined by a tall, handsome guy, a member of the Dallas mob and a friend of Dan and Bob Hamman. He was looking for a partner. And that is how I came to play with Norman Beck in the Ruth Tschumy Open Pairs.

For an absolutely new partnership we did well, finishing second, and if I had kept awake we might have done better. This was one of our better boards.

Against the spade game, Norman started with the &K. With four clubs I would have raised right away, so the delayed raise almost certainly showed only three. So when I followed with the ♣3, it was suit preference, showing a high card in diamonds.

Norman quickly received the message, switching to the  $\mathbf{A}$  and another to my ace. I played a third round for Norman to ruff, putting the contract down one.

It is nice defenses like that, with someone you met the same day, that for me make this game so wonderful.

Convention card reminder

Each player is required to have a convention card filled out legibly and on the table throughout a session. Both cards of a partnership must be identical and include the first and last names of each member of the partnership.

If a director determines that neither player has a substantially completed card, the partnership may play only the Standard American Yellow Card and may use only standard carding. This restriction may be lifted only at the beginning subsequent round after convention cards have been properly prepared and approved by the director. Further, the partnership will receive a 1/6 board matchpoint penalty for each board played, commencing with the next round and continuing until the restriction is lifted. In IMP team games, penalties shall be at the discretion of the director. If the director determines the partnership has at least one substantially completed convention card but has not fully complied with ACBL regulations, the director may give warnings or assign such penalties as he deems to be appropriate under the circumstances.

Thankful

Lost and found

Three lost items have been turned into the Daily Bulletin office. There is a cell phone, a camera, a pair of glasses and a ring. The room is located in the Iolani Suite II. The hotel also has a lost and found. Dial 54 and ask guest services to connect you.

The objective of these warnings and penalties is the encouragement of full compliance with ACBL regulations.

"I was thinking today that I have the best life that there ever was." Suzanne St. Thomas, Salem OR (at left)

"I'm thankful for life. I heard it said today that bridge is a celebration of life and there definitely is truth in that." Kathy Bye, Vancouver BC

"I'm thankful for my wonderful wife and good friends."

Hawaii 1983: A look back

It has been 23 years since Hawaii hosted a North American Bridge Championship. In 1983, the Spring NABC took place at the Hilton Hawaiian Village. This is part three of a look back at well-played deals from that tournament.

Aggressive bidding pays off for winners

Jo Morse and Evelyn Levitt won the Women's Pairs. This deal is an example of how their aggressive bidding and excellent hand evaluation paid off.

Morse felt they had a fit in one of the minor suits because of Levitt's 1NT bid. After hearing the 3♥ bid, Morse made a slam try with 3♠, and Levitt leapt to the club slam. Although the combined point count for North-South is only 27, the contract was laydown.

Morse and Levitt extracted the maximum from the following deal in the first final session of the Women's Pairs. Not only did they drive their opponents too high with their interference bidding, they also found a way to take a vital extra trick.

Caught up in the doubling and redoubling, East decided to get into the act. His double of the redouble was ruled illegal, and the director was summoned. When the penalties had been applied, his partner was barred, he had to change his bid to a legal one, and his side was subject to lead penalties if they became defenders.

South politely asked West to lead a club and was pleased to see the .9 hit the table. It was covered with the 10, jack and queen and from that point, there was not a lot to the play to take 11 tricks.

Declarer crossruffed diamonds and spades for a bit and at one point passed the  $\clubsuit6$  successfully. He eventually drew trumps and gave up a couple of diamonds in the end to score plus 650 for 9 matchpoints out of 12.

An unusual bid, but it paid off

Shirley Blum, after discovering that her side had a spade fit, bid a three-card suit — and when her partner raised, she passed! The deal came up in the first round of the Vanderbilt Knockout Teams.

Great contract, great lead, great switch

This deal came up in the final session of the Men's Pairs. Dave Berkowitz and Barry Crane found their best contract, and it seemed impregnable, given expert play. Berkowitz certainly is an expert — but he went down.

Crane's 5NT Grand Slam Force was well conceived. If partner went to  $7\Psi$ , Crane rated to be able to take 13 tricks and could correct to 7NT. Otherwise Berkowitz could play the small slam in hearts.

Bruce Ferguson, West, came up with a diabolical lead, based on the knowledge that almost all the high cards were going to show up on his left. He put the  $\bigstar 10$  on the table. Berkowitz took this with the ace and led a heart to the jack and another to the queen and ace. Now it was Mark Lair's turn to shine. He thought for about two minutes before leading . . . a club!

Now that communications for a squeeze were broken, Berkowitz was left with only two reasonable plays for his contract — the  $\diamond Q$  onside or the  $\diamond Q$  offside, in which cause it could be picked up by a ruffing finesse. Can anyone blame him for placing the  $\diamond Q$  with East? He tried the ruffing finesse and went down one.

North-South were unable to perform a scientific exploration for the best contract. North's pass over 5♦ showed one ace, so South went to slam. Levitt had no trouble doubling.

Morse led the  $\bigstar K$ , and Levitt overtook with the ace to return a club. Declarer won, led to the  $\bigstar A$  and continued a spade to East's king. But Levitt saw that her second trump trick would go by the boards if she defended woodenly. So she led a diamond, deliberately offering declarer a ruff-sluff. Declarer shed a club and ruffed in dummy, but now there was no trump to lead through Levitt to pick up her  $\bigstar 10\ 8\ 7$ . So she took a second spade, and Morse still had to get a club trick. Down three doubled earned Morse-Levitt a clear top.

Sid Levey raised spades the first time with three, then raised hearts the second time with four. Blum decided to stay with hearts because she could take a diamond ruff in the short hand.

Blum ruffed the second diamond and cashed her  $\checkmark$ A J. Then she led to the  $\clubsuit$ A and drew the rest of the trumps. It was clear at this point that West had started with a lot of red cards, so she gave long thought to how to play the clubs. Finally she led the  $\clubsuit$ J and let it ride. That gave her five clubs, four trumps and a diamond ruff — 10 tricks and her contract. Her teammates took a save against 4 and went down 500, so making 4 was worth 3 IMPs.

Why was Lair's club play so brilliant? Because declarer can make the hand irrespective of where the  $\diamond Q$  is with a different lead. Many players would return a heart, leaving it up to declarer to fend for himself. But here's what would happen. Berkowitz would cash the  $\diamond A$  and  $\diamond K$  and ruff a spade. Then he would run his hearts. This would be the position as Berkowitz prepared to lead his last trump:

When declarer leads that last trump, Ferguson would have to hold on to the AQ, so he'd have to give up a club. Declarer could throw the AJ from dummy, and East would feel the pinch. He would have to keep the AK, so would have to release a club. Now declarer could take four club tricks and score up his slam. Lair saw this coming and took the necessary step to put the kibosh on declarer.

Seven feet of pure sweat

Root's jump to  $2 \checkmark$  was a weak jump shift. West led his singleton  $\diamond 3$  and East took his top honors, West discarding the  $\clubsuit 8$ . He then led his  $\diamond 2$  to give West a ruff. West shifted to the  $\bigstar K$  and Root took the ace and led the  $\diamond Q$  to discard his other club. West ruffed again and led a club, which Root ruffed. Root advanced the  $\blacklozenge Q$ , covered by the king and ace as East discarded a diamond. Declarer then led another heart to the jack and took the spade finesse. Then he ruffed a club, just in case West had another one. Root then led his last trump, putting West in to lead away from the  $\bigstar K$ . The defense got three trumps and two diamonds, but Root picked up the marbles for making  $2 \checkmark$ .

South made a typical matchpoint double, hoping for the magic plus 200.

North led the  $\forall 8$  to the 9, 10 and king, and declarer led a diamond to the 10 and ace. A club to the ace was followed by a second heart to dummy's ace. Declarer ruffed a club and led a diamond towards the queen. North won the  $\diamond K$  and led a club, so declarer ruffed and led a diamond to the queen, leaving this position with South still to play:

South erred by throwing a spade. True, if he throws a heart, declarer can set up a heart trick, but that is only his eighth trick and he is one down. On the actual spade discard, it was easy for declarer to play the A and another spade, ducking to the doubleton king and so making three spade tricks and nine in all for plus 670.

Though South's spade discard as an error, the contract is still cold even if he keeps all his spades. The auction – double showed a constructive overcall, remember – marks North with the AK, and he is surely 2=2=3=6. After drawing North's last trump, declarer leads a low tell that it was right to lead a third club. He made the natural switch to spades, choosing the deuce as his lead. The 10 would have worked better.

Root played low from dummy and captured the jack with the king. Then he led a spade to dummy's ace and returned a heart to finesse the jack. West won with the king after long and painful thought, gladdening Root's heart since it was then obvious that North had the queen.

West returned a diamond and Root discarded his club on the second diamond, repeated the heart finesse, cashed the  $\forall A$  and eventually discovered that the  $\bigstar 10$  dropped.

If West leads another club at trick three, Root can ruff in dummy but cannot finesse hearts twice. Further, if West leads the  $\bigstar 10$  at trick three, Rood can win in dummy, but cannot finesse in spades and twice in hearts.

On the very next board, Root again got to a doubtful contract and pulled another Houdini:

spade off dummy, ducking to North's 10. He ruffs the club return and plays a spade to the king and ace, then finesses the  $\blacktriangle 9$  and has nine tricks.

And if we switch around the &8 and &10? Now North wins the &8 and had better return the king. If he instead plays a thoughtless club, South is squeezed and declarer is again home.

Monitoring

At this and future North American Championships, ACBL will be monitoring NABC+ events with visible, real-time cameras. The images will be recorded and will be available for later official inspection and review.

By general monitoring of the session and participants' behavior, ACBL has another source of information that may be useful in determining facts and settling issues arising from some types of ethical and behavioral complaints or actions. Please summon a director if a problem occurs at the table.

This procedure is intended to assure everyone that the playing field is level and that misbehavior will not be tolerated.

The rocky road to Templeogue By Sabine Auken

Twelve stars from Europe battling it out against 12 stars from the United States. Every match a point. No prize money at stake, only honor, pride and a prestigious trophy. You may be thinking Ryder Cup and you might be right. But this is a bridge column, not a golf column. So you should be thinking Buffett Cup.

Based on the same ideas as the Ryder Cup, the inaugural Buffett Cup took place in September this year during the days leading up to the golfing event at the same destination, Dublin in Ireland. Daniela and I were honored and very proud to be a member of the European team, and like everyone else on both teams we were determined to give our best. Our Irish hosts had done everything in their power (if not even more) to create the best possible conditions and give all the stars their due shine.

A group of volunteers had worked hard for months to renovate Templeogue, the home of the Irish Bridge Association, where the event was to be staged. The result was no less than breathtaking. Never have I seen a place more suited and prepared with such attention to detail to stage a bridge event. Nothing had been left to chance, and everything was done very professionally throughout. For the occasion the organizers had even set up two trailers in the backyard, one for each team, to use as their home base, compare scores, relax between matches, get refreshments and so on. Only the respective team members were allowed in there, nobody else. And to top it off there were even set up flower boxes with pretty and colourful flowers on the roofs of the trailers. Did I say attention to detail?

A bit inconveniently, however, both teams stayed at a hotel at the other end of town for the duration of the event. And a daily tee-time of 10 a.m. seemed to bode ill regarding the sleep department and time spent in rush-hour traffic. No problem for the Irish organizers. As though it was the smallest problem in the world, they had arranged for a police escort for the bus transporting us all to the playing site. Every morning, five policemen on motorbikes accompanied our bus and blazed a trail through Dublin rush-hour traffic, waving all the cars to the roadside and making everybody wonder who the important people inside that bus were.

The form of scoring was novel for bridge. We would be playing first pairs, then teams and finally an individual competition. The captains of the two teams (Paul Hackett for Europe and Donna Compton for the U.S.) decided which of their pairs would play together as teams. Every European pair, team and player was matched with an American counterpart in the respective events.

Counterparts would never meet one another at the table. Rather they would always sit in the same direction at a different table trying to outscore their respective counterparts on as many boards as possible. Scoring was simple point-aboard. The pair, team or player winning most boards in a match would score a certain number of "championship points" for their "team" (Europe or U.S.) in the overall standings, with the number of championship points at stake depending on the form of competition (pairs, teams or individual). Okay, it was designed to be rather simple, but turned out to be rather complicated. Next time this will certainly be changed.

After the pairs competition the score was level. After the teams competition, Europe had taken the lead, we were up by 9. Everybody was looking forward to the individual competition with anticipation. The consensus was that the Americans would have an edge because of greater familiarity with the methods they were using. The European players generally play vastly different systems and methods and might have more problems being on the same wavelength. At least that was what the Americans were hoping for. And they were proven right, in the end the Americans prevailed by 23 championship points.

But there were no real losers. In terms of publicity and the promotion of bridge, the inaugural Buffett Cup was a huge success. And we were all happy to have contributed to it in various ways, no doubt some of us by keeping the spectators entertained and amused with strangelooking plays, convincing them they could have done much better themselves at home in their local club.

Here is some of the action. I picked up this hand as South:

▲KQ984 ♥A1092 ♦K2 ♣85

We had reached the individual phase, and after four rounds, Europe's lead had shrunk to 1. In the fifth round, I was playing with Geir Helgemo against Jill Levin and Bob Hamman. How would you have bid my hand? Nobody was vulnerable.

Should I pass or go on to  $4 \mathbf{v}$ ? Unfamiliarity with my partner's style played a big role here. I didn't quite know how much to expect from him for his raise to  $3 \mathbf{v}$ . It looked to me like we were likely to lose three tricks in the minors. Hamman's bidding seemed to indicate an adverse major-suit split, which would be bound to complicate the play of the hand, even if we had all the high cards in the majors. So I talked myself into passing. Jill Levin led the \$2, and Geir put down his beautiful dummy, a bit too beautiful to make me feel happy about my pessimistic decision.

This is what I saw:

I played low from dummy awaiting further developments. Hamman won the  $\clubsuit$ K, cashed the • A and continued with a low diamond to my king, Jill Levin showing a doubleton. How should I go about the play of this hand?

suit instead of a diamond from her doubleton? Most likely she was looking at a four-card trump holding with a possible trump trick and had decided to play for a forcing game rather than a ruff with what might turn out to be a natural trump trick.

So far, so good. If my assumptions were right, Hamman had a doubleton spade and a singleton heart, making it odds on that both major-suit jacks would be on my left. If Jill's trump holding also included all the intermediates, i.e. J 8 7 5 or J 8 7 3, the timing of the play would be very delicate. In order to make 10 tricks I would have to take a first-round finesse against the jack in either one of the majors. (If Hamman held the singleton  $\forall 8$  or  $\bullet$ 7, there would be other successful but more involved lines.)

It seemed right and clearly it would be more exciting, so at trick four I played a spade to the 10. longer have been necessary to finesse in spades. By just playing spades from the top before continuing to draw trumps, I would have been able to both handle the doubleton jack on my right and four to the jack on my left, ruffing the fourth round of spades in dummy if necessary.

As it was, Hamman could have beaten even 3♥ now by cashing his high club and then continuing with a diamond. But as the opening club lead could have been from four to the jack, he immediately continued with the  $\blacklozenge Q$ .

I desperately wanted to avoid the embarrassment of going down in  $3 \checkmark$  at this point. Clearly, I had to discard my club loser now on the diamond. I ruffed the next diamond with the  $\mathbf{v}2$  in my hand, which would be imperative in case Jill's heart holding was J 8 7 5 or J 8 7 3. Jill did well not overruffing but discarding a club instead, but it didn't matter. I could take the marked finesse against her trump jack and then just keep playing spades, finishing with nine tricks. "Well done," Hamman said, nodding appreciatively. Somehow losing the board didn't hurt quite as much any more.

unimportant role in various choices of action throughout the entire event so far, and this deal was no exception. Making 3♥ didn't seem to pose any great problems. If the table we were comparing with had reached  $4 \mathbf{V}$ , overtricks wouldn't matter at all. But if they also had stopped in the heart partial, my line of play and the resulting number of tricks would be decisive. Taking this into consideration, it had to be right to go for the maximum number of tricks. The only question that remained was how.

The play to the first tricks indicated that Hamman held a 6-4 distribution in the minors, leaving him with only three cards in the majors. If hearts broke 5-0, it would be impossible to win 10 tricks. With a void in spades, Hamman probably would have played a higher diamond at trick three to ask for a spade ruff. So I discarded those two possibilities from my thoughts.

Why had Jill led a club from her three-card

Because of the implications of the choice of opening lead, the assumption of four hearts to the jack on my left is more conclusive than four to the jack in spades. So I should have started by running the  $\mathbf{v}10$  at trick four instead. Then it would no

There are many people who make a difference in this game we enjoy. This section of your Daily Bulletin recognizes individuals who have contributed time, talent and other resources for positive change. Although space constraints limit what can be communicated about each person's contributions, we are sure that you will agree that each individual has made a lasting impact on this wonderful activity called bridge

In Memory of Jim Bishop Day

Jim Bishop's family and friends are taking this opportunity to recognize the many contributions Jim made to Hawaii bridge. Jim served for many years as president, treasurer and a member of the board of the Hawaiian Contract Bridge Units Association that sponsors the Hawaii Regional. He is remembered for his integrity, unselfishness and non-judgmental character. Jim had a strong passion for bridge. He was a Diamond Life Master with more than 5000 Masterpoints.

Making a difference

Hansa Narasimhan

Hansa's team won the 1989 Women's National Teams in India. After this accomplishment she moved to the United States and took an extended break from the bridge table. She has recently resumed playing at the national level and has two North American titles and one runner-up title since 2004. Her team represented the U.S. in the 2005 World Championships in Portugal, where the team finished a respectable fourth place. In 2006, the team competed in the World Championships in Verona, Italy, and brought home a silver medal.

Johnnie Sue Dayton

Although Johnnie Sue Dayton was born in Texas, her heart has been in Hawaii since she moved here in 1971. Her interest in bridge began in Hawaii in the early Nineties. She is currently a resident of Lubbock TX, but she enjoys four months each year in Honolulu. She has many friends she continues to enjoy as bridge partners. She wanted to help sponsor the NABC to show her support for the Hawaii Unit and hopes that Hawaii can host another NABC in the future.

Hamman leading in Player of Year race

Bob Hamman, the first ACBL Player of the Year, was the leader in the 2006 race at the start of the Fall NABC in Hawaii. His total of 559.59 platinum masterpoints put him just ahead of Bjorn Fallenius, who had 552.14 at the start of the tournament. Player of the Year standings before the NABC started. The list will be updated after the Blue
