TDs from Texas

Check this space each day for profiles of Texas-based ACBL Tournament Directors that are working here at the Dallas NABC.

If there's one thing in life that really motivates Doris Allen, it's a challenge. Growing up in Palestine in east Texas, she faced the challenge of keeping up with three older brothers. Later, she took on the responsibilities of running five beauty shops in her home town of Harlingen TX. Then there was the daunting task of learning to play bridge, whence came her career change to tournament director, along with a whole new set of hurdles to leap.

Allen is one of a contingent of Texas tournament directors working the Spring NABC in Dallas, and she is known as one of the best.

"It's very satisfying," she says, "to go to a table where there's an uproar and leave with everyone happy. I love calming the waters."

That's easier said than done in many cases, but Allen has never passed up an opportunity to test herself.

After high school, she made her way to Dallas to attend the Marinello Beauty School. She married Bert Allen and moved with him to the Rio Grande Valley. In Harlingen, she started Curls & Things, her first beauty shop, then gradually expanded to four others. She managed that challenge with "really good help."

In the early Nineties, Allen was working on a customer who mentioned that a woman named Betty Rapp was going to start teaching bridge. Allen went for the 10-part series. On the final day of the class, Allen and a friend were drafted to fill out the movement at the Harlingen Bridge Club. They came in last, but Allen was hooked.

Five years later, the director at the bridge club encouraged Allen to take the director's test, opening up more ways for her to find out that she could do something she never thought she could. She has been a full-time TD since 2003.

Last summer, the Professional Tournament Directors Association selected Allen as the recipient of the Fred Friendly Award, named for the late TD Paul Stehly, whose nickname was Fred Friendly because of the way he related to players.

Tom Whitesides, ACBL's field representative for the area that includes Allen's home town, say the players relate to Allen as well as she does to them. "Everyone loves Doris," Whitesides said last

Meckstroth, Johnson lead Open Pairs

Jeff Meckstroth and Perry Johnson posted the high score in the qualifying round of the Silodor Open Pairs. Meckstroth and Johnson led the field of 314 pairs with a two-session total of 1291.82 (988 average, 38 top), a performance of eight boards above average.

In second with 1203.08 were George Jacobs and Alfredo Versace. In last year's event, Jacobs and Versace set a pairs record by posting a 78.23% score in the first qualifying session.

In third place are local players Jeff Olson and Derrell Childs.

156 pairs have survived to today's two-session final.

The Goren Club

It's a Sunday afternoon in 1961, and the television is tuned to ABC. We know it's time when we hear "Music to Play Bridge By" and we see Alex Drier introducing this week's segment of "Championship Bridge with Charles Goren."

The ACBL is producing a full season of the series in an exclusive gift set. The original 16-mm film has been transferred to DVD and is being edited and packaged.

The table talk of the players is delightful, and Goren's overly dramatized commentary is a history lesson in bidding — though we find even then a frisky Arthur Glatt opening 1NT with a mere 15 points! Goren cautions his viewers that this may be tried only in the hands of an expert!

The segments also feature such legends as B.Jay Becker, Easley Blackwood, Dorothy Hayden Truscott, Lew Mathe, Sonny Moyses, Helen Sobel and Sam Stayman.

"Championship Bridge" is just one of the projects under way as we prepare for the ACBL's 75th Anniversary in 2012 and creation of the American Contract Bridge Museum.

You can support the program with a purchase of a Goren Club Pin for just $10. Contributions are

Becker elected to Hall of Fame

Michael Becker of Boca Raton FL is the newest member of the ACBL Bridge Hall of Fame. Becker, 62, received more than half of the votes cast by the approximately 300 Hall of Fame electors, surpassing the 50% requirement for induction to the prestigious body.

A WBF World Life Master, Becker was a member of the victorious squad in the 1983 Bermuda Bowl. He is also an ACBL Grand Life Master with almost 12,000 masterpoints and 10 NABC victories: five in the Vanderbilt Knockouts, four in the Spingold Knockouts and one in the von Zedtwitz Life Master Pairs.

Becker joins his father, the late B. Jay Becker, as a member of the Hall of Fame. The Beckers are the now the second father-son pair in the Hall — the first was Oswald and Jim Jacoby.

A full report will follow the Hall of Fame induction ceremony at the Summer NABC in Chicago.

Cohen receives sportsmanship honor

Ralph Cohen has been named the 2006 recipient of the Sidney H. Lazard Jr. Sportsmanship Award. The award will be presented at the ACBL Bridge Hall of Fame banquet during the Summer NABC in Chicago.

Cohen, of Memphis TN, is an ACBL Grand Life Master with four NABC titles. Canadian by birth, Cohen has represented native country in international play, placing fourth in the World Team Olympiad in 1964. He is a WBF International Master.

Cohen was ACBL executive director from

JUST FOR NEW PLAYERS

IMP strategies

By Bruce Greenspan

It was in algebra we first learned the theorem, Knockouts = Masterpoints. You want to win masterpoints, play knockouts. In the bracketed knockouts, you are placed with 16 teams of similar ability. If you make it through two rounds, there is a big payoff.

If this is your first NABC, looking at the daily schedule can be confusing. We have teams, pairs and... what the heck is board-a-match?

The scoring in these events is completely different and so is the strategy. In pairs, for the most part, you receive one point for every pair sitting your direction that you beat and one-half for every pair you tie. These are called matchpoints, and at the end of the day, the pair with the most matchpoints wins.

In Swiss teams and knockouts, the scoring system is by IMPs (International Matchpoints). Look at the bottom of the convention card and you will see the IMP scale. Let's say you bid 4♥ and make plus 420. Say the opponents at your teammates' table aren't nearly as astute and end up in 3♥, making four, for plus 170. When you compare with your teammates, you will have plus 250 for your side. You look at the IMP scale and see that a difference of 250 is worth 6 IMPs. So you give your team plus 6 IMPs. Each board is compared in the same way.

In knockout teams, your score is by IMPs only.

If you are playing Swiss teams, at the end of each match, the tournament director will convert your team's IMP score to victory points (you can find the victory point scale on team scorecards). A board-a-match event is played somewhat like a pairs game but each board is played as a match. If you do better than the other pair on a board, you get one point. If they do better, you get zero. If the score is the same, each side receives half a point. You probably won't play many board-a-match games until you gain more experience.

IMP strategy

Games: bid the safest game. At matchpoints, you may get a markedly better score for playing in notrump instead of a major or in a major instead of a minor. IMP scoring, however, neutralizes the differences between these contracts. Your best strategy is to choose your best (longest) trump fit and bid the game that's most likely to make, even if it's 5♣ instead of 3NT. At matchpoints, you would have to put a gun to my head to play five of a minor instead of 3NT (my partners have done that for other reasons), but in teams, do it if it's safer.

If you're not vulnerable, don't stretch too far to bid a close game – the odds favor bidding only those games you are reasonably sure will make.

If you're vulnerable, it pays to be a little more optimistic when you're considering a thin game. The IMP odds (your potential gain if the contract makes) favor bidding any game that has even a 40% chance of making.

Part scores: look for the safest part score. Don't worry about searching for a few extra points by playing in notrump instead of a minor.

Overcalls: matchpoint players often make light overcalls, but at IMPs they should be solid. At the one level, you should have a good suit, and at the two level a full opener and a good suit.

Competing and balancing: Don't be too bold. Unless you have a good suit and good hand, let the opponents play in their low-level contracts, especially if you're vulnerable.

Doubles: there's little to gain and much to lose by making a penalty double of a close contract, especially a partscore.

The play

Overtricks: when you're declarer, don't risk your contract trying to make an overtrick. Always choose the safest line of play to make your find spades 4-3 and needs three dummy entries outside of the ♦A to set up the suit. West must start immediately on spade establishment before drawing trump. The trump suit serves as the entries to the spades! No point in establishing a long suit in dummy if you don't have enough side suit entries to dummy. And if you do have the entries and they are in the trump suit, don't squander them by drawing trumps prematurely.

Further play commentary: Given a normal 2-1 trump division, dummy has three trump entries to dummy providing West conserves the ♥2 to get to the ♥3 as the third dummy entry. The play should follow these lines, West conserving the ♥2 until the bitter end. ♦A, ♠A, spade ruff; heart to jack; spade ruff; heart to dummy; spade ruff high; ♥2 to the ♥3 to discard a loser on the fifth spade. Bravo!

When setting up dummy's long suit (no five-card suit in dummy should go unnoticed), and the only side suit entries to dummy are in the trump suit, use the trump entries to coordinate the long suit establishment. Also, declarer should be very careful to conserve a low trump if it can possibly be used as a later dummy entry.

contract, even if it might cost you an overtrick or two. An optimist sees the glass half full, a pessimist sees it half empty and a bridge player playing teams sees it cracked with water running out the bottom. Expect the worst and play safe to make the contract. If you lose by 1 IMP, don't call me.

Opening leads: be cautious about trying for a swing with an unusual opening lead. In the long run, it's usually best to make your normal lead.

Defense: be optimistic and fairly aggressive when defending the opponents' contracts. If there's a layout of the cards that will result in a set, choose your leads and plays to cater to that possibility, even if it means you may give up an overtrick if you're wrong.

summer in reference to her award. "She is always positive and upbeat."

Allen is also highly competent and always eager to prove herself. A case in point occurred in late 2001, when Whitesides, who lives in Dallas, was scheduled to run a sectional tournament in Beaumont in far southeast Texas. Whitesides couldn't make it because getting around by airplane was still difficult after the terrorist attacks.

Someone called Allen, who was nine hours away in Harlingen. She and Bert jumped in their car and drove to Beaumont, where Doris ran the tournament by herself. One of the tournament organizers wrote to ACBL Headquarters praising Allen for her willingness to intercede in the crisis — and for her skill in managing the tournament on her own.

To Allen it was just another challenge met and overcome. "I love people," she said, "and I want to make them happy."

Jim Robison

Today's Strati-Flighted Open Pairs are named in memory of Jim Robison who died last week.

ACBL Grand Life Master and World Champion Jim Robison died in his hometown of Las Vegas NV on Mar. 27. Robison's death came from complications suffered from a serious stroke he experienced in the fall of 2005. He was 63.

Robison was a professional bridge and poker player. His bridge titles included the 2004 World Senior Cup (Istanbul), the North American Swiss Teams (1979, 1990), the Reisinger Board-a-Match Teams (1984), the Open Pairs (1985) and the NABC+ IMP Pairs (1998).

He had five second-place finishes in national-level contests, including the 2005 Vanderbilt Knockout Teams. Robison's masterpoint total of 17,218 placed him 78th on the list of all-time masterpoint holders.

Expert Allan Falk said, "Most people know Jim was a first rate cash game and video poker player and an extraordinarily talented bridge player. Fewer are aware that Jim was once on the verge of becoming a professional golfer, after a collegiate career as a leading member of the then-dominant Ohio State University team that included Jack Nicklaus.

"Once you got to know Jim, which not infrequently required a certain level of pachydermatousness, he was amusing, witty, intelligent, charming, a brilliant raconteur, a boon companion, a ferociously competitive partner, and yet he could be vexing, annoying (most often by turning out to be entirely correct about some contrary position) and amusingly insulting. But, achieving what the title character in the classic gangster film "Little Caesar" never could, Jim could dish it out and take it as well, always with a laugh, whether on himself or someone else. Mike Passell once remarked that if Jim could only learn to bid, he'd easily be the best bridge player in the world, which is a scary thought in a lot of ways.

"Known among his friends as 'Robo' or 'The Robinator,' Jim was fun to be around, at or away from the table, and he had a remarkable talent for bringing out the best in people — usually because they were working extra hard to prove him wrong about something! He will be sorely missed as a player, a friend, and a presence."

Robison is survived by his wife, Carol Pincus, another world-class player with multiple NABC titles.

Winkle, Winkle Little Star

The stars of the North American Pairs, Flight A, were District 18's Gordon Campbell and Piotr Klimowicz who won the contest that ended Thursday evening. On this deal from the second qualifying session, the winners earned most of the matchpoints in the auction, and Campbell put the icing on the cake as declarer by uncovering a rare play — a winkle — to earn the maximum number of tricks for his side.

Dlr: East	♠ 9 7 6 2
Vul: None	♥ J 10 5
	♦ A J 2
	♣ J 9 8
	♠ A J 8 5	♠ Q 4

	♦ 7 6 4	♦ K Q 9 8 5
	♣ 10 6 5	♣ 3
	♠ K 10 3
	♦ 10 3
	♣ A K Q 7 4 2
West	North	East	South
	Klimowicz		Campbell
		1♥	2♣
Pass	Pass	2♦	Pass
2♥	3♣	All Pass

The defense began with three rounds of hearts, Campbell ruffing high. He then played three rounds of trump ending in dummy, discovering that West began with three clubs, East one.

From the bidding, it seemed likely that East had a 2=5=5=1 pattern, since with 3=5=4=1 she might have doubled instead of bidding 2♦ on the second round.

So Campbell played a spade to the king. If East ducked with a putative A-x, she could later be endplayed in diamonds.

West won the trick with the ace, however, and exited with a diamond. Campbell played low from dummy and East won the queen. The heart continuation was ruffed by declarer to leave this ending:

	♦ A J
♠ J 8		♠ Q
♥ —		♥ 2
♦ 6 4		♦ K 9
	♠ 10 3

Once West had shown up with ♠A, it was clear that East had started with the doubleton queen; Campbell could visualize the entire layout. Although it appears that he has two spade losers, the last trump forced the defense to abandon one of its winners. This is the nature of a winkle: it's a specialized type of squeeze in which the defenders are forced to choose between being forced to lead into a tenace or unblocking one of its potential winners.

On the last club, West was forced to part with a diamond since a spade discard would allow declarer to play a spade next, crashing the queen and jack. A spade was discarded from dummy. East was also under pressure, since a heart discard would allow declarer to exit with a spade to the queen. East would then be forced to lead a diamond from the K-x into dummy's A-J. East, therefore, had to discard the ♠Q on the last trump.

Campbell then cashed the ♦A, stripping West of his last card in that suit, and played a spade to West's jack. The last trick was declarer's.

Down one, but a terrific matchpoint score.

Second in the North American Pairs, Flight A, were Henry Lortz and Wayne Ohlrich of Seattle WA.

Memoirs of an Interloper

By Barry Rigal

Everyone knows the old joke "How do you get to Carnegie Hall?" "Practice, constant practice!" Not everyone knows the easy way to play in the North American Pairs at the NABC: arrive one minute before the evening session of the qualifier as a spectator and meet Mark Bartusek whose partner did not turn up.

While we scored enough to advance to the second day, we knew we were not eligible for the final, so there was no pressure on us at all. Here are some of the more interesting deals we encountered.

Dlr: West	♠ J 2
Vul: N-S	♥ 4
	♦ A J 10 4
	♣ A K 8 7 6 5
♠ 4		♠ A K Q 10 6 5
♥ A K Q 9 6 5		♥ 10 2
♦ K Q 5 2		♦ 7 6 3
♣ Q J		♣ 10 9
	♠ 9 8 7 3
	♥ J 8 7 3
	♣ 4 3 2

This is a tough deal for East-West. With an eight-card and a seven-card major fit, both featuring a near solid six-carder in one hand, which suit should you play in? Right, the seven-card fit.

4♥ is almost sure to be defeated. 4♠ has 10 tricks.

The defense to 4♥ is fun, too. At the table, the North player defended the heart game by cashing two top clubs to discover the position in that suit. Then he meanly shifted to spades, disrupting declarer's entries to dummy. (He was helped by the fact that South had given suit preference for the higher of the remaining suits — spades and diamonds — on the second high club.)

Declarer had a choice of unattractive plays. Though he could pitch one diamond loser on the spades, the third round of spades would get ruffed - from the short trump holding to boot. But leading a diamond after two rounds of spades was equally ineffective.

Minus 100 was worth only 5 matchpoints out of 35 for East-West.

Coincidentally the next two deals (rotated for convenience) also featured entry-disrupting plays in the spade suit.

The defense started with two top clubs. Declarer ruffed, led a spade to the jack, played a diamond to the queen, then drew all the trumps. The ♠Q went to the king and ace, followed by a second diamond play. East followed impassively with the jack, but declarer after due reflection put up the ♦K and had plus 450 for a 75% board.

Notice the difference if West alertly flies with the ♠K at trick three, blocking the spade suit.

Declarer takes the ace and leads a diamond to the king, but can't get back to dummy for a second diamond play. All he can do is duck a diamond. East wins the ♦J and pumps declarer with a third club. Declarer ruffs and gives up another diamond - even though West gets to pitch now, there is nothing the defense can do since even if East had a fourth club, the tap could be taken in dummy. Plus 420 would be average because quite a few pairs missed game with the North-South cards. At least East-West could be proud they had done their best.

And finally, there was this deal (see next column):

North-South climbed to 4♥ after an undisciplined auction: Playing New Minor Forcing maybe North has just enough to stretch to 3♥(?). The final contract is unedifying but not without play (despite the 4-1 trump split) because of the spade spots.

On a trump lead to the king and East's 9, the obvious play (if East has short hearts) is to run the ♠J, covered all round. Now declarer can simply draw trumps and run the ♠9 for 10 tricks. So is there a defense? Yes, but an unlikely one.

Consider an alternative defense — the tap. West leads a diamond and declarer must duck it and win the next. He then advances the ♠J covered by the king and ace. South now leads the ♥J and another heart and can't be stopped from using the ♣A as an entry after drawing trumps to run the ♠9.

What about this: after the diamond lead and continuation, when declarer plays the ♠J from dummy, try ducking! Say declarer reverts to trumps, leading the ♥K, ducked all round, and a heart to the jack, also ducked. In this ending, West wins the third heart and plays a diamond:

Memoirs

Declarer can still succeed. He ruffs the third diamond in dummy, creating a trump trick for West, but pitches a club loser from hand. Now he passes the ♠9 and has an answer for everything the defense can do.

So declarer wins, right? No! There is a defense. West must lead a diamond and declarer must duck it (if he takes it and plays a spade, the defense has the entry to get a spade ruff, then can sit back and wait for their club). East overtakes, and at trick two must shift to a club.

Declarer does best to put in the 9, covered by the 10. If he declines to win this in dummy, the defense must revert to diamonds (the ♣K exit is cute, but it doesn't work; declarer can eventually maneuver a black-suit squeeze against East!).

The ♦A wins, then when declarer leads the ♠J from the table, East ducks, and declarer's goose is finally cooked. West wins the third round of trumps, gives up a ruff-and-discard, and now the entries to the North hand are not good enough to pick up the spades.

Convention card reminder

- Each player must have an ACBL convention card filled out and on the table. Please note that other types of convention cards, such as the WBF convention card or homemade cards that do not sufficiently resemble the ACBL convention card, are not acceptable substitutes.

- Each player is required to have a convention card filled out legibly and on the table throughout a session. Both cards of a partnership must be identical and include the first and last names of each member of the partnership.

If a director determines that neither player has a substantially completed card, the partnership may play only the Standard American Yellow Card and may use only standard carding. This restriction may be lifted only at the beginning of a subsequent round after convention cards have been properly prepared and approved by the director. Further, the partnership will receive a 1/6 board matchpoint penalty for each board played, commencing with the next round and continuing until the restriction is lifted. In IMP team games, penalties shall be at the discretion of the director.

If the director determines the partnership has at least one substantially completed convention card but has not fully complied with ACBL regulations, the director may give warnings or assign such penalties as he deems to be appropriate under the circumstances.

The objective of these warnings and penalties is the encouragement of full compliance with ACBL regulations.

Ruling the Game

Disagreement as to the Number of Tricks Won

There are several issues that arise when the sides involved dispute the number of tricks won by the declarer. These issues revolve around questions regarding how disputes are settled and the correct procedure to follow when there is an error in tabulating the score.

Law 65 deals with the arrangement of tricks. It states that at the end of each trick, the players turn the cards they played face down on the table. If a player's side won the trick, he points the card he played at his partner. If the opponents won the trick, he points the card he played in their direction. Each player is responsible for arranging his played cards in an orderly overlapping row in the sequence played so as to permit a review of the play after its completion, if necessary, to determine the number of tricks won by each side or the order in which the cards were played. A player who fails to follow correct procedure as stated above or who prematurely mixes his cards loses the right to claim ownership of doubtful tricks or to claim a revoke.

I remember a player in my area who always arranged his cards into two piles, winners and losers. If ever the day had come when he and his opponents did not agree on the outcome of a hand, he would have lost all doubtful tricks.

So a good rule of thumb is not to disturb the order of your played cards until the result has been agreed up by all four players. If agreement cannot be reached, a review of the tricks is then possible. This also helps when there is a possibility of a revoke by one of the players. If the tricks are in the exact order that they were played, a review of the trick in question is possible. Of course, in cases of a possible revoke or a disagreement as to the number of tricks won, the director should be called to protect the rights of all concerned.

Even if we follow procedure to the letter, disagreements may arise subsequently to a score being recorded and/or posted. When that happens, whether the error is on the part of the players in agreeing on the result, or on the part of the score being recorded incorrectly either by a player or a director, it is still possible to make a correction. The law that covers this situation is 79C. It states that "an error in computing or tabulating the agreed-upon score, whether made by a player or scorer, may be corrected until the expiration of the period specified by the sponsoring organization. Unless the sponsoring organization specifies a later time, this correction period expires 30 minutes after the official score has been made available for inspection."

As players, we have responsibility to inspect our score when they have been posted to ensure that we have received the scores we earned in that session. When an error has been made, whether it is in our favor or against it, we must contact a director and ensure that the score is corrected in a timely fashion. In most cases, the grace period for a correction is typically greater than 30 minutes. At the NABCs, for example, you usually will have up until the start of the next session of play in your event (unless the error occurred in the last session of the last day of the tournament).

As you can see, this makes it important that you keep a private score. If there is a dispute, your private score is one way of protecting your equity. When you notice an error, contact a director and apprise him of the problem prior to the end of the correction period. If the error involves a director entering the wrong score in the machine, it is easy to get a correction made. If a player has recorded the score incorrectly and his opponents have approved the score as recorded, realizing later that it was not the score they agreed upon or if they realize later that they did not agree upon the right result, a change is still possible, but a little more complicated. When a correct score ticket has been turned in and one of the pairs involved realizes that they agreed upon the right number of tricks, the other side must agree to the change in score before it can be made. In some cases the director need not grant an increase in score once the round in which the error occurred has ended. For example, if the score from a Swiss match is reversed by the director doing the scoring, and the team who won the match does not point out the error immediately in the hopes of getting more favorable pairings, the director should not grant an increase in score in a later round. He should correct the other team's total, but not the team that turns in the error belatedly. This reflects the fact that the team captain's responsibility is to make sure that his team's score has been recorded accurately.

Play in a world championship

Your chance to play in a world championship without having to win a trials event is just around the corner — the 8th World Bridge Championships in Verona, Italy, this June.

Play begins June 10 with the Mixed Pairs and continues with a full slate of events, concluding June 24. Besides the Mixed Pairs, there are the Rosenblum and McConnell teams (open and women's respectively), Senior Teams, Open, Women's, Senior and IMP pairs.

All events are transnational — teams or pairs may be made up of players from any countries. There are no quotas or restrictions, but you must register for the tournament before May 8 through your national bridge organization. For players in North America, that would be the ACBL or the Canadian Bridge Federation. If you have questions, you may contact Ann Gudge, World Bridge Federation liaison, at anna@ecats.co.uk.

Verona is one of Italy's top cities, famous internationally as the setting for Shakespeare's Romeo and Juliet. Players who are interested in the rich culture and heritage of the area (Verona is only 68 miles from Venice) will find much to enjoy.

The playing facility is a modern, air conditioned convention center.

King/Queen of Bridge

Graduating from high school this year? If you're an ACBL member who plays and promotes bridge, why not apply to become the 2006 King or Queen of Bridge?

The winner was originally determined by total masterpoints but recent winners have been cited for deportment, demeanor and sportsmanship at the bridge table and for extra-curricular bridge activities such as teaching and directing.

The contest was established in 1973 by the late Homer Shoop and the International Palace of Sports, which he founded. The King or Queen of Bridge and other youth scholarships are funded by the International Palace of Sports Foundation.

The ACBL Educational Foundation, funded by a grant from the foundation, presents a $1000 scholarship to the winner. Previous winners include Jeff Meckstroth, Robert Levin, Steve Weinstein, Richard Pavlicek Jr., Brad Moss, Eric Greco, Kent Mignocchi, Joel Wooldridge and John Kranyak.

To enter, complete the application in the March Bridge Bulletin and mail or fax to ACBL before March 31. You may also enter via e-mail: charlotte.blaiss@acbl.org.

Notice to players

Each player must have an ACBL convention card filled out and on the table. Please note that other types of convention cards, such as the WBF convention card or homemade cards that do not sufficiently resemble the ACBL convention card, are not acceptable substitutes.

Adahl Tops 10,000

Darwin Afdahl, Virginia Beach VA, topped the 10,000 masterpoint plateau to advance to Platinum Life Master. Afdahl was an aviator in the U.S. Navy for 21 years where he made 281 landings on seven different aircraft carriers. He is now an insurance broker and a bridge teacher. Afdahl has served as president both for District 6 and for the Mid-Atlantic Bridge Conference. In addition to numerous regional wins, he placed 5th in the 1987 North American Swiss Teams and 9th in the 1989 Reisinger Teams.

In Memoriam

Albert Benjamin

Albert Benjamin, a Scottish player and club owner who had a major influence on bridge in Great Britain, has died at his home in Glasgow. He was 96.

Benjamin wrote a daily bridge column for the newspaper in his home town for 40 years and was the first in Scotland to make bridge his full-time profession, owning and running Glasgow's Kenmure Bridge Club. In 1964, he was a member of the first Scottish team ever to win the Camrose Trophy, previously monopolized by England.

His adaptation of Britain's most popular system, Acol, to include weak two-bids in the majors, is still played throughout the country.

Phil Brady

Phil Brady, a leading player on the East Coast, died Jan. 20 in Philadelphia after a long illness. He was 58. Brady was a Platinum Life Master with nearly 12,000 masterpoints to his credit. He had been a member of the ACBL National Appeals Committee since 1983 and was a fixture at NABCs for many years.

Doug Dang

Doug Dang, of San Mateo CA, died in March of cancer. He was 63.

Dang, an attorney, was a Diamond Life Master. He is survived by his wife, Gay, and two adult children.

Longtime partner Harvey Brody said, "Doug was a good guy who did favors for a lot of people. He played up to the day he died. As a player he was stubborn and competitive, and Doug insisted on playing four-card majors and weak notrumps."

In the mid-Nineties, Dang represented a rubber bridge club in San Francisco that had been raided by the police due to erroneous reports of high-stakes gambling. ("Penny-a-point games were the norm," said Brody.) The players received citations, but Dang persuaded the authorities to have all the charges dropped.

Jerry Levitt

Previous national champion Jerry Levitt, of St. Louis MO, died in March. He was 88.

Levitt was the captain of the victorious Vanderbilt team in 1962. He was also second in the inaugural Grand National Knockout Teams (1973) and tied for third in the Spingold Knockout Teams in Denver in 1972.

Levitt was a columnist for the St. Louis Post-Dispatch for many years and the teacher of hundreds of students in the St. Louis area.

Tournament Terminology 101

If you're confused by the terms used to describe the different types of bridge events played at clubs and tournaments, you're not alone. Here's a list of common bridge events with explanations.

Knockout Teams: an event in which a team (of four, five or six players – with four playing at a time) plays another team. The losers are eliminated or “knocked out” while the winners play other winners until only one winning team remains.

The length of a KO match may vary from a single session to a full day (the Vanderbilt and Spingold) to a multi-day event (the Bermuda Bowl).

Bracketed Knockout Teams: a KO event in which teams are divided into groups – usually of 8, 16 or 32 teams – based on their masterpoint holdings. The top group – Bracket I – and all other groups compete in a separate event with their own set of winners.

Compact Knockout Teams: a shorter version of Bracketed KO teams.

Swiss Teams: an event in which a team (of four, five or six players – with four playing at a time) plays other teams in seven-, eight- or nine-board matches. Team A sits North-South at Table 1 and East-West at Table 2 while Team B sits East-West at Table 1 and North-South at Table 2. The results are compared and scored by International Match Points (IMPs).

Pairings for the first round are random. Pairings for succeeding rounds are determined by a team's win-loss record or Victory Point total.

International Match Points (IMPs): the most common method of scoring Swiss Team matches. Scoring example: if Team A scores plus 620 for bidding and making 4♠ on a particular deal and Team B scores only plus 170 (they didn't bid the game), the difference is 450 – which converts to 10 IMPs. The IMP chart is shown on the inside of your convention card.

Victory Points (VPs): a method of scoring Swiss Team matches. After the scores are compared and converted to IMPs, the IMP total is converted to Victory Points. A team's VP total may be used to determine its next opponents and its final standing.
