

ACBL Clubhouse FAQ

What is the ACBL Clubhouse?

The ACBL Clubhouse is an umbrella under which several limited games fall. They are Virtual Club games hosted by the ACBL and held on Bridge Base Online.

What kind of games make up the ACBL Clubhouse?

All ACBL Clubhouse games are limited games, which means there's a limited number of masterpoints a participant can have. For example, in a 0-20 game, only players with a maximum of 20 masterpoints can join.

Who can play in an ACBL Clubhouse game?

Any ACBL member who has fewer masterpoints than the upper limit of the game can play. For example, to play in a 199er game, you can play as long as you have fewer than 200 masterpoints under your belt.

How do I find an ACBL Clubhouse game?

ACBL Clubhouse games are included in the Virtual Club lineup on Bridge Base Online. There is a button to the left of each game that says "ACBL Club." The next upcoming game will be at the top of available games, and the remaining games will be listed chronologically with other Virtual Club games.

When are the ACBL Clubhouse games?

ACBL Clubhouse games are held every day, throughout the day. Visit the ACBL Clubhouse page on the ACBL website for the most up-to-date schedule.

What kind of masterpoints are awarded?

Black masterpoints are awarded, unless there is a special event for all the Virtual Clubs, like Stardust Week or Silver Linings Week. Special events award a variety of pigmented points, including silver, red and gold.

How much is the entry fee?

$6. Click here to see how to add funds to your Bridge Base Online account.

Do I need to be an ACBL member?

Yes. Additionally, your ACBL member number must be added to your Bridge Base Online profile. Click here to see how. Not a member of Bridge Base Online yet? Signing up is easy! Get started here.

Do you need a partner? How do I find a partner?

You do need a partner to play, but there is a partnership desk available before each ACBL Clubhouse game. While your partner could be from anywhere in the world, they will definitely have fewer than the maximum amount of masterpoints allowed for that game.
